

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT
JOINT STANDING COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS

SUBMITTING THE APPROPRIATION BILL FOR THE CITY AND COUNTY
FOR 1908-1909.

IN COMMON COUNCIL, March 19, 1908.

The Committee on Appropriations, to whom was referred the message of the Mayor, transmitting the estimates of the several departments for the financial year 1908-1909, and the appropriations recommended by him, having considered the same, respectfully submit the following appropriation bill for the city and county for the present financial year, and recommend its passage, together with the accompanying orders.

For the Committee,

W. PRENTISS PARKER,
Chairman.

CITY OF BOSTON.

APPROPRIATION AND TAX ORDERS FOR THE FINANCIAL
YEAR 1908-1909.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of February, 1908, of performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston, or the County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, and to meet their respective obligations for interest on debt, sinking-fund requirements, and maturing debt not provided for by sinking-fund, the respective sums of money hereinafter specified be, and the same are, hereby appropriated for the several departments, and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriations for Water Department, current expenses, and the payments to the State under the provisions of Chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895 and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest requirement for loans issued for water purposes, be met by the income from said works and any excess over income from taxes; that the other appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on January 31, 1908, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust, or special appropriation, and by the income of the financial year, beginning February 1, 1908, and by taxes to the amount of $15,289,553, and that said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates taxable in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston, be paid into the general treasury and then credited to the appropriation of the department or division rendering such service or doing such work, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations aforesaid, the City Treasurer issue and sell, at such times and in such amounts as he may deem best, notes, or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston, not exceeding nine million dollars in the total, in anticipation of the taxes of the current municipal year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be dated the day the money for the same is received, be made payable with the interest thereon at the office of the City Treasurer within the current financial year, from the taxes of said year, and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as said Treasurer shall deem proper.

Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the City Council, and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the State tax of the year 1908, or of any other taxes or assessments payable to the Commonwealth, be due and payable on the first day of October, 1908; that all such taxes paid after the first day of November, 1908, bear interest from and including said day until paid, at the rate of six per cent. per annum, except the taxes assessed upon shares of stock of national banks shall bear interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum from and including said first day of November until paid; and that all interest which shall have become due on taxes shall be added to and be a part of such taxes.

Ordered, That the City Auditor, from time to time during the year, may, with the approval of the Mayor, make transfers within any department from the appropriation for current expenses of one division of a department to the appropriation for current expenses of any other division of the same department, and may, with the further approval of the Committee on Finance, make transfers from the Reserve Fund to any appropriation for current expenses of a department; and that said Auditor may, with the approval of the Mayor, between December 1, 1908, and February 1, 1909, make transfers from any appropriation to any other appropriation, and apply any of the income and taxes not disposed of in closing the accounts for the financial year.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

TRANSMITTING

A REPORT FROM THE SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT RELATIVE TO THE EQUIPMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS WITH FIRE-ESCAPES AND MEANS OF EASY EGRESS.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
BOSTON, MASS., March 19, 1908.

To the Gentlemen of the City Council :

I transmit herewith a communication from the Schoolhouse Department containing an answer to your order requesting the Schoolhouse Commissioners to investigate and report to the City Council the number of school buildings in the City of Boston not properly equipped with fire-escapes and properly situated exits for easy egress, and what action said Commissioners propose to take in order to remedy the trouble, if any.

Respectfully,

G. A. HIBBARD,
Mayor.

120 BOYLSTON STREET,
BOSTON, March 18, 1908.

HONORABLE GEORGE A. HIBBARD,
Mayor of Boston :

MY DEAR SIR, — In reply to the order of the Common Council of March 5, 1908, that the Schoolhouse Commissioners be requested to investigate and report to the City Council as soon as possible the number of school buildings in the City of Boston not properly equipped with fire-escapes and properly situated exits for easy egress, and what action said Commissioners propose to take in order to remedy the trouble, if any, the report prepared for Your Honor covers this matter completely.

I am, dear sir,

Your obedient servant,

R. CLIPSTON STURGIS,

Chairman.

Boston, March 18, 1908.

HONORABLE GEORGE A. HIBBARD,

Mayor of Boston :

DEAR SIR, — The accompanying statement, compiled from our records of the schools, and brought to date, deals only with conditions that affect the safety of the children, and these are divided into two heads. (1) The prevention of fire: Under this head comes (a) the safeguarding of the basements, especially about the heating apparatus where fire is most likely to occur, and (b) the protection of the upper stories, in case fire started in the basement, by the elimination of wood vent ducts, which might carry fire rapidly from floor to floor; and (2) the provision of proper means of exit in case of fire. This would include (a) clear corridors free from obstruction, proper and safe doors; (b) a sure system of fire-drill alarm, and, (c) as a last resort, for the buildings having the poorest corridors and stairs, fire-escapes outside. These, in the opinion of the Fire Department, should be looked upon always as emergency, although the best form of the enclosed outside staircase can, under proper supervision, be used as a regular means of exit for the children. The accompanying list seems a very long one. It is inevitable in a city like Boston, which has been caring for its school children for so many years, that there should be a large number of buildings not up to the modern standards of perfect safety. We have at present 31 fireproof buildings; 148 of second class construction, that is, of fireproof material outside; 49 of third class construction, that is, built of wood; and 96 portable one-class-room buildings, with the heat in the room. We ought to replace some of the old buildings by new, rather than to spend a large amount of money in attempting to improve their conditions, and the Board has avoided as far as possible expensive repairs on such buildings.

Although the list is therefore a long one, the repairs and improvements suggested are rather in the nature of wise precautions than of changes essential for the protection of the lives of the children. The sum of $15,000 would probably complete all the matters mentioned as major basement repairs, and $12,500 would probably cover the minor repairs to doors, ceilings, partitions, etc. The repairs to upper stories (b) is a more serious expense, as it means going up through the buildings. Where wood ducts serve as ventilators from floor to floor they are a grave menace in case a fire started, on account of the facility with which it would be carried from floor to floor. There are 54 buildings having such ducts. To reconstruct these 54 schools would cost, in my judgment, from $75,000 to $100,000.

Under (2) proper means of exit, (a) includes small matters such as clearing corridors of furniture, etc., T-handle in place of flush bolts, swing of some interior doors, removal of porches, additional exits, etc.; (b) relates to the fire-alarm drill, a matter, in the judgment of this Board, of extreme importance. It will perhaps make matters clearer to state the conditions existing when this Board was established. There was no uniform system for giving the signal for fire-alarm. Some buildings had mechanical bells, some electric. Some of these latter were equipped with special fire signals on each floor, not for fire drill, but for actual fire signals, and the buildings that had just been finished by the School Committee, and presumably represented their policy, had the Auxiliary system for giving alarm to the Fire Department, but depended on the programme clock and the telephone communication between rooms for fire drill. This latter system the Board followed until this year, when they decided to dispense with the Auxiliary system and to install uniform automatic fire-drill signals to ring the call that had been decided on by the School Committee, as noted in their Minutes of September 17, September 24 and October 1, 1906.

Before any actual steps were taken for installing this system, the matter was referred by Your Honor to the Finance Commission, and they reported to you on March 16. Owing to the thoughtful study given to this matter by the special committee of the Finance Commission, the Board believes that it can install a system which shall combine the advantages of direct communication with the Fire Department as well as the automatic fire-drill signal. To equip buildings over five rooms in size, and not now equipped with programme clocks, would cost about $15,000. If, in addition, it is thought necessary to equip programme systems with special fire calls it would cost about $10,000 more; and if, in addition, the small buildings were equipped, it would require $15,000 more — $40,000 in all. I enclose copy of our electrician's statement on this subject.

(c.) Contains a list of 27 fire-escapes required, which would cost to erect about $30,000, and various additional outside exits on wooden buildings would cost $2,500. The total of all these proposed improvements would therefore be in the neighborhood of $200,000.

I am, dear sir,

Your obedient servant,

R. CLIPSTON STURGIS,

Chairman.

MESSAGE OF THE MAYOR

TRANSMITTING

COMMUNICATION FROM SUPERINTENDENT OF PRINTING RELATIVE TO TRANSFER OF PUBLIC LIBRARY PRINTING TO MUNICIPAL PRINTING PLANT.

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR, March 30, 1908.

To the Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Printing Department in answer to your order requesting the Superintendent of Printing to give his opinion on the advisability of having the work now done at the printing plant of the Boston Public Library transferred to the Municipal Printing Plant, in particular stating whether such a change will not effect an important economy.

Respectfully,

G. A. HIBBARD,
Mayor.

---

CITY OF BOSTON, PRINTING DEPARTMENT,
152 PURCHASE STREET, BOSTON, March 16, 1908.

The Honorable the Board of Aldermen, City Hall, Boston:

GENTLEMEN, — Complying with request in yours of the 2d inst., I have the honor to submit the following, through His Honor the Mayor, in relation to the advisability of transferring the printing work of the Library Department to the City Printing Plant, and economies resulting therefrom.

The Public Library Plant, at 42 Stanhope street, has a printing department consisting of a superintendent and six other employees. It is equipped with three Mergenthaler linotype machines, two small presses and type, and other material of a nature required for the catalogue work, which is its principal employment. Besides the catalogues, card and book, the office also prints such job work as is required for the Library Department, the whole totaling a large annual amount.

The bindery work is of a character somewhat unusual to a plant of such size, being entirely job work. The work consists of the repairing of books worn by library usage, and the volume is annually very large. Very little, if any, edition work is ever done. An annual average of rising 30,000 volumes passes through the shop for repairs, with miscellaneous work besides, sometimes amounting to half the yearly total. The miscellaneous work mainly consists of binding newspaper volumes, mounting photographs and prints, manufacturing portfolios, pamphlet work, blocking, and the binding of library publications. Twenty-nine hands are employed.

The building occupied is well adapted for the requirements of the plant, and is situated at no great distance from the Central Library building. Both the printing and the binding plants are efficiently organized and conducted, and with special reference to the somewhat peculiar work of the Library Department. Stock for both is bought upon estimate, and the order goes to the bidder furnishing the best quality for the lowest price.

According to the report of the Library Department to the City Auditor for 1906-07, the binding department costs annually in salaries $20,477.70; stock, $2,415.60; equipment, $303.92, and electric power, $45.30 — a total of $23,242.50. The printing department, according to the same authority, cost last year $7,044.85 in wages; stock, $3,575.10; equipment, $1,626; contract work, $1,169.03, and electric power, $241.40 — a total of $13,656.38. The item of rent does not appear in the report, but I was informed by the chief executive officer of the Library that $1,500 is paid.

By a consolidation of the two plants, it is undoubtedly true that savings could be made in the total expense to the city of conducting both of them, while there is no doubt that the Municipal Plant could perform the work as efficiently as it is done at present. The items of rent and power could be cut out, some of the cost of superintendence eliminated, and consolidation of stock purchases would also make for economy.

When consolidation is discussed it should be with reference to its bearing on both plants, rather than its bearing upon one or either of them. For instance, the Municipal Plant has but a small bindery at this time, and has a considerable amount of bindery work done outside, at extra cost to the city. The cost of this last year amounted to $24,524.86. This is where the chief saving would result. With the nucleus afforded by the addition of the library work, it would decidedly pay the city to add some equipment and do all of its binding work in its own plant. If there is any excuse at all for the existence of the Municipal Plant, it should be that of doing all of the city's work, which at present is far from being the case.

The distance from the Central Library building to the present situation of the Municipal Plant on Purchase street presents no objection to the consolidation, in my opinion. The present messenger service of the Municipal Plant could take care of any ordinary work, and the carriage of heavy packages to and fro could be done, as at present, by the Library's delivery wagons.

While, in the opinion of the Superintendent of Printing, economies as above would result from consolidation, your query as to the advisability of transferring the work forces me to say that I do not consider such transfer advisable unless it is determined that all the city's printing must be done at the Municipal Plant. My reason for this is that the Public Library Plant seems to be operated solely with a view to efficiency. While the same is true, at this time, of the Municipal Plant, and will continue to be true during the present administration, it cannot be assumed, in the light of history, that such will always be the case.

Unless a way can be found to permanently remove the Municipal Plant from the realm of politics, I think that it would be unwise to undertake a transfer of such importance as this one at the present time.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES H. SMYTH,

ORDINANCES OF 1908 — CHAPTER 3.

CONCERNING

CONSOLIDATION OF CERTAIN DEPARTMENTS WITH THE STREET DEPARTMENT.

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Eight.

---

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows :

SECTION 1. The Street Department shall be under the charge of the superintendent of streets, who shall construct all streets and sewers; shall have discretionary power as to the grades, materials and other particulars of construction of streets, sidewalks and sewers; shall have charge of and keep clean and in good condition and repair the streets, the pumping station and reservoirs of the improved sewerage system of sewers under the control of the city and the catch-basins in the streets connected with the sewers; shall keep the streets properly watered; shall remove from yards and areas, when so placed as to be easily removed, all ashes accumulated from the burning of materials for heating habitations, cooking and other domestic purposes, all house dirt, house offal, and all noxious and refuse substances; shall, on the fifteenth day of each month, send to the city auditor detailed bills of all materials, tools and machinery furnished by either of the divisions of said department to any other such division, or for any special work.

SECT. 2. Said superintendent shall have the care and management of the ferries owned by the city; shall purchase or build all boats, and make the necessary repairs and alterations on the slips, drops, buildings and boats used for ferry purposes; and shall cause all moneys received by him or his subordinates from tolls and other sources to be paid to the city collector on the day following the day of the receipt thereof, but may retain in the possession of the clerk to the deputy superintendent in charge of the ferry division a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars for making change and for other purposes.

SECT. 3. Said superintendent shall have charge of all lamps established by the board of aldermen and maintained at the expense of the city, of all lamps set up in parks, parkways, or public grounds, and of all lamp posts, posts or fixtures connected with such lamps, and shall set up and affix lamps in the streets; shall have the care and custody of all city property hitherto in the possession of the lamp department, or that shall hereafter be acquired for the purpose of street lighting, and shall maintain and keep the same in good repair; shall see that the streets are lighted by such methods of lighting as the board of aldermen may from time to time order, and that the lamps in the streets are lighted and extinguished at such times as are ordered by the board of aldermen.

SECT. 4. Said superintendent shall have the care and management of all bridges which are used as highways, and are in whole or in part under the charge of the city, and of so much of Harvard bridge and Prison Point bridge as are under the charge and control of the board of aldermen or of the city; shall be the commissioner to act with another commissioner for the city of Cambridge, and as such commissioner shall have and exercise all the powers in relation to West Boston bridge and Craigie bridge conferred by chapter three hundred and two of the Acts of the year 1870; shall, when he exposes any portion of the structure on which the strength of a bridge depends, notify the city engineer and afford him an opportunity to inspect the same; shall make all repairs affecting the strength of any bridge, under the supervision of the city engineer; shall keep the rails and planks in good order, and all dirt, snow and ice removed from the sidewalks; shall keep all said bridges, or those parts thereof under his care, and the abutments, guards, draws and wharves thereof clean and in good condition and repair; shall appoint draw-tenders for the draws in bridges of which he has the care, and see that they properly perform their duties, and may remove them for such cause as he shall deem sufficient, and shall assign in his order of removal. Each draw-tender so appointed shall take charge by night and by day of the draw of which he is draw-tender; shall require from the person in charge of a vessel applying to pass through the draw a true statement of the name, extreme width, and draught of the vessel; shall determine the order in which vessels may pass through the draw, and may direct the placing of warping-lines, anchors and cables, and the use of any warping apparatus provided by the city; shall cause the draw to be opened for the passage of vessels when moving with the tide, and, in his discretion, when moving against the tide, if the wind is favorable or if the vessel is in tow; but he shall not allow any vessel to pass through the draws of bridges except such vessels as shall be ready to go through at the following times: 9.30 A.M., 11.00 A.M., 1.30 P.M., 3.00 P.M., 8.30 P.M., 11.30 P.M., and from 11.30 P.M. to 6.00 A.M.; shall cause the draw to be closed with all possible expedition after a vessel has passed through, not permitting more than one vessel to pass through at one opening of the draw, except that, when the draw is open and the bridge is free from persons desiring to cross, he may, in his discretion, permit other vessels to pass through before causing the draw to be closed; he shall perform such additional duties as said superintendent may require.

SECT. 5. Said superintendent shall place and maintain in one or more suitable conspicuous places, to be selected by him, on each street of the city, the name of the street and of the ward in which the street is situated, as shown by the records; shall require the number of each building on a street which he shall designate as the street number therefor to be affixed to or inscribed on the building by the owner, and may determine the form, size, and material of any such number, and the place and mode of affixing or inscribing it.

SECT. 6. Said superintendent shall keep a book in which he shall record the date of every order for constructing a sewer, the name of the contractor or builder constructing it, the date of commencing and the date of completing the work, and the cost of the sewer; also a book in which he shall certify the names of the owners of estates assessed for the construction of the sewer, the number of feet of land of each estate bordering on the street or strip of land in which the sewer was laid, the amount of each assessment, the date of completion of the sewer, and the dates when the notices of assessments were given. He shall make and deliver to the city collector all bills for assessments as they become due.

SECT. 7. Said superintendent shall keep a plan for every existing and every new sewer, showing its depth, breadth, mode of construction, and general direction, and shall, from time to time, ascertain and insert on said plans all entries made into the sewers.

SECT. 8. Said superintendent shall, when about to build a new sewer or repair an old sewer, notify all abutters on that part of the line of said sewer when he proposes to do work, and afford them facilities for entering the sewer; and shall, when about to construct a new street, at least four weeks before beginning work, and, when about to make a new surface of any street, at least two weeks before beginning work, notify the water commissioner and all persons authorized to place any structure in such street, and require and see that said department or persons having any work to be done in the streets so designated shall do all such work before the surface of such street is again prepared for and opened to public travel; and, after the completion of the work then done on such street, shall not, for the space of one year thereafter, permit any department or person to disturb the surface of such street or way within the area of such previous disturbance, except in case of obvious necessity, a record of which shall be made in a book to be kept for that purpose.

SECT. 9. Said superintendent may issue permits to persons having authority in the premises to open, occupy, obstruct, and use portions of the streets, and should the portion of the street which has been so opened or used require repaving or resurfacing within a period of twelve months from the time it has been so used, the superintendent of streets shall notify the person applying for the permit under authority of which the portion was so used to make such repairs as in the opinion of said superintendent are necessary, and in case of the failure of the said person to make such repairs within one week from the date of the said notification then the superintendent of streets shall have the right to make such necessary repairs, and the expense of the same shall be paid by such person; all amounts received by the city collector for work done or materials furnished under notification of the superintendent of streets, as above authorized, shall be placed to the credit and used as a part of the appropriation for the street department. Every permit issued as aforesaid shall specify the time, place, size, and use of such opening, occupation, or obstruction, and the time within which the street must be put in good condition, and shall be on a condition the terms of which shall be those stated in chapter three, section twenty-one, of the Revised Ordinances of 1898, and in addition, that the person applying for the permit shall place and maintain from the beginning of twilight, through the whole of every night, over or near the place so occupied, opened, obstructed or used, and over or near any dirt, gravel, or other material placed in or near such place, a light or lights sufficient to protect travellers from injury; shall place and maintain a safe and convenient way for the use of foot travellers and for vehicles around or over such place; shall protect such trees as shall be designated by the superintendent of public grounds in such manner as he shall specify; shall provide suitable sanitary accommodations for his employees; shall, if he does not, within the time prescribed by said superintendent, put the street into good condition satisfactory to said superintendent, pay whatever sum the said superintendent shall expend for putting it into such condition; and shall deliver up the permit to an officer of the police force of said city on or before the expiration of the time fixed in the permit for completing the work, such permit to be returned by said officer to the street department; said superintendent may, in addition to said specifications, specify in the permit, or after the issuing thereof, in writing, the kind of rail or fence to enclose the place, and the kind of way over or around such place, and the manner of constructing the same.

SECT. 10. Said superintendent may issue such a permit to any person who presents a permit from the water department to repair or lay water pipes.

SECT. 11. Said superintendent may issue such a permit to competent mechanics for the purpose of entering particular drains into public drains and sewers, on a condition the terms of which shall be those hereinbefore stated in section nine of this chapter, and, in addition, that the person applying for the permit shall make connection of the said drain with the said sewer only in the manner shown on the back of said permit, and only in the presence of an inspector of the sewer division; shall have on the ground, when the inspector arrives to see the connection made, any slant, bend, or curve to be used in making the connection; shall not cover up any work until inspected by one of said inspectors; shall not lay the drain in the same trench with a water pipe; shall not connect any exhaust from a steam engine, any blow-off from a steam boiler, or any other pipe for delivering steam or hot water, with the drain or sewer; shall, when he receives any pipe from the street department in exchange for another, return such other to the yard of the street department within twenty-four hours after receiving such exchange. Said superintendent shall in each drain permit specify the size, material, and mode of construction of the particular drain, and the direction and grade for laying it, but before issuing the permit for entering a drain into a particular public sewer from land upon which a sewer assessment has not been paid, he shall be paid for the city an assessment of two cents per square foot for all land in the estate from which the entry is made within one hundred feet of the street or strip of land in which the sewer or particular drain is laid.

SECT. 12. Said superintendent may issue such a permit to a responsible person for the purpose of raising and lowering goods and merchandise into and from buildings, on a condition the terms of which shall be those stated in chapter three, section twenty-one, of the Revised Ordinances of 1898, and in addition that the person applying for the permit shall maintain, during the whole time the work is in progress, good and sufficient barriers across the sidewalk, from the wall of the building to or from which the goods or merchandise are so raised, out to the curbstone or edge of the sidewalk, on each side of said goods or merchandise, sufficient to protect travellers from injury or danger; and that he will not encumber the sidewalk for more than fifteen minutes at a time for such work.

SECT. 13. Said superintendent shall issue such a permit to any person authorized by the board of aldermen to place a coal hole, vault, or coal slide under a street, or a cover thereto, on a condition the terms of which shall be those hereinbefore stated in section nine of this chapter, and in addition that the person applying for the permit shall make the underground structure, if a coal slide, with the sides at least eight inches thick, of good hard brick laid in cement; if other than a coal slide, with the outer wall next to the roadway at least two and one-half feet thick, of heavy granite blocks, laid in cement, the side walls at least one foot thick, of good hard brick, or of granite blocks, laid in cement; the top of iron, or iron and glass, or of rough-surfaced iron, or, at least six inches thick, either of good hard brick laid in the form of an arch turned in a good and sufficient manner, or of rough-hammered granite, or blue stone, or North River flagstone; shall make the opening of a coal hole or coal slide circular, and not more than eighteen inches in diameter, and furnish a cover therefor of iron, made with a rough upper surface, and with three or more iron rods or legs at least two feet in length, fitting closely to the side of the opening, and projecting downwards from the under side of the cover, and so constructed that, while the cover can be lifted perpendicularly, it cannot be tipped or easily removed from the opening.

SECT. 14. Said superintendent shall, when authorized thereto by the board of aldermen, issue such a permit to a building mover actually engaged in the business, for the purpose of moving a building through the streets, on a condition the terms of which shall be those stated in section nine of this chapter; provided, that an application for such permit, describing the locations from and to which, and the route over which, the building is to be moved, the length, width, and height of the building, and the principal material of its exterior and roof, and accompanied by the written consent of the building commissioner to the placing of the building on the lot proposed, shall be first made to said superintendent, who shall make an examination of the premises, and report thereon to the board of aldermen for its action. Whenever it appears that the moving of a building will encumber the tracks of any railroad corporation, a public hearing shall be given by the board of aldermen upon the subject before such permit is authorized.

SECT. 15. Said superintendent shall, when authorized thereto by an order of the board of aldermen, issue such a permit to a responsible person, for the purposes of laying, maintaining and using wires, railway tracks, or rails in the streets, or wires, pipes, or conduits under the surface thereof, on a condition the terms of which shall be those stated in section nine of this chapter, and in addition that the person applying for the permit shall, whenever requested so to do by the mayor, furnish in his conduits for wires accommodations free of charge for all wires belonging to, or to be used by, the city; shall remove the conduits and wires whenever directed, and not until directed, so to do by the city council; and shall not disturb or interfere with any wires, pipes, or sewers lawfully laid in such street or connected therewith.

SECT. 16. Said superintendent shall, when authorized thereto by an order of the board of aldermen, issue such a permit to a responsible person for the purpose of placing and maintaining in the streets poles for the support of wires, on a condition the terms of which shall be those hereinbefore stated in section nine of this chapter, and in addition that the person applying for the permit shall keep said poles well painted and in good condition, to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets; shall place the wires on said poles not less than twenty-five feet from the ground; shall keep the name of the person owning the pole distinctly painted on the cross bars used and occupied by him on the pole, and also on the pole at a point not less than six feet nor more than eight feet from the ground; shall allow the departments of the city the exclusive use of the upper cross bar and top of each pole, free of all charge, for the purpose of placing wires thereon; shall not suffer or permit any other person to place or keep wires on said poles, or upon the fixtures thereto affixed, without permission being first obtained in writing from the board of aldermen; shall not remove any pole erected under this order until, and shall remove any pole when, directed by the board of aldermen so to do; and that on the violation of any term of these conditions the said superintendent shall remove the poles at the expense of the person owning them.

SECT. 17. Said superintendent, before he delivers any such permit to any person for the applicant therefor, shall have received from such person a certificate that a copy of the permit, entered in a book kept for the purpose, is a correct copy of the permit he receives, and the applicant, unless an employee of the city applying for a permit for public work, shall have given a bond, in the case of permits under sections nine, eleven, twelve and thirteen of this chapter, of one thousand dollars; under section fourteen of this chapter, of three thousand dollars; and under sections fifteen and sixteen of this chapter, of twenty thousand dollars; each bond, with one or more sureties satisfactory to said superintendent, conditioned to the faithful observance of the conditions and specifications of each and every permit thereafter issued on his application by the superintendent of streets; and said superintendent of streets may at any time require a new bond, which shall be considered a strengthening bond, unless the sureties on the former bond or bonds are expressly released from their liability by vote of the city council. No bond shall be required of any person to open a public street for the purpose of planting a tree therein if said person has been duly authorized by the proper municipal authorities to plant trees in said highways.

SECT. 18. Said superintendent shall not issue any such permit to a person who has within twelve months previous to his application violated or failed to observe the conditions or specifications of any such permit; but the issuing of such permits, and the opening, occupation, obstruction, and the use of portions of streets, and the making and maintaining of coal holes, vaults, and other permanent excavations under the surface of streets, and their covers, shall be subject to any permission, control, regulation, restriction, or revocation which the board of aldermen may make.

SECT. 19. Every owner of an estate hereafter maintaining any cellar, vault, coal hole, or other excavation under the part of the street adjacent to, or which is a part of, his estate, shall do so only on condition that such maintenance shall be considered as an agreement on his part to hold the city harmless from any claims for damage to himself or the occupants of said estate resulting from gas, sewage or water leaking into such excavation or upon such estate; and every such owner, and every person maintaining a post, pole, or other structure in a street, or a wire, pipe, conduit, or other structure under a street, shall do so only on the condition that such maintenance shall be considered as an agreement on his part with the city to keep the same and the covers thereof in good repair and condition at all times during his ownership, and to indemnify and save harmless the city against any and all damages, costs, expenses, or compensation which it may sustain or be required to pay, by reason of such excavation or structure being under or in the street, or being out of repair during his ownership, or by reason of any cover of the same being out of repair or unfastened during his ownership.

SECT. 20. Said superintendent shall require every person who maintains an entrance on a level with, or below, or a flight of steps descending immediately from, or near, the line of the street, and which is not otherwise safely or securely guarded to the satisfaction of said superintendent, to enclose such entrance or steps with a permanent iron railing on each side, at least three feet high from the top of the sidewalk or pavement, and to provide the same with a gate opening inwardly, or two iron chains across the entrance way, one near the top and the other half way from the ground to the top of the railing, and to keep said gates or chains closed during the night, unless the entrance or steps are sufficiently lighted to prevent accident.

SECT. 21. Said superintendent shall keep a record of the notices of defects in streets sent to him, with the name of the person giving the notice, and the time when given, and he shall without delay cause the locality of the alleged defect to be examined, and, if the defect is of such a character as to endanger the safety of public travel, shall do whatever may be necessary to protect the public from injury by the defect, and cause it to be immediately repaired; and every person in the employ of the city shall send to said superintendent notice of every such defect which may come to his notice.

SECT. 22. Said superintendent shall in his annual report include a statement of the repairs and expenditures on each street and on each bridge under his charge; of the number of times each draw of a bridge has been opened for the passage of vessels; of the number of vessels laden with cargo that have passed through each draw; of the condition of each ferry boat, slip, drop, tank, and building used for ferry purposes, and of the repairs and expenditures on each; and of the number of persons and teams of different classes that have passed over each ferry during the year.

SECT. 23. Chapters one, two and three of the Ordinances of 1906 and chapter twenty-two of the Revised Ordinances of 1898 are hereby repealed.

MESSAGE OF MAYOR

TRANSMITTING

A COMMUNICATION FROM THE STATISTICS
DEPARTMENT AS TO INCREASE IN PAY-ROLLS, AND INCREASE IN BOTH GROSS
AND FUNDED DEBT, FOR FIRST THREE MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1908.

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR, April 13, 1908.

To the Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen :

I transmit herewith a communication from the Statistics Department containing a reply to your order requesting a report as to the reasons for the increase in the pay-rolls of the city for the first three months of this year over the first three months of the year 1907 ; also a report as to the cause of increase in both the gross and net funded debt of the city for the first three months of this year.

Respectfully,

G. A. HIBBARD,
Mayor.

STATISTICS DEPARTMENT,
73 CITY HALL, BOSTON, April 13, 1908.

HON. G. A. HIBBARD,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR, — In accordance with the order of the Board of Aldermen passed April 6, I beg to submit the following report in reply to the two questions embodied in the order, viz.:

First. — What are the reasons for the increase in the pay-rolls of the City of Boston for the first three months of this year over the first three months of 1907?

Second. — What is the cause of increase of the gross and net funded debt of the city for the first three months of this year?

In reply to the first question: Reasons for the increase in the amount of the pay-rolls of the city for the first three months of the fiscal year 1908-09, as compared with the corresponding period in 1907-08, may be found in the following facts:

(1.) Laborers who received $2 per day in 1907-08 are this year receiving $2.25 per day. (2.) The street lighting last year was done by a company which had a contract with the city, and the cost of that service did not appear in the pay-rolls, but this year the lamps are lit by employees of the Lamp Department, and the amount paid for the service appears in the pay-rolls. (3.) In certain other departments, e.g., School Department, and the Police and Fire Departments, additions to the force and normal increments in pay called for by the scheme of salaries which obtained in those departments cause an increase in the pay-rolls approved by the City Auditor.

The net increase in the amount of the pay-rolls approved by the City Auditor for the first three months of the current year, as compared with corresponding period in 1907-08, was $1,281.41, as is shown in the following statement compiled from data kindly furnished by the City Auditor. (See Table I.)

Table II., derived from data also furnished by the City Auditor, affords comparison of the pay-rolls approved by him in the two periods under consideration, for the departments specified above. Inspection of Table II. shows an aggregate increase for the first three months of 1908, as compared with the first three months of 1907-08, of $80,523.13. The difference between the net increase of $1,281.41, shown in Table I., and the total increase of $80,523.13 in the pay-rolls of the departments included in Table II., amounts to $79,241.72.

It is, therefore, evident that there was a decrease of $79,241.72 in the pay-rolls of the departments other than those specified, namely, the School, Police, Lamp and Fire Departments.

Actual payments on pay-rolls accounts as shown by the statement of the City Treasurer for the three months' period under consideration show an increase for the first three months of the current year of $41,226.70, as is set forth in Table III., but that increase is not an increase in the amount of the pay-rolls for the months in question, inasmuch as the payments made by the City Treasurer include payments of obligations approved by the Auditor in previous months, but not presented when the pay-rolls were due.

In reply to the second question, it may be said that the increase in the gross and net funded debt was occasioned by the issue of bonds in January, 1908, amounting to $473,800, required to meet the cost of undertakings previously authorized, for objects specified in the following statement.

The amount of debt paid off in February and March, 1908, was $113,000, making the net increase in gross debt $360,800. The gross funded debt on March 31, 1908, was $104,206,706. Deducting therefrom the amount of debt paid in February and March, 1908, and the total means for the redemption of debt on March 31, 1908, viz., $33,428,910.62, makes the funded debt on March 31, 1908, $70,777,795.38, which amount is $340,465.86 in excess of the net funded debt on December 31, 1907.

If more detailed statements concerning the pay-rolls and the changes in the funded debt are desired, they can be furnished, but it has not been feasible to compile them in the time since the order of the Board of Aldermen, passed on April 6, was received.

Very respectfully,

EDWARD M. HARTWELL,
Secretary.

NOTE. — The number of weekly pay-rolls is the same in each three months' period under consideration, but this is not the case as regards individual months. Thus in February, 1907, there were four weekly pay-rolls as against five in February, 1908, and conversely there were five weekly pay-rolls in March, 1907, as against four in March, 1908.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE BOSTON FINANCE COMMISSION RELATIVE TO THE RAISING OF REVENUE FOR THE CITY FROM NEW SOURCES.

BOSTON FINANCE COMMISSION,
OFFICES, 434-8 TREMONT BUILDING,
BOSTON, April 9, 1908.

To the Honorable the Mayor and Board of Aldermen :

GENTLEMEN, — The Finance Commission has received through the Mayor a communication from the Board of Aldermen requesting the Commission to "submit within a reasonable time to the City Council recommendations looking towards the raising of revenue for the city from new sources.

The amount of revenue should be limited to the city's needs. The primary inquiry, therefore, should be, not how much, but how little, the city requires for the proper and economical discharge of its functions. Before seeking new sources of revenue it should be made certain that existing sources are insufficient.

It was doubtless with this thought in mind that the City Council of 1907 in authorizing the appointment of this Commission directed it to examine into the expenditures of the city, and into existing methods of administration, and to consider whether the appropriations and loans for the various departments were larger than necessary ; and the Commission, therefore, has deemed it proper to devote most of its time in the first instance to a discovery of the manner in which the moneys now raised by the city are actually expended.

The work of the past eight months has satisfied the Commission that there is no need of increased taxes or additional income from any source in order to meet the legitimate expenditures of the city.

The Commission found the City Government in a state of demoralization, intelligent administration almost wholly lacking, far too many employees, salaries excessive, and politics taking the place of business methods. The result is that much of the city work is poorly done; that fraudulent methods, many of them petty in character, but expensive in the aggregate, have crept into the administration; that the cost of the work is generally excessive, often two or three times what it would be in private hands; and that in the past twelve years the tax rate has risen from $13. to $16 on the thousand, and the debt has increased four times as fast as the wealth and seven times as fast as the population of the city.

This burden of taxation and misgovernment is borne by the entire community through increased rents and higher prices for the necessities of life, and unless lightened will bring the community into a state of civic and industrial stagnation. The way to improve these conditions is not to levy additional taxes, or to raise additional revenue, but to spend less money, and to see that the reduced expenditures are honestly and intelligently made.

The Finance Commission has no doubt that if the various departments of the city are properly organized, intelligent methods of administration introduced, and waste and misappropriation stopped, more work can be done at less cost than now, and that the present taxes and revenue are ample for all the legitimate needs of the city. In the reports already made to the Mayor and City Council the Commission recommended economies in several departments, which, if effected, would save over $600,000 in the current expenditures of the City Government. These reports cover only a part of the city's business. There is no doubt that much greater savings can be made in these and other departments not yet reported upon without impairing the efficiency of the service.

If new revenues can be found which will not impose new burdens on a community already overtaxed, and which will be used to reduce the tax rate or the debt, or to distribute more equitably, through special assessments or otherwise, the burden of expenditure, the Commission will be glad to make the discovery. The Commission is now studying this question, and invites practical suggestions in this or any direction making for economy or better government.

The Commission feels that to discover new funds or to invent new schemes of taxation merely to increase the volume of municipal expenditure would tend to encourage extravagance in administration and would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

By NATHAN MATTHEWS,

Chairman.

The Committee on Railroads, to whom was recommitted — April 6 — the petition of the West End Street Railway Company for tracks on Causeway street, having further considered the subject, respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

For the Committee,

W. PRENTISS PARKER,
Chairman.

Ordered, That in addition to the rights heretofore granted to the West End Street Railway Company for locations for tracks in the streets of the City of Boston, said company shall have the right to construct, maintain and use on Causeway street at subway entrance, city proper, double curved tracks from the east and double curved tracks from the west, from and connecting with the existing or relocated tracks on said Causeway street, to and connecting with the tracks in the subway; also a relocation of the northerly of the existing tracks on said Causeway street from Canal street to a point east of Haverhill street; also a relocation of the easterly of the existing curved tracks at the northeast corner of said Canal and said Causeway streets, connecting with the existing tracks at both ends. Also an addition to its existing locations as follows: A single curved track at the northwest corner of Haverhill and Causeway streets, connecting with the existing or relocated tracks there situate; together with all necessary curves, cross-overs, switches and connections, all substantially as shown by red and black lines on a plan made by A. L. Plimpton, dated March 9, 1908, and deposited in the office of the Superintendent of Streets.

And the consent of the Board of Aldermen is granted to said company to establish and maintain the overhead single trolley electric system of motive power in the operation of its cars on said location, and to erect, maintain and use iron poles, not less than twenty feet in height, at places indicated by red dots or circles on the aforesaid plan, or at such other places, to be shown by blue dots or circles on said plan, as may be approved by the Superintendent of Streets, and to place on said poles such wires and other appliances as the Commissioner of Wires shall approve.

The right to lay down the tracks located by this order is upon condition that the whole work of laying the same, the form of rail to be used, and the kind and quality of material used in paving said tracks, and the kind and locations of poles, shall be under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets, and shall be approved by him. Also upon condition that said railway company shall accept this order, and shall file such acceptance with the City Clerk in accordance with the provisions of statute law, otherwise it shall be null and void.

The whole work authorized to be done under the provisions of this order shall be completed within one year from the date of the passage of this order.

ORDERS

ESTABLISHING

THE SEVERAL APPROPRIATIONS

AND

LEVYING A SPECIFIC TAX

FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR ENDING JANUARY 31, 1909.

OFFICE OF THE CITY CLERK,
BOSTON, April 25, 1908.

The following are the appropriations and tax orders for the current financial year, as finally passed by the City Council and approved by the Mayor.

Attest:

JOHN T. PRIEST,
City Clerk.

CITY OF BOSTON.

APPROPRIATION AND TAX ORDERS FOR THE FINANCIAL
YEAR 1908-1909.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of February, 1908, of performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston, or the County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, and to meet their respective obligations for interest on debt, sinking-fund requirements, and maturing debt not provided for by sinking-fund, the respective sums of money hereinafter specified be, and the same are, hereby appropriated for the several departments, and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriations for Water Department, current expenses, and the payments to the State under the provisions of Chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895 and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest requirement for loans issued for water purposes, be met by the income from said works and any excess over income from taxes; that the other appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on January 31, 1908, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust, or special appropriation, and by the income of the financial year, beginning February 1, 1908, and by taxes to the amount of $14,613,663, and that said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates taxable in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston, be paid into the general treasury and then credited to the appropriation of the department or division rendering such service or doing such work, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations aforesaid, the City Treasurer issue and sell, at such times and in such amounts as he may deem best, notes, or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston, not exceeding nine million dollars in the total, in anticipation of the taxes of the current municipal year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be dated the day the money for the same is received, be made payable with the interest thereon at the office of the City Treasurer within the current financial year, from the taxes of said year, and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as said Treasurer shall deem proper.

Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the City Council, and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the State tax of the year 1908, or of any other taxes or assessments payable to the Commonwealth, be due and payable on the first day of October, 1908; that all such taxes paid after the first day of November, 1908, bear interest from and including said day until paid, at the rate of six per cent. per annum, except the taxes assessed upon shares of stock of national banks shall bear interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum from and including said first day of November until paid; and that all interest which shall have become due on taxes shall be added to and be a part of such taxes.

APPROPRIATION BILL.

Ordered, That the City Auditor, from time to time during the year, may, with the approval of the Mayor, make transfers within any department from the appropriation for current expenses of one division of a department to the appropriation for current expenses of any other division of the same department, and may, with the further approval of the Committee on Finance, make transfers from the Reserve Fund to any appropriation for current expenses of a department; and that said Auditor may, with the approval of the Mayor, between December 1, 1908, and February 1, 1909, make transfers from any appropriation to any other appropriation, and apply any of the income and taxes not disposed of in closing the accounts for the financial year.

ESTABLISHING

THE SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Eight.

AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING THE SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

SECTION 1. The supply department shall be under the charge of the superintendent of supplies, who shall, upon requisition in writing, signed by the head of any department, supply materials, apparatus and other supplies required by such department, except furniture and those supplied by the superintendent of printing. Said superintendent shall on the fifteenth day of each month send to the city auditor a detailed statement of the purchases made for each department during the preceding month, which statement shall be approved by the official in charge of the department.

SECT. 2. Every officer in charge of a department requiring materials, apparatus and other supplies, except furniture and those supplied by the superintendent of printing, shall obtain the same of the superintendent of supplies by means of a requisition therefor on blanks to be prepared by said superintendent.

SECT. 3. Said superintendent shall keep proper books of account, and when satisfied of the legality of any requisition shall at once comply with it and make proper entries on his book. He shall require suitable evidence that the materials and supplies furnished are accepted by the officer issuing the requisition.

SECT. 4. Said superintendent shall in his annual report include a statement of the cost of all supplies furnished each department or officer.

SECT. 5. Chapter two of the Revised Ordinances of eighteen hundred and ninety-eight is hereby amended in section one by inserting after the words "the superintendent of streets", the words "the superintendent of supplies."

AUDITOR'S MONTHLY EXHIBIT.

GENERAL AND SPECIAL APPROPRIATIONS

FOR 1908-1909.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT,
CITY HALL, BOSTON, May 1, 1908.

HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD,

Mayor of the City of Boston :

SIR, — The undersigned, in compliance with chapter 6, section 7, Revised Ordinances of 1898, herewith presents an exhibit of the General and Special Appropriations for the present financial year of 1908-1909, as shown in the books in his office. May 1, 1908, including the May draft — being four months' drafts — exhibiting the original appropriations, the balances brought forward from 1907-1908, the amounts drawn May 1, the total expenditures, and the balance of each appropriation unexpended at that date; also a statement of the Debt, Sinking-Funds and Right to Borrow, April 30, 1908.

The May Draft comprises special payments and weekly pay-rolls during the month of April and pay-rolls and bills payable May 1, 1908.

Respectfully submitted,

J. ALFRED MITCHELL,
City Auditor.

REPORT OF STATISTICS DEPARTMENT ON THE COST OF COLLECTING POLL TAXES, ETC.

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF MAYOR, April 27, 1908.

To the Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen :

I transmit herewith a communication from the Statistics Department containing a reply to your order requesting that an investigation be made of the annual cost incurred in collecting poll taxes during the past fifteen years.

Respectfully,

G. A. HIBBARD, Mayor.

STATISTICS DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, April 24, 1908.

HON. G. A. HIBBARD,
Mayor of Boston :

SIR,—In accordance with the order of the Board of Aldermen, passed March 30, 1908, requesting the Statistics Department "to investigate the annual cost in collecting poll taxes in Boston during the past fifteen years, showing especially the relation of cost of collection to the revenue received," I beg to submit the following report :

For convenience, the general results of the investigation had best be stated at this point, before entering upon a description and analysis of the data on which those results are based.

The main result of this investigation may be summarily stated as follows: The amount of poll taxes collected in Boston for the fifteen fiscal years 1892-93—1906-07 was considerably greater than the probable cost of collecting them. The term "probable cost" is used advisedly, because in any given year the actual cost of assessing and collecting taxes, on either polls or property separately, cannot be fully determined from the records and accounts of the Assessing and Collecting Departments without an inordinate expenditure of time and labor — such as would be involved in the analysis and restatement of hundreds of thousands of entries. Although the cost of certain procedures followed in the assessment of taxes can be ascertained, the cost of others, particularly those involved in the collection of taxes, can only be estimated. Hence the combined result must be considered an estimate.

There is a striking contrast in the relative revenue yielded by poll taxes, as compared with taxes on real and personal estate respectively. Thus, of the $4,952,105.50 poll taxes committed for collection in the fifteen years 1892-93—1906-07, there were collected, up to January 31, 1908, $1,765,280.50, or only 35.65 per cent.; while the collections on account of taxes on personal property amounted to 96.97 per cent., or $42,997,874.76 out of $44,341,134.73 committed; and collections of taxes on real estate amounted to $182,001,637.45, or 99.05 per cent. of those committed, viz., $183,736,006.31 (see appended Tables I., II. and III.). In the case of each of the three kinds of taxes, approximately the whole amount of collections are secured by the close of the second year. It should be remembered that in the year in which the tax list is committed to the City Collector there remain only four months in which collections for that year can be made, as taxes of the year are not due till the first of October. For the period under consideration, 86.76 per cent. of the taxes on real estate were collected in the first year and 11.56 per cent. in the second year, making 98.32 for the two years, only 0.73 being collected in subsequent years. Similarly, the percentage of taxes collected on personal estate was 92.02 in the first year, 4.66 in the second (96.68 for the two years), and 0.29 thereafter. The corresponding per cents. of poll taxes collected were 23.63 for the first, 11.78 for the second (35.41 for the two years), and only 0.24 per cent. in subsequent years.

The average annual collections of poll taxes, up to the end of the fiscal year 1907-08, amounted to 35.65 per cent. of those committed in the fifteen years 1892-93—1906-07; while the per cents. for the individual years ranged between 26.68 for 1904-05 and 46.43 in 1892-93.

Of the amount of poll taxes committed for 1906-07, viz., $367,084, 42.92 per cent. was collected by the end of 1907-08. The total amount of poll taxes collected in 1906-07 on account of all years was $178,131. This amount was made up as follows:

Collections made of poll taxes due in 1906-07 . . .	$80,889
Collections made of poll taxes due in 1905-06 . . .	95,910
Collections made of poll taxes due in 1904-05 . . .	1,066
Collections made of poll taxes due in 1903-04 . . .	192
Collections made of poll taxes due in 1902-03 . . .	36
Collections made of poll taxes due in 1901-02 . . .	14
Collections made of poll taxes due in 1900-01 . . .	12
Collections made of poll taxes due in 1899-1900 . . .	8
Collections made of poll taxes due in 1898-1899 . . .	4
Total . . . . .	$178,131

If we estimate the cost of assessing and collecting poll taxes in 1906-07 at $108,439.19 (the data on which that estimate is based will be presented further on), it appears that an amount equal to 60.88 per cent. of the amount collected in the year, viz., $178,131, was spent on the undertaking, leaving $69,691.81, or 39.12 per cent., as the net proceeds from poll taxes in the year.

On the basis of this estimated per cent. of net revenue in 1906-07, viz., 39.12, the net revenue derived from taxes collected for the 15 years 1892-93-1906-07, viz., $1,765,280.50, would be $690,577.73. If account were taken of the extra income from delinquent taxpayers, turned into the treasury by the Collecting Department, in the fifteen years, viz., $1,520,685.89 — see Table XI. — ($266,236.51 fees received and $1,254,449.38 interest on overdue taxes), the proceeds might be estimated at a considerably larger sum than is given above.

An analysis by wards of the amount of poll taxes assessed and collected in Boston in 1906-07 (see Table IV.) suggests that the composition of the population has a significant bearing on the problem of securing prompt payment of poll taxes. Of the $367,084 poll taxes committed in 1906-07, $80,889, or 22.04 per cent., were collected in that year. The percentages for the several wards varied widely from 22.04, the mean for the whole city; and ranged between 45.97 for Ward 11 to 8.08 for Ward 6. Stated in another way: Out of 6,348 persons assessed a poll tax in 1906-07 in Ward 11, 2,918, or 45.97 per cent., paid the tax before February 1, 1908, while in Ward 6, out of 10,608 persons so assessed, 857 paid before the beginning of the fiscal year 1907-08. In ten wards, viz., 1, 10, 11, 16, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25, the per cent. collected was above the mean (22.04), ranging between 45.97 in Ward 11, and 23.52 in Ward 16; and in fifteen wards, viz., 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 12, 13, 14, 15, 17, 18 and 19, the per cent. was below the mean, and ranged between 8.08 in Ward 6 and 20.94 in Ward 12.

It would be interesting to compare the principal cities of the state with Boston, in respect to the proportion of poll taxes collected to those assessed; but satisfactory data on which to base such a comparison are almost wholly lacking in both the fiscal reports of the principal cities and the State documents in which the assessment of taxes is considered.

The special report of the United States Bureau of the Census on Statistics of Cities having a population of over 30,000, 1905, contains a table showing that there were cities in nineteen states besides Massachusetts which reported receipts from poll taxes in that year; sixty-three cities out of 154 reported receipts from poll taxes aggregating $1,063,712. It is noteworthy that $598,348, or 56.25 per cent., were credited to the nineteen cities of Massachusetts which had 30,000 inhabitants or upwards. The publication referred to affords no data for estimating the comparative cost of collecting poll taxes, but the following statement (compiled from the publication) of the per capita receipts in nineteen cities of Massachusetts is of interest in this connection.

Boston is last on the list with $0.16 of per capita receipts, while Brockton stands first with $0.55. Arranged from highest to lowest, the list is as follows, for the nineteen cities of Massachusetts covered by the report:

Inspection of the foregoing shows no correspondence of the rank of the several cities in respect to population with their position in the list; moreover, the preponderance of foreign-born in certain cities does not determine their rank in the list; e.g., Fall River, with a larger proportion of foreign-born than any other city, is fourth, while Newton is midway between Brockton and Boston. The table suggests that the amount of per capita receipts from poll taxes in these cities may depend upon the amount and kind of human effort devoted to the work of collection.

Allusion to the assessment of rates is found in the records of Boston as early as the year 1634, although the first explicit mention of "a list of persons to be rated by pole" appears in the record of a town meeting held July 9, 1652. The first general law relating to the assessment of poll taxes in Massachusetts appears to have been enacted by the General Court in 1646, when a law was passed to provide "a more equal and ready way for raising means for defraying the public charges." The law was in effect the first of a series of "taxing acts." It contained a provision that "all male persons from sixteen years old and upwards, except magistrates and elders of churches, shall be assessed and rated one shilling and eight pence by the head, and all estates, both real and personal, at one penny for every twenty shillings." As late as 1829, as appears from chapter 153 of the Acts of that year, all males over sixteen, with a few exceptions, were still liable to the assessment of a poll tax. The Revised Statutes of 1836 (chapter 7, section 1) provide for the assessment of a poll tax on all males "between the ages of sixteen and seventy years." Chapter 87, Acts of 1843, changed the age limit to "between twenty and seventy years," while chapter 145, Acts of 1844, made all "males above the age of seventy years" also liable to the poll tax. Chapter 11, section 1, of the General Statutes of 1860, reads: "A poll tax shall be assessed on every male inhabitant of the Commonwealth above the age of twenty years, whether a citizen of the United States or an alien." The Revised Laws of 1902, chapter 12, section 1, contains the same provision, except that the amount of the tax is set at "two dollars."

The poll tax was originally considered a means for raising revenue; but from 1821 till 1891 the payment of some state or county tax assessed within the two years next preceding a state election (i.e., a poll tax for persons without taxable property) was a prerequisite for voting for state officers at such an election (see Article III., Amendments of the Constitution of Massachusetts). This provision of the Constitution was annulled in 1891 by the adoption by the people of Article XXXII. of Amendments of the Constitution.

It may be noted that from 1780 till 1821 the right to vote for governor, lieutenant-governor, senator and representatives was conditioned by the Constitution on the possession of a certain amount of property.

Since the adoption of Amendment XXXII., in 1891, the assessment of the poll tax in Massachusetts has been simply a means of raising revenue, as it was originally.

The present system of assessing and collecting poll taxes in Massachusetts is required by both the Constitution and the Statutes. The Constitution (Article IV., chapter 1, Part the Second) still provides, as it has since its adoption in 1780, that "the public charges of government, or any part thereof, shall be assessed on polls and estates." The Statutes set forth (1) who shall be assessed and how much (Revised Laws, 1902, chapter 12, section 1); (2) when and how the lists of polls shall be made by the assessors, who are required in May or June to "visit every building in their respective cities and towns and after diligent inquiry . . . to make true lists," etc. (Revised Laws, chapter 11, section 15); (3) the form of the tax list to be committed to the collector (Revised Laws, chapter 12, section 67). They also prescribe: (1) the procedure to be followed by the collector of taxes in collecting the taxes and in recording and reporting the results of his notices and demands, and (2) the kind and form of entries to be made in his cash book (Revised Laws, chapter 13, sections 2, 3, 4, and 5).

Section 26, chapter 13, of the Revised Laws, which provides for the collection of poll taxes by imprisonment, reads as follows:

"SECTION 26. If a person refuses or neglects to pay his tax for fourteen days after demand and the collector cannot find sufficient goods upon which it may be levied, he may take the body of such person and commit him to jail until he pays the tax and charges of commitment and imprisonment, or is discharged according to law; but a person committed for the non-payment of a poll tax shall not be detained in jail more than seven days."

The basis of our estimate of $108,439.19 as the probable cost of assessing and collecting poll taxes in 1906-07 is shown in the following statement:

COST OF COLLECTING POLL TAXES, ETC. 7

The total expenditures of the Assessing Department amounted to $186,987.21, viz.:

Salaries of Assessors . . . . .	$93,666 67
Clerk hire . . . . .	85,472 98
Office expenses . . . . .	7,847 56
Total . . . . .	$186,987 21

Table VI. is an analysis of the cost of clerk hire for the year, according to which $25,617.98, or 29.97 per cent., was chargeable (according to the scheme of pay by the piece, which obtains in the department) to work done in assessing and extending the poll taxes; $55,726, or 65.20 per cent., was chargeable to the assessment of property, and $4,129, or 4.83 per cent., to other assessments. On the assumption that one-third of the salaries of the assessors may be charged to the work necessitated by the poll tax, and also one-third of the cost of stationery, and adding certain expenses definitely avouched by the bills on file, the cost of the assessment of polls works out as follows:

One-third of salaries of Assessors . . . . .	$31,222 22
Clerk hire . . . . .	25,617 98
Printing . . . . .	592 66
Interpreters . . . . .	1,047 00
One-third cost of stationery . . . . .	825 46
Total . . . . .	$59,305 32

It is not possible to determine the cost of collecting the poll tax in the manner shown above for the cost of assessment. The best basis of estimate, therefore, appears to be an apportionment of the expenditures for the year, according to the proportionate number of bills handled. The City Collector estimates that 478,000 bills (in round numbers) were handled in 1906-07, as follows:

Tax bills . . . . .	238,000
Water bills . . . . .	120,000
Miscellaneous . . . . .	120,000
Total . . . . .	478,000

Of the tax bills, 165,000 were single poll bills and 18,000 were bills for both polls and property. Allowing that one-half of the expense of collecting the latter class of bills was chargeable to the poll tax, gives 174,000 poll tax bills, or 36.40 per cent. Taking 36.40 per cent. as the proportion of total expenditures for the year, viz., $134,983.16, gives $49,133.87 as the probable cost of collecting poll taxes in 1906-07. Adding that sum, viz., $49,133.87, to the estimated cost of assessment, viz., $59,305.32, gives $108,439.19, the figures already given as the estimated total cost of assessing, extending and collecting poll taxes in 1906-07.

The total number of poll taxes collected in 1906-07 amounted to $178,131; deducting $108,439.19, leaves $69,691.81 (or 39.12 per cent.) as the net proceeds from poll taxes. On the basis of net proceeds just stated, 39.12 per cent. of $1,765,280.50, the amount of gross revenue from poll taxes for the fifteen years 1892-93-1906-07, gives $690,577.73, as already stated.

A series of eleven tables are appended, which we have compiled from the reports and books of the Assessing and Collecting Departments, in order to afford comparative data respecting the revenue and expenses of the Assessing and Collecting Departments in the period under review.

Very respectfully,

EDWARD M. HARTWELL,

Secretary.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE OF THE COMMON COUNCIL APPOINTED TO INVESTI-GATE LAND TAKINGS ALONG WASHINGTON-STREET SUBWAY.

The Special Committee of the Common Council appointed under an order passed March 26, 1908, a copy of which is hereto annexed, marked "Exhibit A," begs leave to submit the following report:

The committee had for a basis for its work rumors, more or less defined, of exorbitant prices paid by the Boston Transit Commission for land and buildings taken by right of eminent domain for the purpose of constructing the Washington-street subway, and of favoritism in the choice of land and buildings so taken.

The committee conceived that its first business was to ascertain what buildings and lands had been taken, and accordingly a vote for that purpose was passed at the first meeting of the committee, and the clerk was directed to transmit a copy of the same to the Transit Commission (see Exhibit B).

On April 10 the Transit Commission replied to the committee's communication in a statement at once explicit and categorical (see Exhibit C). At the same time the committee was in receipt of two statements from the Assessing Department (see Exhibits D and E) setting forth the takings of the Transit Commission as of record in said department. The apparent difference between Exhibits D and E is explained by the inclusion in Exhibit D of certain easements not set forth in Exhibit C. Exhibit E and Exhibit C practically correspond.

On April 15 the committee again communicated with the Transit Commission (see Exhibit F) and received a reply under date of April 16 (see Exhibit I). On the same day, April 15, the question of the committee's jurisdiction was raised, and the committee thereupon voted to request the opinion of the Corporation Counsel (see Exhibit G).

The Corporation Counsel replied April 16 (see Exhibit H).

The committee desires to call attention to the fact that in the question addressed to the Corporation Counsel it distinctly avoided reference to chapter 478 of the Acts of 1899, of which it was cognizant, not wishing to derive its authority from said act, but rather from the later act, section 8 of chapter 175 of the Revised Laws of 1902, which specifically gives authority to summon witnesses "to attend and testify and to produce books and papers at a hearing before a city council, or either branch thereof, or before a joint or special committee of the same or either branch thereof, . . . as to matters within their authority." If the opinion of the Corporation Counsel be correct, and the committee is not able to dispute it, then the City of Boston has confronting it a very significant state of affairs. A body of men may pledge the city's credit to any amount and spend millions of its money for land damages with no more restraining influence than its own will and the right of a party aggrieved by its decision to appeal to the courts. The high personnel of such a body is at most an accident, the continuity of which cannot be assured.

The committee, however, did not consider itself estopped by the opinion from continuing the investigation, while realizing that an insuperable barrier had been raised against its effectiveness.

In accordance with the tenor of the letter of the Transit Commission, Exhibit I, a sub-committee waited upon the secretary, Mr. B. Leighton Beal, whose courtesy to them is hereby acknowledged. Books and papers and correspondence were shown in specific cases asked for.

In taking property by eminent domain, it appears that the usual method for arriving at a settlement is for a sub-committee of the commission to meet either the owners or their attorneys in conference. In some cases the services of a real estate firm are used.

The case which gave the committee the most concern was the taking of the property at the north corner of Boylston and Washington streets. A brief recital of the facts in the case may not be amiss.

Having determined to establish a station at Boylston and Washington streets, it was the first intention of the Transit Commission to take the building on the south corner, occupied by the Continental Clothing House. In spite of protests from the owners, it was so voted.

Thereupon the Boston Elevated Railway Company availed itself of its rights under the statute and appealed to the Board of Railroad Commissioners against the proposed location. This latter board decided against the Transit Commission, who were, therefore, obliged to take the building on the north corner. In pursuance of its regular procedure, the Transit Commission began their conferences with the owner, through his attorneys. The owner demanded $625,000 for the property, basing his figures on an annual rent roll of $25,000. The assessed value at the time of taking, 1905, was $167,000. The commission satisfied itself that the average receipts for rent for five years previous to the taking was $8,500. The real estate experts for the commission appraised the property at $240,000, basing their figures on an annual rent roll of $15,000. For about two and one-half years the negotiations were pending. The attempts to bridge the chasm between the experts' figures of $240,000 and the owner's valuation of $625,000 were fruitless. At the end of that time the sub-committee, Messrs. Crocker and Quincy, recommended the following settlement, which was made. They reconveyed the property to the owner; for the easement in the cellar and about one-quarter of the ground floor, they paid $150,000 for damages; they paid him for rents and interest during their occupancy, $22,312.49; and they paid, in addition, the sum of $10,000 to help him in the reconstruction necessitated by their use of the property. That is to say, the commission paid $182,312.49 for an easement, or $15,312.49 more than the assessed valuation of the entire property at the time of taking. In the year 1907, when the property was reconveyed, the assessed value of the property was $215,000. The Boston Transit Commission decided that they had damaged the property to the extent of $182,312.49. The Assessing Department of the City of Boston decided that the value of the property had been enhanced $48,000.

Take another case: The buildings, 14 La Grange street and 18 La Grange street, are substantially alike; are assessed for the same amount—$21,000. For No. 14, the commission paid $24,000; for No. 18, they paid $34,500. When asked the reason for the difference, the frank answer was returned that the owner of No. 14 accepted the offer of the commission of $24,000; the owner of No. 18, on the contrary, vigorously objected, and his protest netted him $10,500.

An examination of the appended exhibits will disclose other cases where partial takings were paid for, apparently entirely out of proportion to the total assessed values.

For the property No. 802-806 Washington street and No. 9 Ash street, they paid $65,500, or $23,600 more than one-half the assessed value, though they took less than one-half the property, and that the back land.

The same state of affairs obtains with regard to No. 810 Washington street.

There is another phase of this question which must be kept in mind. Every piece of property taken by this commission is thereby removed from the taxable assets of the city. Even if the property is not destroyed, but is used and leased to tenants, it is exempt from taxation as city property, and revenue derived therefrom goes, not into the general treasury of the city, but for the uses of the Transit Commission under the statute. For example: The Commission having taken the south corner of Washington and Winter streets has leased it until 1911, with the privilege of a renewal for ten years, for the sum of $28,000 a year net. This is popularly known as the highest priced piece of land in the city. But as long as it remains city property it will pay no taxes; and the $28,000 which it brings in will be used for the redemption of bonds, interest, sinking funds, salaries, etc.

On May 9 the committee sent a communication to the Transit Commission (see Exhibit J). The reply to this was received May 19 (see Exhibits K, L, and M). The committee is informed that the payment for the easements will rise $500,000.

At this point the committee reluctantly relinquishes its task, with the earnest recommendation that it be taken up by the Boston Finance Commission.

It is peculiarly fitting that this body, created by the City Government for the purpose of investigating the financial condition of the city, its existence recognized by the Legislature and its hands strengthened by statute, chapter 481 of the Acts of 1907, should take up this work where the committee, in all modesty, lays it down. The Finance Commission has the power and the money, and, under the spur of the figures submitted by this committee, it should have the desire to prosecute this investigation. The doctrine laid down in Mahoney vs. Boston, 171 Mass., need give it no concern, since the commission is purely a body of inquest on financial matters relating to the city.

Moreover, having flatly and unequivocally taken the stand in reports to the City Council that land condemned by the city should not be paid for at more than an advance of 25 per cent. over the assessed value, it will find in this report and appendix a challenge which it cannot afford to ignore.

In conclusion, therefore, the committee recommends the passage of the accompanying order.

BOSTON TRANSIT COMMISSION,
15 Beacon street:

GENTLEMEN, — I am instructed by the Special Committee of the Common Council appointed to investigate the taking of land in connection with the construction of the Washington-street tunnel, to transmit to you the following copy of a vote passed this day at a session of said committee:

Voted, To request the Boston Transit Commission to furnish the committee with the following information:

1. List of various properties taken in connection with the construction of the Washington-street tunnel.
2. Price paid for each parcel.
3. Owner at time of taking.
4. Whether or not any of said properties, or parts thereof, have been sold; and, if so, to whom sold and the price paid.
5. Whether or not any of said properties, or parts thereof, have been leased; if so, to whom, at what price and duration of lease.

If possible, the committee would like to have the information by Friday.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. DEVER,
Clerk of Committees.

BOSTON TRANSIT COMMISSION,
15 BEACON STREET, April 10, 1908.

JOHN F. DEVER, Esq.,
Clerk of Committees:

DEAR SIR, — Your communication of the 8th instant to the Boston Transit Commission setting forth the request of the Special Committee of the Common Council appointed to investigate the taking of land in connection with the construction of the Washington-street tunnel has been received.

Replying to the first three questions, the list of the various properties taken, together with the name of the owner at the time of taking and price paid for each parcel, is as follows:

Estate bounded by Washington, Bennet and Ash streets, Reuben Sherburne owner, $375,000.

A portion of estate No. 800 Washington street, L. F. Foster et als. owners, land and buildings, about 550 square feet, $18,500.

A portion of estate No. 802-806 Washington street and No. 9 Ash street, extending about 62 feet from Ash street, Elizabeth Ballard et al. owners, land and buildings, about 2,735 square feet, $65,500.

A portion of estate No. 810 Washington street and No. 11 Ash street, extending about 57 feet from Ash street, Harriet E. Lillie owner, land and buildings, about 1,160 square feet, $26,000.

A portion of estate No. 814 Washington street and No. 13 Ash street, Tappan E. Francis owner land and buildings, about 125 square feet, $5,300.

A portion of estate No. 816-826 Washington street and No. 15-21 Ash street, extending about 48 feet from Ash street, Livingston Cushing et al., trustees, owners, about 3,670 square feet, $65,000.

Estate No. 14 La Grange street, land and buildings, David H. Hayden et al. owners, $24,000.

Estate No. 18 La Grange street, land and buildings, C. H. Dill, 2d, owner, $34,500.

Estate on northerly corner of Washington and Boylston streets, A. Shuman owner. This taking was made April 1, 1905. Settlement was made on November 14, 1907, by the reconveyance to the former owner of the remainder of the estate not required for exit, entrance and other tunnel purposes, by the payment as damages of the sum of $150,000, and in lieu of interest an agreed amount of $8,500 per year during the period of ownership by the city, such payment amounting to $22,312.49; and by an additional payment of $10,000 towards the cost of reconstruction rendered necessary by the work of the commission.

Estate on southerly corner of Washington and Winter streets, Municipal Real Estate Trust owner. The commission has agreed to pay for this estate the sum of $630,000 with interest from the date of taking. This payment has not been made.

Estate on northerly corner of Washington and Summer streets, Estate of E. E. Salisbury owner. Not yet paid for.

The commission has also taken two estates, one on the north side of La Grange street, No. 13, and one on the south side of Essex street, No. 15. Owing to changes in plans these two estates were shortly afterwards reconveyed to the owners.

The reply to the fourth inquiry is as follows:

Except as above set forth, none of the properties or parts thereof have been sold.

The reply to the fifth inquiry is as follows:

The space in the Sherburne building, not used for the tunnel easement, has been leased to various tenants. The net income from the same to April 1, 1908, was $32,433.76.

The other properties between Washington and Ash streets which were taken have been used almost entirely for tunnel purposes, and the buildings thereon have been destroyed.

The two estates on La Grange street have been leased to various tenants. The net income from the same to April 1, 1908, was $536.21.

From April 1, 1905, the date of the taking of the Shuman estate, to May 1, 1907, when the premises were vacated on account of construction operations by the commission, rentals were received from various occupants of the building amounting to $12,041.05.

Those portions of the building at the corner of Washington and Winter streets not used for tunnel purposes have been leased to Wm. Filene's Sons Company for the term ending February 28, 1911, with a privilege of extension for a further term of ten years, for $28,000 a year net. This lease is in the custody of the City Auditor.

At the time of the taking of the Salisbury estate, Washington and Summer streets, Geo. N. Talbot was lessee. He still occupies the premises under a claim that the taking is invalid. The court having adjudged that the city is entitled to possession of the premises, and he having appealed from such judgment, he has been obliged under the statute to give bond with sufficient sureties to pay the city, if final judgment is in its favor, all rent which had accrued at the date of the bond, all intervening rent, and all damage and loss which the city may sustain by reason of the withholding of the possession of the premises and by reason of any injury done thereto during such withholding, with costs.

The above are all the parcels which have been taken.

The commission has also taken numerous easements.

By order of the

BOSTON TRANSIT COMMISSION,

B. LEIGHTON BEAL,

Secretary.

LAW DEPARTMENT,

To the Special Committee of the Common Council Appointed under an Order passed March 26, 1908:

GENTLEMEN,—I am requested through the Clerk of Committees to give my opinion to you as to whether or not the subject-matter before said committee comes under the head of matters within their authority within the meaning of section 8 of chapter 175 of the Revised Laws.

Owing to the provisions of the amendment to the City Charter, contained in chapter 266 of the Acts of 1885, the authority of the City Council of Boston to investigate the doings of executive departments of the city rests upon chapter 478 of the Acts of 1899. The only authority given to a committee of the Common Council under that act to investigate is conditioned upon the neglect or refusal of any head of a city department to furnish to the Common Council full information relative to the expenditure of any moneys or funds of said city under the charge of said department, or relative to the employment of labor or the establishment or abolition of any office in said department.

It has been decided by the courts that the Boston Transit Commission is not a department of the City of Boston, and that its members and employees are not the servants or agents of the city.

It follows, therefore, in my opinion, that the City Council has no authority to investigate the acts and doings of the Transit Commission, and that the investigation proposed by the order of March 26, 1908, is not a matter within the authority of the Common Council of Boston.

Yours truly,

Corporation Counsel.

EXHIBIT L.

BOSTON, February 15, 1906.

To the Chairman and Members of the Boston Transit Commission, 15 Beacon street, Boston, Mass.:

GENTLEMEN, — Agreeably to our personal conference this day, in reference to the taking of my property, corner of Boylston and Washington streets, I would say that I protested against the taking of this building for a subway station in my communication of December, 1904, and the commission evidently had agreed with me, because the station had been located on the opposite side in the Boylston building, where it properly should have been.

It may be pertinent for me to remind the commission that the Boston Elevated Railroad appealed to the Railroad Commission from your decision and their appeal was sustained, and your commission then took possession of my property on April 1, 1905. I have received no income up to this date for the property, and my attorney was unable to arrange for the continuation of the collection of rents during my absence abroad, for which I had offered to give ample guarantee. While, therefore, I have not only been deprived of the income from the rentals and the use of the money from same, I have also been deprived of a piece of property that had a great future, which would have enhanced its value threefold, from the great mercantile change in its immediate surroundings.

This Boylston corner, upon reflection you will see, has a great value beyond its prospective increase. If you will look at the map you will observe that this building is the key to the situation of any development around that corner. Since the taking of this property by the city at the instigation of the Boston "L," the value of the entire neighborhood has been greatly enhanced by the building of the Siegel Company block, and it must be obvious to the commission that in the very near future a similar enterprise might have been instituted in the block on which my corner was situated, and I am satisfied that if a syndicate was formed for such a purpose I could have obtained $1,000,000 for this corner, though its dimensions are very small.

I regard this as the very best corner in the City of Boston. It is more valuable than any other corner because of its size and its future advancement. It is more valuable than any corner on Washington and Winter or Washington and Summer streets. Winter street has a dead ending at the Common.

Boylston street is a thoroughfare to one of the most valuable districts in the city and is destined to be the Twenty-third street of Boston. I was offered, as stated in my communication of December, 1904, before the Siegel enterprise was con-summed, \$20,000 per annum net for the property, which I could not accept because of a lease on the store. I mentioned at the same time how much more expensive this corner would be, in comparison with a station 200 feet from Washington street, if the property valuation is considered on a  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. income, that being the rate at which banks would furnish money on business property.

Now that the Siegel business has been established, I unhesitatingly believe that I could obtain $25,000 per annum net for this piece of property in rentals.

On the basis of 4 per cent. net, which is the established rate on down-town business property, by owners and syndicates, and computed at the rate of 4 per cent. interest on the income, the value of the property is $625,000, for which amount, with interest, I am entitled to be reimbursed for my present loss, besides the future advance which the "L" Co. have deprived me of.

In taking a piece of property from the owner, the question must be considered what is its market value, and not what it is taxed for, and what price would the owner be willing to sell for, based on the income that he could receive for same, and for that purpose and in order to see how far I was sustained in my opinion. I have obtained the opinions of several reputable, high-minded real estate experts, who contend that on the basis of rentals mentioned herewith the property is worth fully the amount named.

Among these are such men as T. Dennie Boardman and Frederic O. Woodruff, whose transactions in Washington street and syndicate buildings alone run into the millions, and who, with others whose opinions have been consulted, are especially qualified and competent to consider the market value of a piece of property of this importance and situated as it is.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) A. SHUMAN.

EXHIBIT M.

16 STATE STREET, BOSTON, December 13, 1905.

15 Beacon street, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIRs,—In accordance with your request we have made examination of the property at the corner of Washington and Boylston streets, taken by your commission to provide entrance and exit to the Washington-street tunnel, with a view to estimating the value of the property before the taking and the value of what remains, subject to your use of such portions as shown by the plans submitted, and we desire to report as follows:

The property has frontages on Washington street of 25.10 feet and on Boylston street of 45.29 feet, with a total area of 1,064 square feet.

The building is six stories in height with a basement, the greater part of which has been used by the tenant of the first floor in connection with the store. This basement had approximately 720 square feet of floor space, and the store, including the space used for the entrance at the corner, about 700 square feet. The rentable space on the upper floors averaged about 650 feet to a floor.

The entrance to the upper stories is on Boylston street, where there is a passenger elevator.

We understand that prior to the taking by your commission the first floor and basement were rented together at an annual rental of $9,000 and that few of the upper floors were rented. We estimate that these together had a rental value of about $6,000, making a total rental value of the entire building of $15,000. We have estimated the expenses, including the taxes, at $5,000, which would leave a total net rental of $10,000 with the building entirely full.

The property is valued by the assessors at $189,000, of which $29,400 is on the building and $159,600 on the land. This is an increase of $20,000 since the assessment of last year.

The location is an attractive one at the junction of two important thoroughfares, and we believe that the property had a value of approximately $200 per square foot. If to this we should add the taxed value of the building, which seems to us to be ample, it would give a valuation of about $240,000, and while this valuation seems a little high, it would seem to be justified by the possible rental returns and by the fact that in case the owners of the adjoining properties should desire at some time to unite their interests they could well afford to pay a high price for the sake of uniting this property with the others and controlling the corner.

After taking out those portions of the property required for the entrance and exit, according to plans submitted, there remains practically no space below the street level which can be utilized by tenants of the building, the only space being that which will be required for the elevator machinery and the heating apparatus.

On the street floor the main front will be set back an average of about six feet and will be reduced in width to fourteen feet; the rentable floor area remaining would be reduced to about two hundred and sixty square feet, having a rentable value of about $4,000.

If we assume the rental value of the upper floors to be the same as before the taking, say $6,000, it would leave a total rental value of the property of $10,000.

The expenses of operation are substantially the same as before, but we assume that the taxes will be reduced about $1,000, so that the net return would be $6,000.

As the owner would be restricted in the use of his property by his inability to use any considerable part of the space below the street level, and as the first floor is so greatly reduced, we think that it would not be practicable to sell the portion of the property remaining on so favorable basis of income as in its former condition, and that the value would be reduced to about $120,000.

The injury to the property by the taking of the easement would therefore be $120,000.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) WHITCOMB, WEAD & Co.

TWO HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SEVENTH LOCATION.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, March 23, 1908.

The Committee on Railroads, to whom was recommitted — March 16 — the petition of the West End Street Railway Company for a relocation of its tracks in Washington street and Forest Hills square, etc., having further considered the subject, respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

For the Committee,

W. PRENTISS PARKER,

Chairman.

Accepted March 30, 1908.

Ordered, That in addition to the rights heretofore granted to the West End Street Railway Company for locations for tracks in the streets of the City of Boston, said company shall have the right to construct, maintain and use an alteration of its existing locations as follows: Double tracks on Washington street and Forest Hills square, West Roxbury district, from and connecting with the existing tracks north of Arborway to and connecting with the existing or relocated tracks of the Old Colony Street Railway Company in Forest Hills square near Tower street; also a cross connection in Washington street south of Arborway, and a cross connection in Forest Hills square near Tower street; also double curved tracks at the northwest corner of Washington street and North Traffic Roadway, so-called, in Arborway, connecting with the existing or relocated tracks in said Arborway. Also an addition to its existing locations as follows: A single curved track from and connecting with the proposed relocated tracks in Washington street at the northeast corner of Arborway, and a single curved track from and connecting with the proposed relocated tracks north of Arborway, both connecting with loop track proposed to be built on land of the Park Department of the City of Boston and on private land east of Washington street, together with all necessary curves, cross-overs, switches and connections. All as shown by red lines on plan of A. L. Plimpton, dated February 7, 1908, and all alterations in substitution for existing tracks as shown by dotted black lines on said plan, said plan being deposited in the office of the Superintendent of Streets.

And the consent of the Board of Aldermen is granted to said company to establish and maintain the overhead single trolley electric system of motive power in the operation of its cars on said location, and to erect, maintain and use iron poles, not less than twenty feet in height, at places indicated by red dots or circles on the aforesaid plan, or at such other places, to be shown by blue dots or circles on said plan, as may be approved by the Superintendent of Streets, and to place on said poles such wires and other appliances as the Commissioner of Wires shall approve.

The right to lay down the tracks located by this order is upon condition that the whole work of laying the same, the form of rail to be used, and the kind and quality of material used in paving said tracks, and the kind and locations of poles, shall be under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets, and shall be approved by him. Also upon condition that said railway company shall accept this order, and shall file such acceptance with the City Clerk in accordance with the provisions of Statute Law, otherwise it shall be null and void.

The whole work authorized to be done under the provisions of this order shall be completed within one year from the date of the passage of this order.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, May 11, 1908.

Passed.

Approved by the Mayor May 21, 1908.

WEST END STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

TWO HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-EIGHTH LOCATION.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, May 25, 1908.

The Committee on Railroads, to whom was referred — May 18 — the petition of the West End Street Railway Company for temporary tracks on Hereford and Newbury streets, with necessary curves and connections, having considered the subject, respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

For the Committee,
W. PRENTISS PARKER,
Chairman.

---

Ordered, That in addition to the rights heretofore granted to the West End Street Railway Company for locations for tracks in the streets of the City of Boston, said company shall have the right to construct, maintain and use temporarily, under the provisions of chapter 266 of the Acts of 1908, double tracks on Hereford and Newbury streets, from and connecting with the existing tracks on Boylston street by double curved tracks at the northeast corner of Boylston and Hereford streets, to and connecting with the existing tracks on Massachusetts avenue by double curved tracks at the southeast corner, and also by double curved tracks at the northeast corner of Massachusetts avenue and Newbury street. Also additional double curved tracks at the northwest corner of Massachusetts avenue and Boylston street, connecting with existing tracks there situate; said tracks being shown by red lines on a plan made by A. L. Plimpton, dated January 8, 1908, and deposited in the office of the Superintendent of Streets.

And the consent of the Board of Aldermen is granted to said company to establish and maintain the overhead single trolley electric system of motive power in the operation of its cars on said location, and to erect, maintain and use iron poles, not less than twenty feet in height, at places indicated by red dots or circles on the aforesaid plan, or at such other places, to be shown by blue dots or circles on said plan, as may be approved by the Superintendent of Streets, and to place on said poles such wires and other appliances as the Commissioner of Wires shall approve.

The right to lay down the tracks located by this order is upon condition that the whole work of laying the same, the form of rail to be used, and the kind and quality of material used in paving said tracks, and the kind and locations of poles, shall be under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets, and shall be approved by him. Also upon condition that said railway company shall accept this order, and shall file such acceptance with the City Clerk in accordance with the provisions of Statute Law, otherwise it shall be null and void.

The whole work authorized to be done under the provisions of this order shall be completed within one year from the date of the passage of this order.

Passed.

Approved by the Mayor June 3, 1908.

A true copy.

TWO HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-NINTH LOCATION.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, June 8, 1908.

The Committee on Railroads, to whom was recommitted — April 27 — the petition of the West End Street Railway Company for an alteration of curved tracks, corner of Dorchester and Savin Hill avenues, Ward 20, having further considered the subject, respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

For the Committee,

W. PRENTISS PARKER,

Ordered, That in addition to the rights heretofore granted to the West End Street Railway Company for locations for tracks in the streets of the City of Boston, said company shall have the right to construct, maintain and use an alteration of its existing locations as follows: Double curved tracks at the southwest corner of Dorchester and Savin Hill avenues, in substitution for existing tracks shown by dotted black lines on plan filed herewith; together with all necessary curves, cross-overs, switches and connections; said tracks being shown by red lines on a plan made by A. L. Plimpton dated April 1, 1908, and deposited in the office of the Superintendent of Streets.

And the consent of the Board of Aldermen is granted to said company to establish and maintain the overhead single trolley electric system of motive power in the operation of its cars on said location, and to erect, maintain and use iron poles, not less than twenty feet in height, at places indicated by red dots or circles on the aforesaid plan, or at such other places, to be shown by blue dots or circles on said plan, as may be approved by the Superintendent of Streets, and to place on said poles such wires and other appliances as the Commissioner of Wires shall approve.

The right to lay down the tracks located by this order is upon condition that the whole work of laying the same, the form of rail to be used, and the kind and quality of material used in paving said tracks, and the kind and locations of poles, shall be under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets, and shall be approved by him. Also upon condition that said railway company shall accept this order, and shall file such acceptance with the City Clerk in accordance with the provisions of Statute Law, otherwise it shall be null and void.

The whole work authorized to be done under the provisions of this order shall be completed within one year from the date of the passage of this order.

Passed.

Approved by the Mayor June 15, 1908.

TRANSMITTING

AN ORDINANCE PLACING THE BATH DEPARTMENT UNDER THE CONTROL OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR, June 15, 1908.

To the Gentlemen of the City Council:

In deference to the wishes of the Committee on Ordinances of the City Council, I have agreed to the accompanying ordinance, which places the Bath Department under the control of the Board of Health. This is to be regarded as a substitute for the ordinance sent in last week which reduced the number of commissioners from seven to three.

Respectfully,

G. A. HIBBARD, Mayor.

AN ORDINANCE REPEALING THE ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING THE BATH DEPARTMENT AND TRANSFERRING THE CHARGE OF BATH HOUSES, GYMNASIA, ETC., TO THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of chapter two of the Revised Ordinances of 1898 is hereby amended by striking out in the last sentence of said section the words "The bath trustees".

SECT. 2. Chapter seven of the Revised Ordinances of 1898 establishing the bath department is hereby repealed.

SECT. 3. Chapter eighteen of the Revised Ordinances of 1898 concerning the health department is hereby amended by adding a new section as follows:

"SECT. 5. Said board shall have the care and custody of all bath houses, whether for all-the-year-round use, or floating bath houses in salt water for summer use, bathing beaches, swimming pools and gymnasia now or hereafter provided by the city; shall have the care and custody of all urinals or public convenience stations now or hereafter established by the city, and shall construct every such new bath house, urinal and station for which an appropriation may hereafter be made."

SUBSTITUTE ORDINANCE OFFERED BY COUNCILMAN GOODWIN.

AN ORDINANCE CONCERNING GYMNASIA AND PUBLIC BATHS.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows :

SECTION 1. Section one of chapter two of the Revised Ordinances of 1898 is hereby amended by inserting after the words "The fire commissioner" the words "The commissioner of gymnasia and public baths"; and by striking out in said section the words "The bath trustees".

SECT. 2. The department of gymnasia and public baths shall be under the charge of the commissioner of gymnasia and public baths who shall have the care and custody of all bath houses, whether for all-the-year-round use, or floating bath houses in salt water for summer use, bathing beaches, swimming pools, and gymnasia, now or hereafter provided by the city, and shall construct every such new bath house and gymnasium for which an appropriation may hereafter be made.

SECT. 3. Section five of chapter three of the Revised Ordinances of 1898 is hereby amended by inserting after the words "The common councilmen, each three hundred dollars" the words "The commissioner of gymnasia and public baths, thirty-five hundred dollars".

SECT. 4. Chapter seven of the Revised Ordinances of 1898 is hereby repealed.

IN COMMON COUNCIL, June 18, 1908.

Assigned to the next meeting and ordered to be printed.

[DOCUMENT 113—1908.]

THE REVOLUTION AND A PROBLEM OF THE PRESENT.

AN ORATION DELIVERED AT

FANEUIL HALL, JULY 4, 1908.

BY

ARTHUR DEHON HILL.

The exercises in which we are to-day met to join were first instituted in 1771, to commemorate the Boston Massacre, which had occurred on March 5th of the preceding year. From that time to this they have been held once in each year, the date of their celebration having been changed from March 5th to July 4th, after the recognition of the independence of the United States by Great Britain in 1789. A celebration so long continued of itself strikes the imagination. It is the more striking when we consider the changes that have taken place during the period that has elapsed since its institution.

In 1771 Boston was a town of about twenty thousand inhabitants. It lay for the most part between the line of what is now Tremont street and the harbor. The North End, still the fashionable quarter, though even then beginning to lose its pre-eminence, contained some six hundred buildings; "New Boston," what we now call the "Old West End," about one hundred and seventy; and the "South End," then extending from the "Mill Bridge," on Hanover street, over the old canal, to the fortifications on the Neck, near what is now Dover street, perhaps twelve hundred more. The filling in of tidal creeks and flats and the bridging of rivers which to-day places Boston to all intents and purposes upon the mainland, was not yet begun. The only way of reaching it by land was over the narrow Dorchester Neck, and the town was scattered on the easterly slopes of what was practically an island, with the wooden beacon that then stood where the State House now stands as its highest point, and to the west of that pastures, with here and there scattered houses between it and the river. The outward aspect of the place it is easy for us to picture. Here in Boston, indeed, few traces of that time remain, but we have only to go to Salem or to Portsmouth or to any one of the other lesser New England seaports to find streets, and even quarters, that show us what Revolutionary Boston must have been. And even here in our great modern city, as we go about our business through its clanging streets, our eyes are now and again caught by some old print in a bookseller's window that shows the little town from which that city sprang, with its small wooden houses each standing apart on its own plot of ground, with here and there the spire of a meeting house made imposing by the monotony of its surroundings, and with its most considerable building, the Old State House at the head of State street, which a wise piety has allowed to survive as an emblem of the past to which we owe so large a debt.

How great that debt is we can only realize by contrasting the privileges we enjoy with the slender opportunities of our predecessors. It is harder for us to know the actual life of the men of Revolutionary times than it is to know the outward aspect of their surroundings, for their manner of life was singularly remote from that of the present day.

But from such written records as survive, and still more, perhaps, from oral tradition, we can in some sort picture how they lived and thought. And the dominant effects of the picture are of material hardship and narrow range of possible achievement.

The province of which Boston was the capital contained in 1771 a population of nearly 300,000 scattered among some two hundred towns. The economic conditions were such that a large part of the energy of the inhabitants was necessarily expended in the bare work of keeping alive. The community was isolated to a degree almost inconceivable at the present day. By land the roads were so few and poor, and travel over them was so difficult, that the traffic was extremely small. Moreover, except to the South, there was substantially no place to go to, for Canada was separated from civilized New England by what was practically a trackless wilderness, and west of the Massachusetts line lay nothing but the scanty settlements of Vermont and northern New York. With the Connecticut towns, and beyond these with New York City and the Middle States, there was some commercial intercourse, but as it took days for even a traveller and his personal luggage to reach New York City, that intercourse could not be large. What commerce there was, was mainly by sea, and even by sea the uncertainties and delays were great. A voyage to England commonly occupied over a month, and one to New York might consume days. Commerce, moreover, was hampered and restricted by a system of vexatious legislation devised by Parliament in the interests of English merchants. It was the object of that legislation to keep the colonies in a condition of economic dependence upon the mother country, and, so far as New England was concerned, that object, in spite of extensive evasions of the law, was in great part attained. Manufactures, to-day the great source of our wealth, as yet scarcely existed. The community practically depended for its support on its own natural resources. Farming was still the occupation of the great majority of the population, and farming in New England was, and is, perhaps, of all ways of getting a livelihood the one which calls for the greatest amount of human effort in proportion to the return received. The community was poor and dependent, and poor and dependent it seemed likely to remain. Of the riches that lay hidden in the country to the west, and even of the resources of the plentiful water power of their own rivers, the New Englanders were as yet ignorant. They lived unconscious on the brink of a vast industrial revolution as they lived unconscious on the brink of a vast political revolution.

The social life of the people was hard and narrow. The same physical and political barriers that restricted their material prosperity restricted also their intellectual progress. They were as isolated intellectually as they were economically. As they had to wring their main physical subsistence from the scanty New England soil, so they had to wring their main mental subsistence from the stern traditions of Puritanism. High and noble as those traditions were, they had in them much that was harsh and narrow, and they had ceased to fill the needs of a young and energetic community full of hope for the future and disposed to dwell on the possibilities for good in human nature rather than on its inherent depravity. The time had come when what was outgrown in Puritanism had to be cast aside and what remained to find new modes of expression. A kindlier and more tolerant spirit was in the air, and with it would come a wider and freer range of intellectual activity. So long, however, as the old separate life of the colony continued, men were not bold enough to break openly with the old ways of thought, and the life of the province kept within the narrow circle marked by the old beliefs. There were no libraries, no science, no music, — none of the humanities of existence. The Puritan creed added to the poverty of the community, kept men's minds fixed on religion and politics to the exclusion of all other fields of human thought and action. An ambitious Bostonian in colonial times might hope to be a Congregational minister or a successful merchant, or he might become a lawyer and politician and rise thereby to fill some provincial office. It was hardly possible for him to be anything else. Except for a few portrait painters hardly a name has come down to us from the years immediately preceding the Revolution as eminent in any other form of human endeavor. There were none of the scientific, literary and artistic interests that bring men in contact with the outside world through those great ideas that know no provincial or religious boundaries. The entire energy of the community was concentrated on its own industrial development and the preservation of its political existence.

But the very conditions which made their lives hard and narrow helped to fit the men of the Revolution for the work they had to do. All classes were compelled to live simply and frugally, and this simplicity and frugality made for equality. The lives of all men were so much alike, the problems each one had to meet, and the few pleasures each enjoyed, were so nearly the same that there existed a mutual sympathy and understanding that enormously increased their power of united action. The community indeed was not knowingly democratic. On the contrary, its conscious ideal was still the ordered hierarchy of classes which seems the natural form of English society. People were still divided into gentle and simple, high and low, each with his established place in the social scale. The very students in Harvard College were placed in its catalogue, not alphabetically as is done to-day, but in an order determined by the supposed social position of their respective fathers. Few men avowed democratic doctrines, and such as did so were looked upon as dangerous Radicals. As late as 1803 Dennie's Portfolio, a publication having a large circulation in New England, contained the following passage:—

A democracy is scarcely tolerable at any period of national history. Its omens are always sinister, and its powers are unpropitious. It is on its trial here, and the issue will be civil war, desolation, and anarchy. No wise man but discerns its imperfections, no good man but shudders at its miseries, no honest man but proclaims its fraud, and no brave man but draws his sword against its force. The institution of a scheme of policy so radically contemptible and vicious is a memorable example of what the villainy of some men can devise, the folly of others receive, and both establish in spite of reason, reflection, and sensation.

And at later date George Cabot, the Federalist leader, said:

Even in New England, where there is among the body of the people more wisdom and virtue than in any other part of the United States, we are full of errors which no reasoning could eradicate if there were a Lycurgus in every village. We are democratic altogether, and I hold democracy in its natural operation to be the government of the worst.

If this was the tone which a magazine, circulating among the general public, and a political leader, whose success depended upon the popular vote, dared to adopt years after the Revolution had been successfully fought, it is easy to imagine how men thought and felt while Massachusetts was still a colony dependent for its political existence on the English crown, and taking its only outside ideas from the intensely aristocratic English community. The influence of the clergy, too, was thrown on the same side. Originally the leaders of the colonists, and in practical control of the government, their power had slowly decreased as the religious impulses that dictated the foundation of the colony had died away. But even until after the Revolution they continued to have more influence than any other class. An historian has described how in a country parish, when an individual defied his authority, the minister put his three-cornered hat on his head, took his silver-topped cane in his hand, and walked down the village street, knocking at one door and another of his best parishioners, to warn them that a spirit of license and of French infidelity was abroad which could be repressed only by a strenuous and combined effort. And this great influence was inevitably opposed to democracy, not so much because of any political theory as because it was a new idea and the clergy identified religion and morality with the maintenance of the old ways. "Let us guard against the insidious encroachments of innovation," said an eminent Puritan divine in a sermon preached in Boston in 1783, "that evil and beguiling spirit which is now stalking to and fro through the earth seeking whom he may destroy."

Though the community was not consciously democratic in thought, it was actually so in both thought and practice. Politically, indeed, there was a property qualification on the suffrage, but it was not large enough to affect any considerable proportion of the population. And apart from this slight restriction, no people ever enjoyed greater political freedom in their domestic affairs. Each town was governed by its town meeting, in which every voter was on a footing of equality only modified by his powers as a speaker or by the consideration he enjoyed among his fellow townsmen. Such consideration might arise from his wealth or from his being a member of some old and well-known family, but it might equally well come from character or from proved ability in his calling or his conduct in public affairs. When an office was to be filled in these little communities, men did not vote, as they now so often do, for a name tagged to an idea or a personality of which they had read in a newspaper with no closer approximation to reality than a character in a dime novel. They voted for a neighbor whom they had known from his birth; whom they had seen as a small barefooted boy playing with his fellows on the road; with whom they had studied in the town school when he was a boy and swapped horses after he became a man; of whose character, opinions and family circumstances they had an intimate first hand knowledge. It was not easy for any man who had not good stuff in him to hold his own under such conditions.

Social relations were as essentially democratic as was political life. The movement from class to class was easy as it is in every newly settled country. The land was not rich, but it was plentiful; earning money was not easy, but it was possible to all. A poor young man, while he could not accumulate a great fortune, as Carnegie and Rockefeller have done in our own time, could, if he possessed the requisite energy and ability, acquire a modest competence with comparative ease, and such a competence carried with it almost a certainty of social and political influence, for in so small a community a successful man was inevitably brought in intimate contact with everyone who possessed power, and into social relations with the families whose earlier success had made them the established aristocracy. That aristocracy was thus constantly broadened and strengthened by the addition of new blood, while on the other hand its weaker members were steadily weeded out by the pressure of economic causes. That process of weeding out, inevitable in any society, was exceptionally rapid in a state where there were no great family fortunes which could be kept together by artificial means and no differences of tradition or privilege to separate the well-to-do apart from the poorer classes. "It is only a generation," runs the old New England saying, "from shirt sleeves to shirt sleeves." Gentle and simple, rich and poor, educated and uneducated, came of the same stock and thought and felt along the same lines. Accordingly, except in Boston, where the presence of the colonial administration had created what was substantially an official class, the so-called gentry were at one with the people in political opinion and heartily supported the revolution.

The unconscious democratic tendency was strengthened by the absence of visible racial differences in the population. It is indeed by no means true that the Yankees of the Revolution were of purely Anglo-Saxon stock. The mass of them were doubtless Englishmen and the descendants of Englishmen, but a considerable number of Scotch and Irish and a sprinkling of other nationalities had from time to time, and more especially in later years, been added to the population. We have no means of accurately determining how numerous these newcomers were. There are no immigration statistics earlier than 1820, and we can only guess at the number of immigrants from tradition, from the frequency of un-English family names and the occasional references to the arrival of foreigners in the town records. It seems clear that there were enough of them to have added materially to the other causes that went to create the distinct national type that was certainly in existence when the Revolution came. The New Englander of 1771 differed as radically from the true Englishman as do his descendants of to-day. What is most apparent in the history of the controversies between England and the colonies is the utter inability of each to understand the point of view of the other, an inability which rendered agreement impossible and presented to either party a distorted view of the other. To the colonists the kindly and honest George III., "Farmer George" to his English subjects and neighbors, became the gloomy tyrant whose melodramatic figure stalks across the pages of the Declaration of Independence. To the Englishman, American became a synonym for cowardice, treachery and hypocrisy. "I am willing to love all mankind except an American," said Dr. Johnson in 1778, and Lord Percy, who came to Massachusetts, if anything, prejudiced in favor of the colonists, wrote in a private letter from Boston, dated August 8, 1774: "The people here are a set of sly, artful, hypocritical rascals, cruel and cowards. I must own I cannot but despise them completely." There had come to be a fundamental difference in ideals between New and Old England which made it impossible for each to understand the other, and it was this difference rather than the nominal causes of dispute that made separation inevitable. New England could not remain a part of the British empire, because its people had unconsciously ceased to be Englishmen, and remaining meant subjection to a foreign government, impossible to a vigorous and high-spirited people. How far the admixture of un-English blood had contributed to the development of the new nationality it is hard to say. That development was the result of many causes, and the manner of the early immigration makes it peculiarly hard to trace its effects. The un-English immigrants who came to Boston before the Revolution did not come in large masses, as did those who came later, but in small groups or as isolated individuals, and for the most part in great poverty, often as indentured servants. So coming, they were easily absorbed into the existing society, the outward traits of which they readily acquired, and their effect on its character was subtle rather than apparent. The average New Englander of 1771 thought of himself as an Englishman. Indeed, he then and for a considerable time afterwards idealized the whole English government from the King down. It was only after years of misunderstanding that he realized that he had got to a point in his relations with the mother country when the only way in which he could reach its intelligence was with a gun. But when that time came the community stepped into national consciousness at a stride. Massachusetts might bicker with the other States and cling with energy to its provincial independence, but after Lexington and Bunker Hill its people never forgot that they were destined to a new and glorious national life. We know a generation by its children, and it was in this generation that Daniel Webster, with his intense sense of nationality, was born and bred. The very Tories themselves were foreigners in England. "I had rather die in a little country farmhouse in New England than in the best nobleman's seat in Old England," said Governor Hutchinson during his exile. With all the old civilization of England about him, and with an apparent identity of opinion between him and its people, he felt instinctively that he was an alien, and that only in the outwardly hard and narrow New England life could he attain his full development.

The men of 1771 were ripe for revolution because, unconsciously, they had become democrats, and unconsciously they had become Americans. Their religious and political experience well fitted them for the contest a revolution involved. They were at once political idealists and practical politicians. With all the faults of the Puritan creed and all the inadequacy of the Puritan rule of life, Puritanism had the surpassing advantage that it built the State upon the firm foundation of an ideal. Men whose fathers had crossed the ocean to gain the right to worship God in their own way, who to that end had faced the unknown dangers of a remote and savage coast, and endured the hardships of a strange and rigorous climate, men who had grown up in a Commonwealth whose tradition was that it was founded to establish the Kingdom of God on earth were not likely to make the shallow mistake of preferring material things to spiritual things. By 1771 the old theocratic government, based on the Congregational parish, had vanished, though certain legal features of it lingered as late as 1830. So, too, had vanished the old religious unanimity. The Puritan had been compelled by royal authority to tolerate the Church of England. He was compelled by the insensible change of public opinion to tolerate other religious forms as well. Already in Boston there were Episcopal, Baptist and Presbyterian churches, and at least one Quaker congregation. More significant still, there were perhaps a hundred Catholics in the town, and though they had no regular church organization until 1790, such Catholic priests as might be in the province were allowed to minister to them freely. Men had ceased to believe with the same fervor that they alone held the only key to righteousness. What was narrow and hard in Puritanism was dead or dying. But what was good — the sense of the imminent presence of God in human affairs, the knowledge of the truth that man does not live by bread alone and that religious ideals and not material prosperity are the true foundations of a commonwealth — survived. A high idealism permeated the whole community and ennobled the action of its citizens in public affairs.

Nothing is more striking in the story of the Revolution than the constant insistence of the patriot leaders on principles and the comparatively small part played in the controversy by material interests. It was not on the vexatious interference with trade that the colonists dwelt, but on the attempted infringement of their fundamental liberties. What lay next their hearts was not greater prosperity, but the opportunity to work out in freedom their ideal of a commonwealth. And they resisted the legislation of the English Parliament, not so much because of the actual injuries it inflicted, which were, indeed, so slight as to be scarcely felt, as because they instinctively realized that submission would mean the end of that political independence which had insensibly become their aspiration.

Like their aspirations toward freedom of thought and toward democracy, this aspiration toward independence was unconscious. Here and there a man of unusual insight saw the future which was hidden from his contemporaries. But nothing was further from the general opinion than any idea of separation from Great Britain. Even the men who led were not consciously seeking to found a new State based on freedom and democracy. They believed themselves to be asking nothing more than the ancient rights of Englishmen, the government of laws as opposed to the government of persons, which had been one of the glories of England since Magna Charta. They viewed their struggle as part of the old strife between King and Commons that ran through the whole of English history.

And yet, as we look now at the story, we can see that the real issue lay deeper than any party strife, deeper even than the new difference of nationality. A wiser policy by the English cabinet might have delayed the crisis, but no repeal of the Stamp Act, no relaxation of the Navigation Laws, no cunningly devised scheme of local self-government could have averted the inevitable conflict. New England could be satisfied with nothing less than complete separation, because her people had come without knowing to believe passionately in an ideal of society based on democracy and freedom, and that ideal could only be worked out in an independent State. Political independence had become as much a spiritual necessity to her citizens as that religious independence, to attain which the colony had been founded. Freedom and democracy were part of the religion of her people in that deep sense which includes in religion every idea that profoundly affects character and life. To the soldiers who fought in the Revolution, the war was a religious war, and the leaders who prepared the way looked on their cause as a religious cause.

This religious spirit, however, did not in the slightest degree interfere with an eminently practical conduct of the policy of the Patriot party. The men who led that party were not, like the French leaders of 1789, compelled by events to try to change their Utopia to fact without previous political training. To the Yankee of the Revolution, independence, freedom of speech and equality, and such words and phrases as these, were not ideas he approached for the first time, but actual facts. They did not have to theorize about political action, — they knew. From the foundation of the colony constant political strife had been a part of the life of every citizen. In that little community, laws and their administration touched closely the life of every individual. The government was not a remote intangible idea, but an immediate reality. On its excellence depended the state of the roads by which each man went to market, and the character of the school where he had to educate his children. Its work was done by men he personally knew, and under his own immediate eye. The community was too small for the development of the great government departments which to-day discharge automatically so large a part of the government's functions which touch the individual citizen. It is often hard to-day to interest the voter in an election, because he knows whichever way it goes the water supply, the streets and kindred matters will be sufficiently satisfactory for his needs. In 1771 a bad board of selectmen was a perceptible inconvenience to every man and woman in the town. Men were forced to take an interest in politics as they were forced to take an interest in weeding their patches of Indian corn. Politics, too, is a fascinating game, and it was one of the few pleasures open to the New Englander of the eighteenth century. In the accounts of the life of that time, the complete absence of amusements is a marked feature. Theatres were under the ban of the law until after 1792, and were frowned on by the godly to a much later date; there were almost none of the clubs and other means of social enjoyment that exist to-day. In President Dwight's account of New England, written just after the Revolution, the only diversions of which he speaks, other than out-door sports, are attendance at the graduation exercises of the various schools and colleges. Newspapers were few and books costly and hard to obtain. In a life so sombre and with such limited interests men turned with joy to the excitement of a political contest.

As a result of these causes the political life of the colony had been one of extraordinary intensity. Even in the dry bones of the early histories we can still feel the keen excitement and extreme personal bitterness that prevailed. The contest, for instance, between the Mathers and their liberal opponents, as told by Cotton Mather, is as vital as if it had taken place yesterday. In these provincial strifes the New Englanders received a political training such as has been rare in history. When the time arrived for them to deal with larger issues, they came prepared to the work, and the trained statesmen of England found themselves again and again out-matched by these rustic politicians whose only activities had been in the petty squabbles of a town meeting, and whose most complicated negotiation had been over a question of supplies with an arrogant provincial governor. The speeches and papers of the New England leaders were of extraordinary ability, and show a firm grasp of fundamental political ideas, and they were adepts in the arts of political strategy, discerning with amazing keenness the strong points of their own case and the weak points in that of their adversary. The people they led, too, showed a courage and self-control that made them redoubtable antagonists in a political contest.

So with force and craft, with noble and high-minded enthusiasm curiously mingled with Yankee shrewdness, the men of the Revolution fought and won their political battle only partly knowing what they did, but walking fearlessly along the path before them. To them we owe it that we are citizens of a free and democratic commonwealth and of a great and powerful nation. Even greater is our debt to them for the ineffaceable tradition they have left us. In the life of a State as in the life of an individual, the greatest good is not length of years or greatness of material prosperity, but the power and the will to do heroic deeds. Florence and Athens live in the minds of men where larger and richer cities are forgotten because each in its time suffered and dared for human progress. To the men of the Revolution we owe it that our State and city too have had their heroic hour, that their history is not a mere record of uneventful and inglorious life, but a story to stir the blood. Plain and simple as these men were, narrow, hard and full of faults, they led the fight for human freedom and hallowed State and city with a great tradition.

Below the standard set by that tradition it behooves us, their successors, to see that State and city do not sink. It may indeed be that it will never again fall to our Commonwealth to lead. We are remote to-day from the centres of American life, and these are the times of great empires and not of little States. But at the least we can strive to contribute our share to the life of the nation of which we form a part and to do such work as God may send us as the men of the Revolution did that he sent them. We can know no more than they did just what that work is nor whether it be great or small, nor need that concern us ; we have only to see that we do it well.

To do this it is needful that our social and political life should be sound and pure. If the men of the Revolution were successful, it was because in the uneventful years that had gone before they had fitted themselves to succeed. An effective community can no more be improvised when the need arises than can an effective battleship. If we are to be as ready to answer the call of the trumpet as were our predecessors, it must be through a self-discipline as great and as long continued as theirs.

To that end it is well that we should try to see clearly the problems which we have to face. These are many — some, like the conflicts between labor and capital, part of world-wide questions to be found in every civilized country ; others, like our railroad communications, dependent on our local situation. To attempt to speak of all of them would be impossible, but there is one of which I do want to say a word, both because it is one of the most important and because it relates with peculiar closeness to the celebration in which we are met to join. That is the problem presented by the racial divisions in our community. That problem is one of the last fifty years. Up to the great Irish famine of 1846, while there was a more or less constant stream of immigrants, they did not come in any such numbers as to materially modify the homogeneous character of the population. Like the earlier immigrants, they were insensibly absorbed by the society into which they came. But immediately after 1846 thousands of Irishmen landed in Boston, and since then wave after wave of alien immigration has broken on our shores, so that to-day there are in our State over nine hundred and eighteen thousand people of foreign birth and over a million others whose parents were born abroad. Of each of fourteen nationalities there are over fifty thousand living in our midst.

Now I am not one of those who decry this coming in of new peoples. I believe it was right and necessary that a country which based its political and social organization on democracy, and which had vast quantities of unoccupied land, should welcome newcomers of whatever European race, and that without this immigration the industrial conquest of our country which was the great achievement of the last quarter of the nineteenth century would have been impossible. It has enormously increased also to the variety and interest of our national life. But on the other hand the presence of men of so many races certainly adds to the difficulty of effective political action. In early New England, when men were all more or less alike, or at any rate had all been modified by similar experiences and a similar training, it was easy for them to understand one another and easy for them to act together. When Sam Adams walked along the wharves and talked politics with the calkers and the carpenters, he had no difficulties of language to contend with and no prejudices to remove. He was the same sort of man they were, and though he and they followed different occupations they understood one another well enough. In all the history and literature of the Revolution and the years that followed it, though there is plenty of theoretical argument against democratic ideas, there are no indications of any divisions in the community which would be any real obstacle to co-operation between its members. Even to this day this condition lingers in the New England country towns. Go to a town meeting in Western Massachusetts or in Vermont, and what you will first notice is how alike all the men are. It is that likeness and the mutual sympathy it involves that gives the leaders from such regions much of the power that they possess — that gave, for instance, the late Thomas B. Reed, of Maine, such a hold on the voters of his district, and it makes enormously for political effectiveness. But in our own mixed community the task of getting its members together is one of extreme difficulty. It is hard for men to act harmoniously on a question unless they approach it from the same point of view, and hard for them to even discuss it intelligently unless they are accustomed to speak and feel in the same way. And the point of view of say a man born in Russian Poland and an Irishman, or a Yankee of the old stock, is necessarily different. Each is likely to attach different weight to different considerations and to use words in a different sense. Grounds of misunderstanding abound. Take, for instance, the case of the Irishman and the Yankee. Fate never threw two races together whose training and history made them more apparently antagonistic. Each was profoundly religious, and the religion of each had trained its votaries to peculiar hostility to the religion of the other. Each had inherited a vivid political tradition and in each tradition the other race had played a sinister part. To the Irish Catholic men of English blood were known only as enemies, and of all Englishmen the Puritan was the most abhorrent, for he was associated primarily with Cromwell's Plantation of Ulster, the most cruel and the most ruthless of England's many crimes against Ireland. Puritan to the Irishman meant a sordid, hard and narrow-minded oppressor whose hypocrisy in religion only added the last revolting trait to his character. To the Puritan, on the other hand, the Church of England man was bad enough, but the Papist was the very incarnation of evil. In Stevenson's novel of "St. Ives," the hero, a young French officer of Napoleon, is describing the character of his lady love to his Scotch landlady, whom circumstances have made his confidant. "To what denoamination does she beloang?" she asks, and on his reply that he only knows that she is a heartfelt Christian, "Aye," she sighed, "if she has the root of the maitter, there's a remnant practically in most denoaminations. There is some in the McGlashanites, and some in the Glassites, and many in the McMillamites, and there's a leeven even in the Estayblishment."

"I have known some very good Papists, even if you go to that," said I . . .

"You should nae jest in sairious maitters," she interrupted. And the New England Puritan in early days was at least as hostile to the Catholic as was the Scotch. Of all Catholics, too, the Irish Catholic was the one he disliked the most. In the days when the English Puritans, from whom he sprang, were in their death grapple wth Charles I., one of the severest blows they received was in the temporary success of the Irish Rebellion. Again, when the Puritans had the King beaten to his knees, it was to an Irish army that he turned, or was believed to have turned, as his last hope.

From that time on the Irish Papist was the constant dread of the Puritan, filling a place in his imagination like that held by the Abolitionist in the South in the years immediately preceding the Civil War—a creature at once despised and feared, possessing no real human attributes and representing little but a personified idea of hatred and terror. "There have been formidable attempts of Satan and his sons to unsettle us," said Cotton Mather, in a sermon delivered in 1700. "But what an overwhelming blast from Heaven defeated all those attempts . . . At length it was proposed that a colony of Irish might be sent over to check the growth of this country. An happy Revolution spoiled that plot."

Of course by the time of the great Irish immigration such ideas were no longer held in their crude form. The citizen who had grown up under a complete system of religious and political liberty could not see with the eyes of the Puritan, just emerging from the period of bitter religious strife, and the Irishman who came to America in 1850 thought of the American as something different from a transplanted Englishman. But political and religious misconceptions die hard, and continue to affect conduct long after they have ceased to be held as conscious beliefs. More than enough old-time bitterness lingered to make it hard for the two races to live together. It is to the credit of both that there has been so little friction. I do not forget the dastardly outrage of the burning of the Ursuline Convent in 1834, nor the Know-nothing movement of 1853-59, nor the ridiculous A. P. A. agitation which for a brief time held so large an apparent place in our political life, and which was snuffed out by a word from that typical descendant of the Puritans, the late Senator Hoar. Nor do I forget the wrongs that have been done upon the other side, when the Irishman, secure of a local majority, has seemed at times to desire to make so much of the government as he controlled an oligarchy for the benefit of men of his own race. But, after all, what has been done wrong on the one side or the other has been insignificant as compared to the whole. I know of no other community where a new race has come in beside, and to some extent supplanted an old, where there has been not only no bloodshed, but so little injustice done to individuals. That it should have been possible is, I think, one of the greatest glories of our American institutions.

So far I have spoken only of the Irishman and the Yankee, because that was the relation where the problem first arose and where it has advanced furthest toward its solution. But the same thing applies to a greater or lesser extent to the relations of each of the various races which make up our people to the other. It is not, and cannot, be always easy for Irishman and Italian, Jew and Syrian to understand one another, and the existence of these divisions enormously adds to our difficulties in political action.

Further, the social and economic tendencies of the times tend to divide us. Boston often seems to me less a city than a collection of villages, each leading a life nearly separate from the rest. A man may be unknown in Brighton whose name is one to conjure with in South Boston, and the political control of Ward 8 by no means necessarily carries with it any appreciable strength in the Back Bay. It is often laughable to anyone who knows the real facts to see the aspect in which a leader in one section of the community appears to the dwellers in another. It is like the story in the "Arabian Nights" where the place of villain is discharged by the Christian champion Luca Ben Shemlook, "who was so ugly that the sight of him was more painful than parting from the beloved." It is lack of personal knowledge, indeed, that is at the root of almost all racial and political hatreds. "I hate a Spaniard," says Mr. Dooley; "I niver see wan." And only in this happy state of complete ignorance can the flower of hatred reach its full perfection. With us, therefore, it can never go far, for, in spite of the divisions among us, our lives are so inevitably entwined that each of us in his pleasures or his work comes to know men of a different kind from his own, and knowing them comes to like them. I have known many men who professed to dislike all those of a race different from their own, but never one who did not find exceptions to his rule—his clerk, who, though an Irishman, was as good a man as you could wish to know, or some Italian merchant whom he had found fair and just in all his dealings. And so in the great crucible of our Commonwealth the different kinds of men that make up our population are being mingled to make up the people that is to be a people which one dares to hope will be stronger and better than any one of the races that have gone to its making. Such a work takes time. We are too apt to be in a hurry in such matters, to forget that in the life of a State a generation is only as is a minute in the life of a man. We must be patient while the Lord does his work in his own way.

Even while we are waiting there is much that is good. When in the fullness of time we are moulded into one people we shall lose many things we now have. In the differences that now exist there is a variety and a romance that add infinitely to the richness of our lives. A man must be dull, indeed, who does not find a stimulus in the varied life about him in our city. Who can walk through the Italian quarter and see the bright colors of the women and watch the picturesque aspect of these children of an older civilization than ours unmoved? Who does not feel the charm of the Celtic humor that enriches everything it touches? Who does not admire the keen ambition of the Jew and delight in the shrewd wit of the few survivors of the old Yankee stock?

Nor is there any reason while we wait that we should not work well together in the task the Lord has given us. Perfect understanding is not needed for successful co-operation. If it were there would be no such thing as a successful marriage, for every woman is at times an insoluble enigma even to the man who loves her best, and every man a marvel of stupidity to the woman nearest to him. And yet somehow men and women do continue to live and work together. So it is with our various races and classes. We are able to live and work together not because we are alike, but because we are united by a common devotion to the Commonwealth that is the mother of us all. We only need to look about us to see the proofs of that devotion. We owe the success of our City Hospital, the municipal institution in which we feel the greatest pride, in great part to a Jew. An Italian, the late George A. Scigliano, in a career unfortunately cut short by death, gave us one of the highest examples of intelligent and successful citizenship. Only the other day when the great fire in Chelsea called forth the need for prompt action, the first two men to reach the Mayor's office were a Yankee of the old stock and a man of Irish descent, and in meeting the need that followed that disaster were found representatives of every race, class and religion within our midst.

Thank God, respect and liking between race and race is steadily increasing, and common action for the common good grows easier day by day as mutual understanding grows. Toward that mutual understanding let each of us do his best to contribute. Let us strive to sympathize with the point of view of men unlike ourselves and to be generous in our interpretation of their words and action; let us look to it that we are just toward each race and class of our fellow citizens, and that we each of us try rather to see what service our own class and race can give the Commonwealth rather than what they can get out of it.

For in whatever else we may differ, we are all united in love for our State and country and belief in the democratic ideal that underlies both. In that we are all united as no other people is united. In every other nation party is divided from party in irreconcilable differences as to what the State should be. Here in America such differences do not exist. There are indeed men enough who seek for some gain for themselves or their class at the expense of the common good. Human selfishness is not dead or likely to die. But apart from an eccentric individual here and there, there are none who do not accept in full the democratic theory. And the men who lead us, whether they come like Lincoln, self-raised and self-taught, from the poor, or like Roosevelt from the ranks of the well-to-do, whether they are English, Irish or Dutch by descent, are Americans, and one and all alike believe in the ideal of equality of opportunity to every man, of whatever fortune, race or creed. That great ideal we owe to the men in whose honor we are gathered here to-day. Not knowing what they did, they founded a mighty nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the great principle that all men are created equal.

Let us go from this ceremonial in their honor highly resolved that we shall go forward with humility and courage in the noble path on which they dared to set the feet of our Commonwealth.

OLD COLONY STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

FOURTH LOCATION.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, June 15, 1908.

The Committee on Railroads, to whom was recommitment — June 8 — the petition of the Old Colony Street Railway Company for leave to lay single tracks in Forest Hills square and Walk Hill street, having further considered the subject, respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

For the Committee,

W. PRENTISS PARKER,
Chairman.

Accepted.

Ordered, That in addition to the rights heretofore granted to the Old Colony Street Railway Company for locations for tracks in the streets of the City of Boston, said company shall have the right to construct, maintain and use an alteration of its existing locations as follows: A single track from and connecting with the proposed relocated tracks of the West End Street Railway Company in Forest Hills square, to and connecting with the existing single track in Hyde Park avenue. Also an addition to its existing locations, as follows: A single track on Walk Hill street, from and connecting with the existing tracks on Washington street, to and connecting with the existing tracks in Hyde Park avenue, south of Walk Hill street; all substantially as shown by red lines on plan of A. L. Plimpton, dated May 12, 1908, together with all necessary curves, cross-overs, switches and connections; said alteration to take the place of existing tracks shown by black lines on the said plan, which is deposited in the office of the Superintendent of Streets.

And the consent of the Board of Aldermen is granted to said company to establish and maintain the overhead single trolley electric system of motive power in the operation of its cars on said location, and to erect, maintain and use iron poles, not less than twenty feet in height, at places indicated by red dots or circles on the aforesaid plan, or at such other places, to be shown by blue dots or circles on said plan, as may be approved by the Superintendent of Streets, and to place on said poles such wires and other appliances as the Commissioner of Wires shall approve.

The right to lay down the tracks located by this order is upon condition that the whole work of laying the same, the form of rail to be used, and the kind and quality of material used in paving said tracks, and the kind and locations of poles, shall be under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets, and shall be approved by him. Also upon condition that said railway company shall accept this order, and shall file such acceptance with the City Clerk in accordance with the provisions of Statute Law, otherwise it shall be null and void.

The whole work authorized to be done under the provisions of this order shall be completed within one year from the date of the passage of this order.

HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD,
Mayor of the City of Boston :

SIR, — The undersigned, in compliance with chapter 6, section 7, Revised Ordinances of 1898, herewith presents an exhibit of the General and Special Appropriations for the present financial year of 1908-1909, as shown in the books in his office, July 1, 1908, including the July draft — being six months' drafts — exhibiting the original appropriations, the balances brought forward from 1907-1908, the amounts drawn July 1, the total expenditures, and the balance of each appropriation unexpended at that date; also a statement of the Debt, Sinking-Funds and Right to Borrow, June 30, 1908.

The July Draft comprises special payments and weekly pay-rolls during the month of June and pay-rolls and bills payable July 1, 1908.

Respectfully submitted,

J. ALFRED MITCHELL,
City Auditor.

FIFTH LOCATION.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, July 6, 1908.

The Committee on Public Improvements, to whom was referred — July 6 — the petition of the Old Colony Street Railway Company for leave to construct a turn-out on Centre street, north of Baker street, having considered the subject, respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

For the Committee,

JOHN E. BALDWIN,

Ordered, That in addition to the rights heretofore granted to the Old Colony Street Railway Company for locations for tracks in the streets of the City of Boston, said company shall have the right to construct, maintain and use a turn-out on Centre street, West Roxbury District, north of Baker street, together with all necessary curves, cross-overs, switches and connections, said tracks being shown by red lines on a plan made by A. L. Plimpton, dated June 10, 1908, and deposited in the office of the Superintendent of Streets.

And the consent of the Board of Aldermen is granted to said company to establish and maintain the overhead single trolley electric system of motive power in the operation of its cars on said location, and to erect, maintain and use iron poles, not less than twenty feet in height, at places indicated by red dots or circles on the aforesaid plan, or at such other places, to be shown by blue dots or circles on said plan, as may be approved by the Superintendent of Streets, and to place on said poles such wires and other appliances as the Commissioner of Wires shall approve.

The right to lay down the tracks located by this order is upon condition that the whole work of laying the same, the form of rail to be used, and the kind and quality of material used in paving said tracks, and the kind and locations of poles, shall be under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets, and shall be approved by him. Also upon condition that said railway company shall accept this order, and shall file such acceptance with the City Clerk in accordance with the provisions of Statute Law, otherwise it shall be null and void.

The whole work authorized to be done under the provisions of this order shall be completed within one year from the date of the passage of this order.

Passed.

Approved by the Acting Mayor July 16, 1908.

AUDITOR'S MONTHLY EXHIBIT.

GENERAL AND SPECIAL APPROPRIATIONS

FOR 1908-1909.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT,
CITY HALL, BOSTON, August 1, 1908.

HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — The undersigned, in compliance with chapter 6, section 7, Revised Ordinances of 1898, herewith presents an exhibit of the General and Special Appropriations for the present financial year of 1908-1909, as shown in the books in his office, August 1, 1908, including the August draft — being seven months' drafts—exhibiting the original appropriations, the balances brought forward from 1907-1908, the amounts drawn August 1, the total expenditures, and the balance of each appropriation unexpended at that date; also a statement of the Debt, Sinking-Funds and Right to Borrow, July 31, 1908.

The August Draft comprises special payments and weekly pay-rolls during the month of July and pay-rolls and bills payable August 1, 1908.

Respectfully submitted,

J. ALFRED MITCHELL,
City Auditor.

AUDITOR'S MONTHLY EXHIBIT.

GENERAL AND SPECIAL APPROPRIATIONS

FOR 1908-1909.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT,
CITY HALL, BOSTON, September 1, 1908.

HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — The undersigned, in compliance with chapter 6, section 7, Revised Ordinances of 1898, herewith presents an exhibit of the General and Special Appropriations for the present financial year of 1908-1909, as shown in the books in his office, September 1, 1908, including the September draft — being eight months' drafts — exhibiting the original appropriations, the balances brought forward from 1907-1908, the amounts drawn September 1, the total expenditures, and the balance of each appropriation unexpended at that date; also a statement of the Debt, Sinking-Funds and Right to Borrow, August 31, 1908.

The September Draft comprises special payments and weekly pay-rolls during the month of August and pay-rolls and bills payable September 1, 1908.

Respectfully submitted,

J. ALFRED MITCHELL,
City Auditor.

AUDITOR'S MONTHLY EXHIBIT.

GENERAL AND SPECIAL APPROPRIATIONS

FOR 1908-1909.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT,
CITY HALL, BOSTON, October 1, 1908.

HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD,

Mayor of the City of Boston :

SIR, — The undersigned, in compliance with chapter 6, section 7, Revised Ordinances of 1898, herewith presents an exhibit of the General and Special Appropriations for the present financial year of 1908-1909, as shown in the books in his office, October 1, 1908, including the October draft — being nine months' drafts — exhibiting the original appropriations, the balances brought forward from 1907-1908, the amounts drawn October 1, the total expenditures, and the balance of each appropriation unexpended at that date; also a statement of the Debt, Sinking-Funds and Right to Borrow, September 30, 1908.

The October Draft comprises special payments and weekly pay-rolls during the month of September and pay-rolls and bills payable October 1, 1908.

Respectfully submitted,

J. ALFRED MITCHELL,
City Auditor.

MESSAGE OF THE MAYOR TRANSMITTING COMMUNICATION FROM THE STREET LAYING-OUT DEPARTMENT RELATIVE TO THE SALE OR EXCHANGE OF CITY PROPERTY ON CAMBRIDGE STREET, WARD 25.

CITY OF BOSTON,
IN COMMON COUNCIL, June 18, 1908.

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Grounds be requested, through His Honor the Mayor, to make the necessary arrangements towards the sale or exchange of the city property on Cambridge street, between Lincoln and Mansfield streets, Ward 25, in return for the plot of land bounded by Western avenue, North Harvard street and Spurr street and to cause said plot to be laid out as a public square.

IN COMMON COUNCIL, June 18, 1908.

Referred to His Honor the Mayor.

A true copy.

Attest:

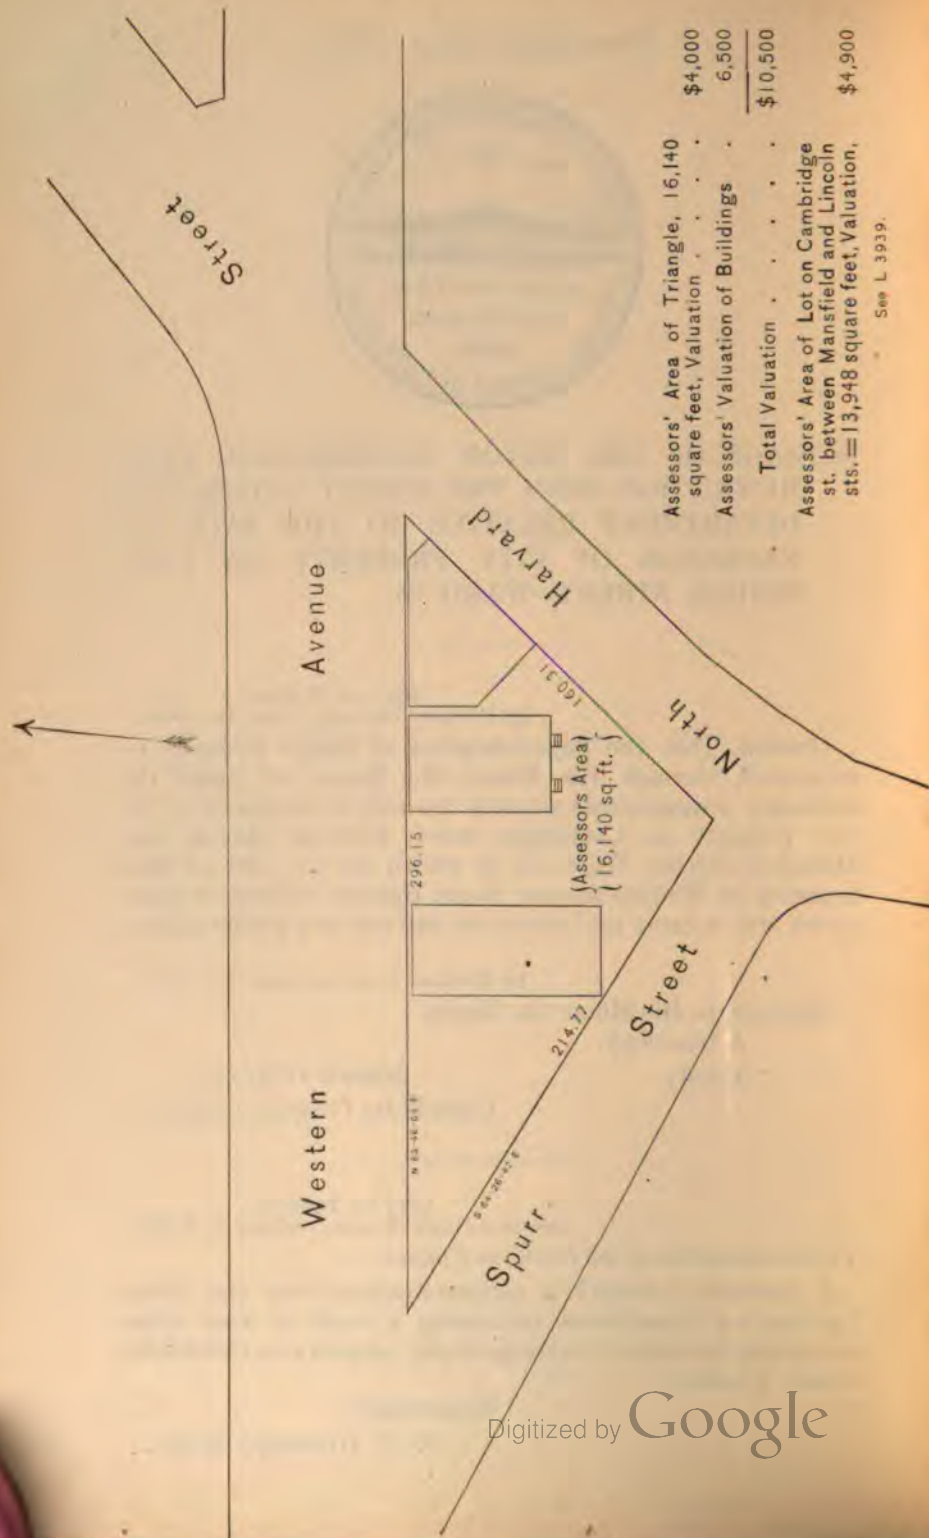

JOSEPH O'KANE,
Clerk of the Common Council.

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR, October 1, 1908.

To the Gentlemen of the Common Council:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Street Laying-Out Department containing a reply to your order requesting the sale or exchange of city property on Cambridge street, Ward 25.

Respectfully,
G. A. HIBBARD, Mayor.

CITY OF BOSTON,
STREET LAYING-OUT DEPARTMENT,
CITY HALL, ROOM 38, August 25, 1908.

HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD, Mayor:

DEAR SIR, — In reply to the enclosed order of the Common Council, requesting that an exchange of land be made in the Brighton district, the Board begs leave to submit the following facts:

The land which the city owns on Cambridge street, between Mansfield and Lincoln streets, contains 13,948 square feet, and it has no buildings thereon. It has an assessed value of $4,900.

The private land which the order seeks to obtain for the city's land has an area of 16,140 feet besides buildings. The land is assessed for $4,000 and the buildings for $6,500, a total assessed valuation of $10,500, a difference in favor of the private land of $5,600.

It is fair to presume that if an exchange was to be made the owners of the private land would want much more than the assessed valuation of their property. There is no money available to pay the difference, as far as the Board knows, and the Board is of the opinion that there is no public necessity for the exchange.

Very respectfully,

J. J. O'CALLAGHAN,
Secretary.

IN COMMON COUNCIL, October 1, 1908.

Ordered to be printed and placed on file.

JOSEPH O'KANE,
Clerk of the Common Council.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON MARKET
DEPARTMENT RELATIVE TO RENEWAL OF LEASES IN FANEUIL HALL AND QUINCY MARKET BUILDINGS.

CITY OF BOSTON,
IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, October 5, 1908.

The Committee on Market Department, to whom was referred, September 14, a message from the Mayor relative to the market leases (Appendix A) and a report of the Finance Commission, referred June 18, relative to the same (Appendix B), having considered the subject, respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

For the Committee

WALTER BALLANTYNE, Chairman.

Councilmen McCormack, Costello and O'Brien (18) dissent.

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Markets be authorized, with the approval of the Mayor to renew for a term of ten years, from January 1, 1909, all leases of space in the Faneuil Hall and Quincy market buildings; the aggregate amount received by the city as rentals to be 12½ per cent. more per annum than was received per annum under the leases of the preceding five years; and the amount of rental per annum for the space occupied by the Ames Plow Company to be $5,000.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, October 5, 1905.

The report of the committee, with accompanying papers, was ordered printed, and specially assigned to the next meeting.

Attest:

JOHN T. PRIEST, City clerk

APPENDIX A.

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR, September 14, 1908.

To the Gentlemen of the City Council:

On June 9, 1908, the Finance Commission submitted a report on the subject of the leases of the Faneuil Hall and Quincy Market buildings together with a report of experts appointed by them for the purpose of thoroughly investigating the existing conditions. No action has been taken on this report by the City Council. The leases expired on April 1, 1907, and they have not since been renewed.

I recommend that the matter be given early attention, and it is my belief that the recommendation of the Commission that the rentals be increased 12½ per cent. is fair, but I do not agree that tenants occupying space under the sidewalk should pay additional rent therefor. I am also in accord with the recommendation that the rent of the Ames Plow Company be increased from $3,300 per annum to $5,000 per annum.

The tenants occupying space under the sidewalk have had the excavations made at their own expense, and it does not seem fair to me, owing to the restrictions placed upon them, that they should be compelled to pay additional rent for this space.

I also recommend that the leases be drawn up for a term of years, at least ten, that the tenants may have a feeling of security, and base their business expectations accordingly.

Respectfully,

G. A. Hibbard,
Mayor.

APPENDIX B.

BOSTON FINANCE COMMISSION,
434-8 TREMONT BUILDING,
BOSTON, June 9, 1908.

To the Honorable the Mayor and City Council:

GENTLEMEN, — The Finance Commission submits herewith a report on the subject of the leases of the Faneuil Hall and Quincy Market buildings.

For many years the amount which the city should charge its tenants in these buildings has been the subject of controversy. As recently as the year 1902 the rentals were increased 30 per cent. pursuant to an order of the City Council, and leases for five years were executed accordingly. These leases expired on April 1, 1907, and they have not since been renewed, the tenants meanwhile being tenants at will and paying the old rates.

Early in 1907 the Committee on Market Department of the City Council considered the question of rentals and employed a real estate expert to assist them. On June 4, 1907, the expert made his report, and recommended an increase of the rentals in both markets of  $9\frac{9}{16}$  per cent. A majority of the committee on December 23, 1907, reported to the Board of Aldermen in favor of an increase of 30 per cent., and another order for a renewal at the existing rates was considered, but no action was taken on either proposition, and the subject was referred to the next city government.

On February 15, 1908, the Finance Commission requested the aid of real estate experts in the determination of the value and proper duration of the market leases. Messrs. Edmund D. Codman, Russell G. Fessenden and Leslie C. Wead kindly consented to serve, and made the necessary investigation. Their report and recommendations were submitted to the Commission on May 29 last. These gentlemen made a careful examination of the whole subject, and for this valuable service, rendered without compensation, they are entitled to the thanks of the community.

It is recommended by these gentlemen that the rentals now charged in both markets for stalls and cellars be increased  $12\frac{1}{2}$  per cent., and that in addition the tenants now occupying space under the sidewalks, but paying no rent therefor, be charged fifty cents a square foot for such space. To give the tenants a sense of security, while assuring stability to the city's investment, it is recommended that leases be executed on the above basis for a term of ten years. It is recommended that no increase be made in the charges for sidewalk privileges, and that the hours of opening and closing the markets remain as at present.

It is also recommended that the rent of the premises now occupied by the Ames Plow Company be increased from $3,300 to $5,000 per annum.

The report is based not on the utmost which the city as a landlord may expect from its tenants, but on the rentals which in their judgment are just to both.

The Commission concurs in these recommendations, and commends the report of the Committee to the careful consideration of the Mayor and City Council.

These changes will increase the city's annual income from the market from \$114,129 to \$131,198, an advance of \$17,069, or about 15 per cent. over the present revenues, and  $49\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. over those of March 30, 1902.\* On the basis of a fair valuation of the property the net return will be about 4 per cent. As the buildings are so constructed that the rents for the second floor are necessarily low, and as no rent is received for space above the second floor, an income of 4 per cent. on a fair valuation is as much as may reasonably be expected under existing circumstances.

Appended hereto is a copy of the report of the Committee.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

by NATHAN MATTHEWS,

Chairman.

Boston, May 29, 1908.

434 Tremont Building, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIRs, — On February 15 your Commission requested us to consider and report upon the following questions regarding Boston public markets:

1. What rentals should be charged for the stalls?
The Commission suggests that in answering this question it will be well to give heed, not only to the fair market value of the stalls, but to the importance of maintaining a high class of tenants.
2. The proper length of the leases.
3. What restrictions may judiciously be imposed for humanitarian reasons? A measure recently before the City Council contemplated the closing of the market between 6 A.M. and 7 A.M. and on Wednesday afternoons. Is this wise? Can a landlord accomplish in this way the purpose he intends, or will the result simply be to throw the business to competitors outside the market?
4. Is the upper floor of Quincy Market leased at satisfactory rentals?

In pursuance of this request we have held numerous conferences; we have requested the city officials to furnish us with detailed information regarding existing leases, rentals and expenses of the markets; we have notified His Honor the Mayor that we were prepared to receive any suggestions bearing upon this subject which might be submitted by any representative of the city; we have given one hearing, which was attended by about sixty of the lessees of the market, who have supplied us with a large amount of information in response to certain questions left with them, and another hearing at which the employees of the market were requested to appear and advise regarding the change in the hours for opening the markets; we have personally visited the markets and neighboring properties to observe the conditions of the trade; we have consulted with owners of other properties regarding the rentals which they obtain; we have had a conference with the representative of the Ames Plow Company, tenants of the upper part of Fanueil Hall Market, and we submit herewith a statement of our recommendations; and, supplementary thereto, a summary of the facts presented to us, setting forth the basis for our conclusions. We also submit the following papers:*

* These papers were not submitted by the Finance Commission to the City Council.

Plan of the market and neighboring properties, with assessed values for 1906.

Answers to twenty-two questions submitted by us to a committee of the marketmen.

Letters from George E. McKay, Superintendent of Markets, and sundry memoranda furnished by him regarding areas, rentals, expenses, etc.

Letter under date of April 13, from the President, Treasurer and Directors of the Ames Plow Company.

Letter from James A. Gallivan, Street Commissioner, with copies of communications from Stephen O'Meara, Police Commissioner.

Letters from Fourth National Bank and Faneuil Hall National Bank regarding the value of leases.

Blank form of market lease now in use.

Document 100, 1907, giving schedule of the leases of stalls and cellars.

Document 133, 1907, report of committee on market department relative to leases.

Form of application to Street Commissioners for sidewalk privileges.

List of charges made by Street Commissioners for sidewalk privileges in certain cases selected for purposes of comparison.

First. — In answer to question 1: The rentals now charged for space in both markets ought to be increased both on stalls and cellars by adding  $12\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. to existing rentals; and to this should be added fifty cents per foot for space under the sidewalks occupied by tenants, for which no charge is now made. For sidewalk privileges no increase is recommended. While you have not asked us to report upon the last two items, we supposed this was an oversight, and have, therefore, taken them into consideration.

It is probable that most of the lessees would pay a larger increase rather than move, but we have recommended an increase to what we consider to be the fair market value of the space under consideration, and have left it to your discretion whether an attempt should be made to obtain more. We do not recommend a larger increase, however, because the aggregate net return from the market, with the increase suggested, compares favorably with the return upon the value of other property and with rentals obtained for similar property in the neighborhood. It also appears that a considerable number of the lessees, some of whom have borrowed money, assigning their leases as collateral, are finding it difficult to conduct their business with profit, and any greater increase in their rentals might work a hardship which would result in the surrender of the leases. The more important tenants, whose business has been long established, could easily afford to pay even higher rentals, but it seems probable that some of these, a large part of whose business is done outside the market, would seriously consider the abandonment of the market rather than to add materially to the rentals which they now pay. It therefore seems not only just to the weaker tenants that no radical increase of rentals should be required, but it seems also to be wise policy for the city not to disturb the larger tenants, whose financial responsibility and reputation count for much in maintaining the high character of the market and of the surrounding property in which the city is naturally, to a large extent, interested.

Second. — In answer to question 2: The tenants express themselves as favoring a longer tenure than has heretofore been given under leases. A term of ten years seems to us to be fair to both parties, particularly when it is considered that there is a strong feeling that the growth of the market business in the near future will be by the establishment of neighborhood markets in residential sections, and that there may be a corresponding diminution in the business of the central markets. The leases for the longer term would give more stability to the city enterprise and to values of surrounding property, while giving assurance of greater permanency to the tenants. The leases should date from the time when the new schedule goes into effect.

Third. — In answer to question 3: There seems to be no present demand from any source for a change in the hours when the market shall be open. Both lessees and employees express themselves as satisfied with these hours, although in many cases the lessees are placed at a disadvantage in competition with their neighbors who have no restrictions as to the time when they may occupy their premises for the conduct of their business.

We find that in the construction and remodelling of the market little attention has been paid to the provision of toilet facilities, and that, although a large number of women are employed in various capacities by the lessees, no toilet rooms have been provided for them. The rectification of this defect seems to be imperatively demanded.

Fourth. — In answer to question 4: The upper floor of Quincy Market does not yield an adequate return. There are about 22,000 square feet of rentable space, for which the city receives about $5,600. Of this, $1,800 is paid by the Fruit and Produce Exchange for a net space of about 4,500 feet, or about 40 cents per square foot. The Ames Plow Company occupies about 17,000 feet on the second floor and substantially the entire attic at a rental of $3,300, which is less than 20 cents per foot, without taking into account the attic, which, however, has but small value. Some small offices are also rented at rates which appear to be fairly satisfactory.

The space occupied by the Ames Plow Company is divided, about 13,600 feet being west of that occupied by the Fruit and Produce Exchange, and 3,400 feet being at the easterly end of the building, having no connection with the larger portion except through the attic, and having such entrances as to make it unavailable for any use except for storage. It has been suggested that a part or all of this easterly section might be rented to the Fruit and Produce Exchange — possibly at the rental at the same rate per foot as that paid for the portion now occupied by them. The Ames Plow Company, however, expresses an unwillingness to continue its tenancy if any part of the space it now occupies should be cut off. It is our opinion that, if this company should be willing to renew its lease for a satisfactory term at a rental of $5,000 per annum (an advance of about 50 per cent.) without calling upon the city to make any repairs, either at present or during the term of the lease, this would be fair to all parties concerned. This lease might be made as suggested by the officers of the Company, on the basis of an annual advance in the rental for a period of two or three years until the maximum of $5,000 should be reached.

The alternative to renewing this lease would be to take possession of the premises, making the necessary expenditure to put the second story in condition to be rented for offices or storerooms in connection with the market stalls and to lease them for such prices as could be obtained. We have not made any estimate of the expenditure required or the rental which could be obtained, and should not advise this step until after careful estimates and consultations with tenants of the stalls.

A wholly different solution of the problem would be the remodelling of the premises for use by the city in lieu of space now hired at higher rentals in outside buildings. We have not studied this with any care, as it did not seem to come within the scope of our investigation.

We call attention to the form of market lease now in use, and suggest that before new leases are made the Law Department should be requested to revise the form of lease.

We also call attention to that part of the bill submitted to the legislature last year by Police Commissioner O'Meara, which provides that the authority heretofore exercised by the City Council and the Superintendent of Markets in respect to the renting for market purposes of parts of buildings and premises owned by the city shall be hereafter vested in the Board of Street Commissioners. It seems to us that some body other than the City Council would be more competent to fix the rental. In any event two boards should not be allowed to charge rentals, as at present, when the Street Commissioners can add charges for sidewalk privileges to those already fixed by the City Council. No such change, however, should, in our opinion, include the abolition of the office of Superintendent of Markets.

Respectfully submitted,

BOSTON FINANCE COMMISSION — MARKET LEASES.

[Summary of facts upon which the recommendations regarding the rentals for market space are based.]

Prior to 1874 the assessors did not place any value on property which was exempt from taxation. The assessment of Faneuil Hall Market in various years since that date was as follows:

	Value Land.	Value Buildings.	Total Valuation.
1874.....	$550,000	$400,000	$950,000
1880.....	550,000	400,000	950,000
1880.....	767,200	400,000	1,167,200
1900.....	1,096,000	300,000	1,396,000
1907.....	1,534,400	300,000	1,834,400

In the valedictory address of Nathan Matthews, Jr., made to the City Council on January 5, 1895, and published by the city, is the following referring to Quincy Market:

The Quincy Market. — The next undertaking or investment of the kind under discussion was the establishment of the Quincy Market. This undertaking, begun during the elder Quincy's administration, had paid for itself by 1848, and has since yielded an aggregate profit above all expenses of nearly $3,000,000. Table 26 in the Appendix contains the accounts of the Quincy Market from 1825 to January 1, 1894, and may be summarized as follows:

	Principal.	Income.	Totals.
Payments.....	$1,240,280 62	$969,316 06	$2,209,596 68
Receipts.....	1,178,753 35	3,888,877 65	5,067,631 00
Balance.....	$61,527 27	$2,919,561 59	$2,858,034 32

The property consists of 27,400 square feet of land, assessed at $822,000, and of a building assessed at $300,000, making the total assessed value of the estate $1,122,000. The annual income exceeds the annual expenditure by about $57,000, which is a little over 5 per cent. on the assessors' valuation. Taking the loss in tax receipts due to its ownership by the city into account, the net profit to the city amounts to about three and three-quarters per cent. per annum. While this is less than the average return from private investments in land, yet it will hardly be denied that an undertaking which paid for itself in twenty years, which has since yielded and is still bringing in a net revenue of nearly $60,000 a year, and which furnishes public accommodations of great value, has been a success, regarded from the standpoint of a municipal investment.

In an appendix to this address is given in detail a list of the payments and receipts on account of the market from its building in 1825-26 down to and including the fiscal year 1893-94, from which the following information is taken:

The initial cost of the land, buildings, etc., in the fiscal year 1825-26 was	$532,797.33.
Additions were made at various times down to the year 1856-7, bringing the total up to	$1,240,280 62
The cost of repairs and alterations during the entire period covered by the statement amounted to	162,966 72
The charge for interest up to the year 1866-67 amounted to	384,365 27
Total cost of land, buildings, repairs, alterations, interest	$1,787,612 61
Against these were receipts from sales of land up to 1869-70	$1,178,753 35
Interest up to 1868-69	136,948 08
Total receipts on account of principal	$1,315,701 43

Showing the net cost of the property as it stood at the close of the fiscal year 1893-94 . . .	$471,911 18

The long market is about 50 feet wide, the central part of the building being 55 feet, by 534 feet long, the lot containing 27,400 square feet. There are 44 basement spaces, each being about 25 feet deep; 33 of these have areas under the sidewalks, excavated at the expense of the tenants and occupied without payment of rent. Total space excavated, 6,700 feet. Rental charged for basements is 95 cents a foot, exclusive of sidewalk privileges and space under sidewalks.

The stalls on the main floor are 17 feet deep, exclusive of walls, the main aisle being 11½ feet wide. There are 14,895 feet of net space in the stalls, which rents for $53,927, or $3.62 a foot. As a matter of custom, an average of $3.30 per foot is charged for the inside stalls, and $4.42 per foot for the stalls on the corners of passageways. The rentals charged for the stalls occupied by fish dealers are lower than the average, because the location is not considered as desirable.

New Faneuil Hall is about 81 feet by 103 feet, containing 8,460 square feet. The basement stalls are 35 feet deep and rent for 95 cents a foot. The stalls on the main floor contain 5,013 square feet and are from 13½ to 15 feet deep. The gross rental is $15,196, or $3 a foot. The rentals run from $2.75 a foot to $3.83 a foot, according to location.

For sidewalk privileges the following charges are made in both markets:

1. For use of sidewalks solely, the only restriction being that the tenant shall not interfere with passing, 25 cents for each foot of cellar occupied by tenant.

2. Plank floor in the street, 5 feet deep on North Market street and 8 feet deep on South Market street, and as wide as the cellar occupied by tenant, 20 cents for each foot of cellar occupied by the tenant.

3. When the latter is covered by a temporary roof, 45 cents instead of 20 cents.

The total amount collected for sidewalk privileges in Faneuil Hall Market is $10,246. An additional charge is made by the Street Commissioners for the use of sidewalks around New Faneuil Hall Market, as per list at the end of this report.

For the purpose of comparison, statements were prepared showing the rentals paid on a large number of estates on North Market street, South Market street, Faneuil Hall square, Dock square, Blackstone street and North street. These were all tabulated and the average returns for the separate localities were computed for comparison with like returns from the rentals of the market. Most of this information having been confidentially given to the committee, it is not deemed proper to report it in detail.

The figures for nine estates on North Market street, thirteen estates on South Market street, seven estates on Faneuil Hall square and Dock square, and six estates on Blackstone street have been tabulated, and the results are as follows:

LOCATION.	Area.	ASSESSMENTS.				RENTAL.
		Land.	Buildings.	Total.	Per Foot.	Gross.	Per Foot.	Per Cent. Assessment.
Nine estates on North Market street.....	11,960	$587,400	$76,700	$664,100	$55 52	$45,190	$3 77	6½
Thirteen estates on South Market street.....	19,485	809,400	137,700	947,100	48 66	60,811	3 12	6½
Seven estates on Faneuil Hall square and Dock square.....	15,527	772,300	75,700	848,000	54 61	47,415	3 05	5½
Six estates on Blackstone street.....	9,926	276,800	49,400	326,200	32 86	25,409	2 56	7½

In the foregoing tabulation, although most of the estates are leased at a net rental, the lessees paying the taxes, we have added the taxes for the current year so as to show the gross rental as forming a better basis of comparison with the market property. There are so few of these estates which are leased by the owners to separate tenants that no exact figures as to the rentals of separate portions are available, but it is found that most of these properties contain cellar, street floor and three and one-half stories of lofts, and the lofts rent for about $1 per foot of the ground covered. For the purposes of this comparison, therefore, the following figures, based on the land area, may be taken as about the average return of the ground floors and basements of these several properties:

North Market street . . . . .	$2.77 per foot.
South Market street . . . . .	2.12 "
Faneuil Hall square and Dock square . . . . .	2.05 "
Blackstone street . . . . .	1.56 "
Gross rentals for stalls and basement in Faneuil Hall Market, leaving out sidewalk privileges, is $74,946 for 27,400 feet . . . . .	2.74 "

A further comparison may be made between the three blocks between Merchants row and Commercial street, having frontages on North Market street and South Market street, as follows:

LOCATION.	Area.	ASSESSMENTS.
		Land.	Per Foot.	Buildings.	Per Foot.	Total.	Per Foot.
North Market-street Block, 23 estates...	28,311	$1,517,900	$53 61	$199,600	$7 05	$1,717,500	$60 66
South Market-street Block, 22 estates...	33,580	1,528,300	45 50	247,000	7 36	1,775,300	52 86
Faneuil Hall Market..	27,400	1,534,400	56 00	300,000	10 95	1,834,400	66 95

From these figures it will be observed that the assessors have placed a valuation on the market property considerably in excess of that of the neighboring properties, this excess applying both to land and buildings.

It will also be noted that the estates, the rentals of which are included in the foregoing list, on North Market street yield a gross return of 6.8 per cent. on the assessed value, and those on South Market street 6½ per cent., from which taxes are to be deducted to show a net return. In order to obtain a gross return equal to the similar return of the minimum figures above given, namely 6½ per cent. on the assessed value of $1,834,400, the rentals should amount to $120,279, but the return on this property is almost wholly from the cellars and first floor, so that to obtain a fair basis of comparison a further computation seems to be essential, and it has seemed proper to make the comparisons on the assessed value of the land, as the assessment on the building seems to us to be too high in proportion to its cost, and as compared with other buildings in the neighborhood.

As shown on page 9: Nine estates on North Market street, containing 11,960 feet, rent for $2.77 a foot = $33,129, which is 5.6 per cent. of the assessed valuation of the land.

Thirteen estates on South Market street, containing 19,485 feet, rent for $2.12 a foot = $41,408, which is 5.1 per cent. of the assessed valuation of the land.

Seven estates in Faneuil Hall square and Dock square, containing 15,227 feet, rent for $2.05 a foot = $31,215, which is 4.3 per cent. of the assessed valuation of the land.

Six estates on Blackstone street, containing 9,926 feet, rent for $1.56 a foot = $15,484, which is 5.6 per cent. of the assessed valuation of the land.

Faneuil Hall rents as follows:

Stalls . . . . .	$53,927
Basements, without sidewalk privileges . . . . .	21,029
Total . . . . .	$74,956

which is 4.9 per cent. of the assessed valuation of the land.

These comparisons, however, in a good many cases are based on the returns from the cellars and first floors as they actually exist in the older type of the buildings on North Market and South Market streets, the street floors being entered either on the sidewalk level or one step above it, so that the cellars are practically below the sidewalk level and the stores are very low studded, in most cases probably not exceeding nine feet in height.

On the other hand, the first floor of the market is about 24 feet above the sidewalk level, and the cellars have a correspondingly added height, while the ceiling of the market stalls is nearly 14 feet in height, offering additional space which is very generally occupied either for office or storage purposes. In addition to this, we think the location of the stalls in the market is a much better one than the location on North Market and South Market streets, and, further, it must be remembered that in the case of both basements and stalls the depth is much less than in the stores on North Market and South Market streets, which is a very important reason for a much larger rental. For these reasons, it would seem that both the cellars and stalls in the market have a rental value materially in excess of the rental value of similar spaces in outside buildings, with which the comparisons are made.

Mr. McKay, Superintendent of Markets, reports that 33 out of the 44 cellars have spaces under the sidewalk, 6 of them have about 300 feet each, 3 of them about 100 feet each, and the others from 113 to 250 feet each, mostly under 200 feet, making a total of about 6,700 feet. These excavations were made at the expense of the lessees, and no rental has ever been charged for them. In view of the fact that these sidewalks are within the market district and that definite rights in them can be conveyed by the city, so that the tenant can have the same tenure as in the cellar itself, it would seem proper that a rental should be paid for this space also.

It seems to us that a fair increase would be as follows:

Twelve and one-half per cent. for basements, making the rental about $1.07 a foot, which compares with the rental of from 80 cents to $1 per foot for basements on North Market and South Market streets, the cellars on these streets being respectively 60 and 50 feet deep, while the cellars in the long market are about 25 feet deep. To this we think should be added a charge of 50 cents per foot for the space under the sidewalks.

Twelve and one-half per cent. for the stalls, in view of the better location, greater stud, and more depth as compared with the North Market and South Market street stores. The rental would then figure as follows:

Stalls with 12½ per cent. increase . . . . .	$60,668
Cellars, 12½ per cent. increase . . . . .	23,655
6,700 feet under sidewalk at 50 cents . . . . .	3,350
Total . . . . .	<hr/> $87,673

which is 5.7 per cent. of assessed valuation of land, which compares with returns shown above on page 10, namely, 5.6 per cent. on North Market street, 5.1 per cent. on South Market street, 4.3 per cent. on Faneuil Hall square and Dock square, 5.6 per cent. on Blackstone street.

In this connection we would say that, especially on North Market and South Market streets, and in the case of Faneuil Hall Market, we think the assessments of the land show the relative differences in value. A recent sale on South Market street was at a price below the assessed valuation.

In regard to charge for sidewalk privileges, we find that for the use of the sidewalk solely the charge is about $3 a foot if the space occupied is 2 feet deep; $1.50 if 4 feet deep; and $1 a foot if 6 feet deep. These are roughly the same as charged by the Street Commissioners for space in the market section (see list at end of report) and we therefore would not advise changing them.

For use of space in the street, charges are as follows:

On North Market street, space 5 feet deep . . .	$1.00 a foot.
If covered . . . . .	2.25 "
On South Market street, space 8 feet deep . . .	.67 "
If covered . . . . .	1.40 "

These charges seem to us fair and we would not recommend any change.

The method of basing the charge for sidewalk privileges upon the area of the cellar seems unusual, but as the cellars are all of the same depth the result is the same as if the tenant were charged per square foot of sidewalk occupied, so we do not recommend changing the method.

For the outside stalls, five in number, we would leave the rentals as at present.

"New Faneuil Hall," so-called, covers an area of 8,460 square feet of land, and the areas and rentals are as follows:

Cellars,* 6,417 feet, rent for . . . . .	$5,942 25
Stalls, 5,013 feet . . . . .	15,196 00
Total . . . . .	$21,138 25

which is $2.50 per foot of the entire area, which compares with $2.74 per foot in the large market. The cellars rent for the same sum per foot as in the long market, and the stalls rent for $3 per foot as compared with $3.62 per foot in the long market. It has been generally agreed that the stalls in this market have less value than those in the large market, and this ratio between these rentals, as paid in the last six years, is a fair one, so that whatever increase may be made in the rentals in the large market the same increase should also be made in the little market.

The cellars, we think, are better located for business, but owing to greater depth the rental is larger than those in the long market, which would seem to make the relative charges fair. The cellars are now rented at approximately 95 cents per foot, an additional payment being made for sidewalk privileges. The total rental of cellars is $5,942.25, and of the sidewalk privileges $2,224.85.

* Not including sidewalk privileges.

The returns on New Faneuil Hall Market would be

Cellars, not including sidewalk privileges,	$6,684 78
Stalls . . . . .	17,095 50
Total . . . . .	$23,780 28

If the increases as recommended are adopted, the income to the city will be increased as follows:

Faneuil Hall Market.
Stalls . . . . .	$6,741 00
Basements . . . . .	2,626 00
Space under sidewalk . . . . .	3,350 00
	$12,717 00

New Faneuil Hall Market.
Stalls . . . . .	$1,899 50
Cellars . . . . .	742 53
Total . . . . .	$2,642 03

If the rentals be increased as recommended, Faneuil Hall Market would show a return as follows:

Stalls and cellars . . . . .	$87,673 00
Sidewalk privileges . . . . .	10,246 00
Ames Plow Company . . . . .	5,000 00
Other tenants, second floor . . . . .	2,275 00
	$105,194 00
Expense of Superintendent of Markets . . . . .	8,700 00
	$96,494 00
Taxes on land and buildings . . . . .	29,166 00
	$67,328 00

which is 3.6 per cent. on assessed value, or, if the building be figured as $150,000—which seems fairer than its present valuation of $300,000—about 4 per cent.

In view of the fact that the market buildings are so constructed that no income is available above second floor, the above percentage of return seems to us fully as much as can reasonably be expected.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, October 5, 1908.

The Committee on Public Improvements, to whom was referred — October 5 — the petition of the West End Street Railway Company for leave to construct temporary tracks on Hereford and Newbury streets and Massachusetts avenue, having further considered the subject, respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

For the Committee,

JOHN E. BALDWIN,

Chairman.

Ordered, That in addition to the rights heretofore granted to the West End Street Railway Company for locations for tracks in the streets of the City of Boston, said company shall have the right to construct, maintain and use temporarily, under the provisions of chapter 266 of the Acts of 1908, double tracks on Hereford and Newbury streets, from and connecting with the existing tracks on Boylston street by double curved tracks on the northeast corner of Boylston and Hereford streets, to and connecting with the existing tracks on Massachusetts avenue by double curved tracks at the southeast corner and also by double curved tracks at the northeast corner of Massachusetts avenue and Newbury street. Also a single track across Massachusetts-avenue bridge, so called, over the Boston & Albany Railroad, connecting with existing tracks at either end ; said tracks being shown by red lines on a plan made by A. L. Plimpton, dated September 4, 1908, and deposited in the office of the Superintendent of Streets.

And the consent of the Board of Aldermen is granted to said company to establish and maintain the overhead single trolley electric system of motive power in the operation of its cars on said location, and to erect, maintain and use iron poles, not less than twenty feet in height, at places indicated by red dots or circles on the aforesaid plan, or at such other places, to be shown by blue dots or circles on said plan, as may be approved by the Superintendent of Streets, and to place on said poles such wires and other appliances as the Commissioner of Wires shall approve.

The right to lay down the tracks located by this order is upon condition that the whole work of laying the same, the form of rail to be used, and the kind and quality of material used in paving said tracks, and the kind and locations of poles, shall be under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets, and shall be approved by him. Also upon condition that said railway company shall accept this order, and shall file such acceptance with the City Clerk in accordance with the provisions of Statute Law ; otherwise it shall be null and void.

The whole work authorized to be done under the provisions of this order shall be completed within one year from the date of the passage of this order.

CITY OF BOSTON,
SUPPLY DEPARTMENT, October 10, 1908.

HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD, Mayor of Boston :

DEAR SIR,—In reply to the enclosed request for “a comparison of the prices paid for oil to the Chicago Rawhide Manufacturing Company with the prices paid to concerns furnishing oil to the city immediately previous to the first purchases made from said company,” I submit herewith the information desired:

	Vacuum Oil Co.	Kehew-Bradley.	Chicago Rawhide Co.
Engine grease.....	15c. pound	8½c. pound	6c. pound
Track oil.....	18c. gallon		15c. gallon
Mineral seal oil.....	19c. “	15c. gallon	15c. “
Marine engine oil.....		19c. “	18c. “
Cylinder oil.....	65c. “	35c. “	32c. “
Special thrust bearing oil.....	45c. “	28c. “	24c. “
Extra winter strained lard oil*.....	91c. “	76c. “	75c. “

* The price of lard oil fluctuates with the lard market; the city has within a year paid as high as 96c.

Respectfully,

WALTER F. BURK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

CITY OF BOSTON,
STREET DEPARTMENT, BRIDGE DIVISION,
926, 927 AND 928 TREMONT BUILDING,
BOSTON, September 16, 1908.

MR. GUY C. EMERSON,

Superintendent of Streets:

DEAR SIR, — I return herewith order of the Council, dated May 14th, introduced by Councilman Noonan, and referred by your office to this division for report.

This order asks for the name of every vessel, with its cargo, its measurements, and time of passage, going through each drawbridge on Fort Point Channel during the week beginning June 2, 1907.

I beg to state that no record is made of the measurements of vessels going through the bridges, except the draft, and, in case of any doubt, the beam. In some cases there is no record of the draft.

I submit herewith a table showing all the information desired as far as the records in the possession of this division show.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS H. SEXTON,

Deputy Superintendent.

TWO HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-FOURTH LOCATION.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, October 12, 1908.

The Committee on Railroads, to whom was recommitted — October 5 — the petition of the West End Street Railway Company for leave to relocate a single curved track at corner of Providence and Church streets, Ward 10, having further considered the subject, respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

For the Committee,

W. PRENTISS PARKER,
Chairman.

Ordered, That in addition to the rights heretofore granted to the West End Street Railway Company for locations for tracks in the streets of the City of Boston, said company shall have the right to construct, maintain and use an alteration of its existing location as follows: Single curved track at the corner of Providence and Church streets, connecting with existing tracks there situate; said track being shown by red lines on a plan made by A. L. Plimpton, dated August 20, 1908, and deposited in the office of the Superintendent of Streets.

And the consent of the Board of Aldermen is granted to said company to establish and maintain the overhead single trolley electric system of motive power in the operation of its cars on said location, and to erect, maintain and use iron poles, not less than twenty feet in height, at places indicated by red dots or circles on the aforesaid plan, or at such other places, to be shown by blue dots or circles on said plan, as may be approved by the Superintendent of Streets, and to place on said poles such wires and other appliances as the Commissioner of Wires shall approve.

The right to lay down the tracks located by this order is upon condition that the whole work of laying the same, the form of rail to be used, and the kind and quality of material used in paving said tracks, and the kind and locations of poles, shall be under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets, and shall be approved by him. Also upon condition that said railway company shall accept this order, and shall file such acceptance with the City Clerk in accordance with the provisions of Statute Law; otherwise it shall be null and void.

The whole work authorized to be done under the provisions of this order shall be completed within one year from the date of the passage of this order.

Passed. Approved by the Mayor, October 20, 1908.

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR, October 22, 1908.

To the Gentlemen of the Common Council:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Statistics Department containing a reply to your order requesting a copy of the will of the late Peter Brent Brigham.

Respectfully,

G. A. HIBBARD,
Mayor.

Memorandum.

Peter Brent Brigham, died May 24, 1877. His will, dated May 2, 1877, named Robert Codman and Joseph Healy of Boston as executors of his will. See copy of will accompanying this memorandum.

Under the will, on February 7, 1901, Edmund D. Codman, Laurence H. H. Johnson were appointed Trustees. Article 8 of the will provides for the formation twenty-five years after the decease of Peter B. Brigham of a corporation to be called the Brigham Hospital. The corporation of the Hospital consists, at present, of the following-named gentlemen: William Ropes, Alexander Cochrane, Edmund D. Codman, Eben S. Draper, Augustus Hemenway, Walter Hunnewell, Henry S. Howe, L. H. H. Johnson. President of the corporation is Alexander Cochrane. L. H. H. Johnson is Secretary. Edmund D. Codman is Treasurer.

By the Acts of 1902, chapter 418, Peter Brent Brigham Hospital is authorized to hold real and personal estate to an amount not exceeding $5,000,000 in value.

City Council Minutes of 1906, see pages 34 and 35, contain an opinion of Mr. Babson, the Corporation Counsel, addressed to the Board of Aldermen, as to the legal status of the Peter Brent Brigham fund and the corporation which controls it.

For discussion relating to the Brigham Hospital fund in the Board of Aldermen, December 29, 1905, see pages 637 to 640, City Council Minutes, 1905.

EDWARD M. HARTWELL,

OCTOBER 21, 1908.

Be it remembered that I, Peter B. Brigham of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do make publish and ordain this my last will and testament, in manner and form following, that is to say:

First. I direct that all the just debts I shall owe at the time of my decease and also my funeral expenses, shall be paid out of my estate by my Executors hereinafter named as soon after my decease as shall be found convenient.

Second. I direct my said Executors, if I shall not make provision therefor in my lifetime, to pay to the corporation owning Mount Auburn Cemetery, such sum of money as it shall deem requisite for the purpose of keeping perpetually in good order and repair my tomb and lot numbered 2438, and situated on Magnolia Avenue so-called in said cemetery. I direct that no body shall be interred therein, except that of myself and that of my sister, Mrs. Sarah B. Jacobs, except upon the written order of my said sister.

Third. All debts owing to me at the time of my decease from my brother, Josiah Fay Brigham shall be cancelled and discharged, and my brother aforesaid fully released from any and all obligation therefor.

Fourth. I give and bequeath to my nephew, Albert Gallatin Brigham, the sum of five thousand dollars.

Fifth. I give and bequeath to Joel Powers of Lowell in said Commonwealth the sum of five hundred dollars.

Sixth. I give and bequeath to Bridget McAlana who was formerly a servant in my family, the sum of one thousand dollars.

Seventh. I give and bequeath to Bridget Doherty, a servant in my family, the sum of one thousand dollars.

Eighth. I give and bequeath to Ellen Doherty, a servant in my family, the sum of one thousand dollars.

Ninth. I give and bequeath to Thomas Holyer, a servant in my family, the sum of one thousand dollars.

Tenth. I give and bequeath to Lewis Jenkins of Boston who was formerly in my employ for about twenty-five years, the sum of one thousand dollars.

Eleventh. I direct my said Executors to reserve from my estate the sum of five thousand dollars for the benefit of Joshua B. Smith of Cambridge, in said Commonwealth, which said sum they shall pay to him, or to any other person or persons for his benefit, in such manner and at such times, either paying the whole thereof at once, or in instalments, or withholding the same altogether as they shall deem fit, it being my intention that the said Smith shall have the use and enjoyment of said legacy and that it shall not be liable for any debts he may owe, or to be taken by or for any of his creditors.

Twelfth. I give and bequeath to the Town of Bakersfield in the County of Franklin, in the State of Vermont, the sum of forty thousand dollars to be held and used by said Town for the following uses and purposes, and none other, viz.: The sum of ten thousand dollars shall be safely invested as a permanent fund, and the income thereof shall be expended to keep in good order and condition, the graves of my parents, brothers and sisters, and the burying ground generally, in which they are interred in said Bakersfield. The remaining thirty thousand dollars of said sum shall also be invested as a permanent fund, which shall be called the Brigham School Fund, and the income thereof shall be expended for educational purposes, either in the district schools, or for a school of higher grade, as the said Town shall from time to time determine.

Thirteenth. I give, devise and bequeath to my sister the said Sarah B. Jacobs, my horses, carriages, sleighs, robes and harnesses, and my right, title and interest, being the proportion of four stalls, in the club stable, so-called, which is situated on the corner of Chardon and Hawkins streets in said Boston.

Fourteenth. All the rest and residue of my property and estate of every kind and description, real, personal, and mixed of which I shall die seized or possessed, or to which I shall be entitled at the time of my decease, I direct my said Executors to take, hold, manage and invest, for the term of twenty-five years from the time of my decease, and to take the rents, interest, income and profits thereof, and from the net income thereof to appropriate and pay as follows, that is to say:

1. They shall pay to my sister, the said Sarah B. Jacobs the sum of five hundred dollars in each and every month during her natural life.

2. They shall pay to my niece Sarah Jane Brigham Kendall the sum of two thousand dollars annually during her life, in equal quarter annual payments, and at her decease they shall distribute the sum of thirty-two thousand dollars to and among her children or child, if any, who shall survive her. If she leave no child living at her decease, this legacy to her children shall lapse.

3. They shall pay to my niece Roxana Brigham Hankinson, the sum of two thousand dollars annually during her life, in equal quarter-annual payments, and at her decease they shall distribute the sum of thirty-two thousand dollars to and among her children or child, if any, who shall survive her. If she leave no child living at her decease, this legacy to her children shall lapse.

4. They shall pay to my niece, Deborah Northrup, the sum of two thousand dollars annually during her life, in equal quarter annual payments, and at her decease they shall distribute the sum of thirty-two thousand dollars to and among her children or child, if any, who shall survive her. If she leave no child living at her decease, this legacy to her children shall lapse.

5. They shall pay to my niece Clarissa N. Dewey, the sum of two thousand dollars annually, during her life in equal quarter-annual payments, and at her decease they shall pay the said sum of two thousand dollars per annum to her eldest son, Benjamin G. B. Dewey, if living, during his natural life in equal quarter-annual payments, and upon the decease of both the said Clarissa N. Dewey and Benjamin G. B. Dewey, they shall distribute the sum of thirty-two thousand dollars to and among the child or children if any, of said Clarissa N. Dewey who shall then be living, But if no child of said Clarissa N. Dewey be living after her decease and the decease of the said Benjamin G. B. Dewey, then this legacy to children so surviving shall lapse.

6. They shall pay to Hannah Wright Devlin wife of William Devlin of Bordendown, in the State of New Jersey, the sum of three hundred dollars per annum during her life, and at her decease they shall distribute the sum of five thousand dollars to and among her children or child if any, who shall survive her. If she leave no child living at her decease, this legacy to her children shall lapse.

7. They shall pay to Eugenia M. Howard, sister of the aforesaid William Devlin, of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, the sum of three hundred dollars per annum, during her life and at her decease they shall distribute the sum of five thousand dollars to and among her children or child if any, who shall survive her. If she leave no child living at the time of her decease, this legacy to her children shall lapse.

In no one of the above seven provisions of this article shall the words "child" or "children" be construed to include the representatives of any deceased child or children.

My said Executors shall add all the balance of said net income that shall remain after making the payments aforesaid, to the principal of my said estate, so that the same may be accumulating for the term of twenty-five years aforesaid, and at the expiration of said term of twenty-five years from my decease, my said Executors shall set aside a sum or sums of money, and may deposit the same in some safe trust company preference being given, other things being equal, to the Massachusetts Hospital Life Insurance Company of said Boston, which shall be sufficient to provide for the payment of such of the foregoing legacies and bequests, if any, as shall then be unfulfilled; or may provide for the payment of such unpaid legacies and bequests, by the purchase of annuities for the unpaid legatees, or otherwise, as my said Executors shall deem expedient; and after the payment, or provision for the payment as aforesaid of all the foregoing bequests and legacies, the unexpended balances if any, shall be paid to and for the use of the Hospital hereinafter provided for.

8. At the expiration of said term of twenty-five years from the time of my decease, my said Executors shall dispose of said rest and residue of my property and estate, and of all the interest and accumulations which shall have accrued thereon, for the purpose of founding a hospital in said Boston to be called the Brigham Hospital, for the care of sick persons in indigent circumstances, residing in the said County of Suffolk, in the following manner, that is to say: They shall procure the formation of a corporation to be called the "Brigham Hospital" with suitable provisions as to officers, their powers and duties for control, direction, conduct and administration of the corporation and the care and management of the funds in its charge; and upon the legal formation and organization of said corporation, my said Executors shall transfer to it all the property and estate provided for it as aforesaid, to be by it used and employed for the purposes above declared and I give, devise and bequeath said rest and residue of my property and estate accordingly.

Fifteenth. I authorize and empower my said Executors to sell at public auction or private sale, any or all of my said property and estate, both real and personal, and any and all other property and estate, both real and personal, which they may acquire as my Executors, whenever they shall see fit to do so; and upon every such sale to execute to the purchaser or purchasers of such property or estate or any part thereof all such deeds and other instruments of conveyance as may be necessary or proper to convey to him or them a good and valid title to the property or estate purchased. My said Executors shall hold, manage and dispose of the proceeds of all such sales in the same manner and for the same purposes in and for which they held the property or estate so sold; but no purchaser shall be responsible for the application of the purchase money.

I authorize and empower my said Executors to lease any and all of said real estate, to change and alter investments; and to treat stock dividends so-called, in their discretion, as belonging either to the principal or income of my said estate.

Lastly. I nominate, constitute and appoint Robert Codman and Joseph Healy of said Boston, Esquires, to be the Executors of this my last will and testament, and I direct that no bond shall be required of them, or either of them, for the discharge of their duties under this will.

In witness whereof, I the said Peter B. Brigham have hereunto set my hand and seal, this second day of May in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred seventy-seven.

PETER B. BRIGHAM (seal)

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the aforesaid Testator, as and for his last will and testament, in presence of us, who at his request, and in his presence, and in the presence of each other, have subscribed our names as witnesses hereto.

CITY OF BOSTON, ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

CITY HALL, October 9, 1908.

HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR, — The following list of property was returned by the Board of Assessors to the Tax Commissioner of the Commonwealth as the assets of the City of Boston for the year 1907.

The real estate figures, excepting those on Water Works, which were obtained from the Water Department, are from the Assessors' valuations as of May 1, 1907.

The personal estate figures are from estimates made by various departments in charge of same, excepting those for Trust Funds, Sinking Funds and Betterment Pledged, which are taken from the Auditor's report.

The said Auditor's report, on pages 243 to 277 inclusive, gives in detail an account of the property of the City of Boston; no valuation, other than appears below, is placed on it, however, and can only be obtained by a report from the officials in charge.

The detail for 1907 as returned by the Assessors is as follows:

PAUPER INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT,
28 COURT SQUARE, ROOM 3,
BOSTON, October 29, 1908.

HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD,
Mayor of Boston, City Hall, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR, — In accordance with the enclosed order of the Common Council, the Boston Infirmary Trustees beg to submit the following information relative to the Boston Almshouse and Hospital at Long Island:

No. 1. From January 1, 1907, to October 15, 1907:

Number of admissions	. . . . .	920
Number of deaths	. . . . .	179

No. 2. From January 1, 1908, to October 15, 1908:

Number of admissions	. . . . .	1,020, increase 100
Number of deaths	. . . . .	175, decrease 4

(an increase of 11 per cent. in the number of admissions and a decrease of 2 per cent. in the number of deaths). In 1907 and 1908 the number of deaths has been 18 per cent. of the number of admissions, whereas in 1903 and 1904 the number of deaths was 27 per cent. of the number of admissions, since which time there has been a steady decrease in the death rate.

No. 3. During the administration of the present superintendent, he has received no complaint with reference to the quality of food provided, although it is clearly understood among the inmates that they have the freedom of the superintendent's office at any time they wish to make a complaint of any kind.

No. 4. The following precautions are taken in regard to the care of contagious diseases:

Upon the arrival of patients at the wharf at Long Island, they are seen by the resident physician, and a superficial examination is made, special attention being paid to evidences of the more contagious diseases.

Immediately after arrival at the admitting room, the patients are again seen by the resident physician, their clothing having been removed, and a careful examination is made. If at either of these examinations contagion is discovered, the necessary isolation for such persons is at once made.

On reaching the ward, the patients are again examined by the house officer, and later by the visiting physician, a careful record being made in each case. In this way there is no possibility of a patient suffering from any contagious disease to escape observation.

All male patients suffering from phthisis are assigned to the special building for the treatment of this disease. There is not, nor has there been, at any time during the present year any male patient suffering from phthisis treated in the main hospital building or the institution.

Previous to October, 1907, a portion of the male phthisis patients were cared for in one of the wards of the main hospital, but at that time these cases were all moved to the building specially provided for them, and since then the number of male consumptives received at Long Island has been limited to the capacity of that building.

Female phthisis patients are assigned to a special ward, separated from the other hospital wards by doors which are kept closed, and which is provided with a special lavatory, linen-room and entrance. All linen, excreta, sputum, etc., from this ward are thoroughly disinfected.

Patients suffering from phthisis who are able to be up and about wear a special uniform, and as far as possible are not allowed to associate with other inmates. General rules for the prevention and control of tuberculosis, such as spitting, etc., are strictly enforced.

Syphilitic patients have special marked vessels, dishes, etc., and their linen, excreta, etc., are disinfected.

Very respectfully,

EDWARD M. GALLAGHER, Chairman.

WEST END STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

---

TWO HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-FIFTH LOCATION.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, November 9, 1908.

The Committee on Railroads, to whom was recommitted — October 26 — the petition of the West End Street Railway Company for alterations and additions to tracks on Columbus avenue and Washington street, having further considered the matter, respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

For the Committee,

W. PRENTISS PARKER,
Chairman.

---

Ordered, That in addition to the rights heretofore granted to the West End Street Railway Company for locations for tracks in the streets of the City of Boston, said company shall have the right to construct, maintain and use an alteration of its existing tracks, as follows: Double tracks in Columbus avenue, Roxbury District, across Washington street; and double tracks in Washington street, across Columbus avenue; double curved tracks at the northerly corner of Columbus avenue and Washington street, and a cross connection on Washington street, northeast of Columbus avenue.

Also an addition to its existing locations, as follows: Double curved tracks at the easterly corner of Columbus avenue and Washington street; two single curved tracks from Washington street, near the easterly corner of Columbus avenue to land of the Company there situate; all substantially as shown by red lines on plan of A. L. Plimpton, and all alterations in substitution for existing tracks indicated by dotted black lines on said plan, together with all necessary curves, cross-overs, switches and connections; said plan being dated September 26, 1908, and deposited in the office of the Superintendent of Streets.

And the consent of the Board of Aldermen is granted to said company to establish and maintain the overhead single trolley electric system of motive power in the operation of its cars on said location, and to erect, maintain and use iron poles, not less than twenty feet in height, at places indicated by red dots or circles on the aforesaid plan, or at such other places, to be shown by blue dots or circles on said plan, as may be approved by the Superintendent of Streets, and to place on said poles such wires and other appliances as the Commissioner of Wires shall approve.

The right to lay down the tracks located by this order is upon condition that the whole work of laying the same, the form of rail to be used, and the kind and quality of material used in paving said tracks, and the kind and locations of poles, shall be under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets, and shall be approved by him. Also upon condition that said railway company shall accept this order, and shall file such acceptance with the City Clerk in accordance with the provisions of Statute Law; otherwise it shall be null and void.

The whole work authorized to be done under the provisions of this order shall be completed within one year from the date of the passage of this order.

Passed. Approved by the Mayor, November 13, 1908.

A true copy.

JOHN T. PRIEST,
City Clerk.

AUDITOR'S MONTHLY EXHIBIT.

GENERAL AND SPECIAL APPROPRIATIONS FOR 1908-1909.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT,
CITY HALL, BOSTON, December 1, 1908.

HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — The undersigned, in compliance with chapter 6, section 7, Revised Ordinances of 1898, herewith presents an exhibit of the General and Special Appropriations for the present financial year of 1908-1909, as shown in the books in his office, December 1, 1908, including the December draft — being eleven months' drafts — exhibiting the original appropriations, the balances brought forward from 1907-1908, the amounts drawn December 1, the total expenditures, and the balance of each appropriation unexpended at that date; also a statement of the Debt, Sinking-Funds and Right to Borrow, November 30, 1908.

The December Draft comprises special payments and weekly pay rolls during the month of November and pay rolls and bills payable December 1, 1908.

Respectfully submitted,

J. ALFRED MITCHELL,
City Auditor.

CITY OF BOSTON,
IN COMMON COUNCIL, December 3, 1908.

The Special Committee of the Common Council appointed to investigate and report upon the abandonment of the Suffolk School for Boys by the city, and the transfer of the boys there detained to the Lyman School for Boys at Westborough, as proposed in the report of the Children's Institutions Trustees, begs leave to submit the following report:

The reason for the existence of this committee is to be found in the minority views of Dr. Putnam and Mr. Friedman annexed to the report of the Trustees of the Children's Institutions for the year 1907.

Briefly stated, these views call for the abandonment of Rainsford Island and the transfer of the boys to the care of the State at the Lyman School for Boys at Westborough. The reasons given are that the island is wholly inadequate for the purposes of a reform school, and that the cost per boy, per year, per week is too great.

The committee made an unheralded visit to Rainsford Island and found 140 odd boys living an orderly, cheerful, busy life, under a system, apparently without fads or frills, whose basis is good, sound common sense. They found a shoe shop so excellent in appointment and efficiency as to fully justify the small sum spent on it and to warrant its enlargement and extension. They found a printing office, limited in its equipment, to be sure, but capable of such creditable work as is evidenced in the department report. They found a Sloyd room where eager-eyed boys proudly exhibited specimens of their handiwork. They found school-rooms filled with the same bright, inquisitive faces that a visit to any of our city schools will disclose.

They found a superintendent who knows boys; who gets results; who has not lost a boy by escape during the time he has been in charge; who, during the past year, has had but twelve boys returned to him for breaking the terms of their probation, out of 236 boys sent out; whose printers and shoemakers may, on their release, take their place in any job printing establishment or shoe factory, and do a journeyman's work; whose merit system is effective, because simple, and an evidence of the sound common sense referred to above.

But the committee also found that this good work was being carried on under conditions that are shamefully insufficient and criminally unsafe. If the taxpayers of the City of Boston could be made aware of these conditions, there are some smug-faced economists who would be speedily swept into the oblivion they richly deserve.

If the newspapers of this city could be induced to send their representatives down to this little island for a plain, unvarnished, matter-of-fact statement of these existing conditions, there would be an instant and indignant demand for the wiping out of this crying disgrace to our municipality.

One building that houses the young boys is eighty-one years old. That is enough to condemn it. But it has added distinctions: It was formerly a pesthouse, a smallpox hospital, a home for the city's paupers.

There is another building, nearly coeval with it, occupied by the superintendent. The workshops, the indoor playroom and some of the connecting buildings are the old voting booths which the city took off the streets because they were unfit and unsafe. Think of it!

There is bitter irony in the report of the Trustees which appraises these buildings at $43,000. At the end of one of the promontories is situated the piggery. It is the plain, solemn truth that, relatively, the pigs are better housed than the boys and officers.

The one saving grace of the whole place is its absolute, scrupulous cleanliness.

At the committee's request, Dr. Putnam and Mr. Friedman waited upon the committee and gave their reasons for wanting the city to abandon the work on Rainsford Island. Mr. Friedman said, and Dr. Putnam agreed with him, that the island was inadequate; it was too small; there was not room for the building of cottages such as advanced ideas of reform demanded; there was no land for playground; he recognized the great work that was being done there, and that the superintendent was an invaluable man; but the cost per boy, per week, was $5.65; that the Lyman School could take care of the boys for $2 and something a week, and besides, could teach them farming, and the farming life with its rough, outdoor work, was the solution of the question of reform for the bad city boy.

And there you have the whole thing. It is no longer the simple question of making a bad boy good. Statistics and percentages enter into the calculations, and if the reform part does not fit in nicely with the statistics and percentages, so much the worse for the reform. It is the new dispensation of the "Organized charity, scrimped and iced,

In the name of a cautious, statistical Christ."

The proposition to abandon Rainsford Island and give up its work may be quickly dismissed. It is a cowardly evasion of a manifest duty which we owe these unfortunate boys. The two amiable gentlemen who propose it are misguided — $5.65 per boy, per week, should not frighten them if the boy is getting $5.65 worth of reformation. Their chief concern should not be how cheaply they can do the work, but how much work they can do with the money at their disposal. Any other idea is a sad misconception of their duties. Moreover, the committee can show them from their own reports that the cost per boy is much nearer $5 flat. Under their system of bookkeeping, every conceivable item that could be, by stretch of a lively imagination, charged up to Rainsford Island, has been set down. The great wonder is that they stopped their figures at two decimal places.

We are almost tempted to accuse the two gentlemen of being disingenuous. They make the statement that the work can be done cheaper at the Lyman School than at the Suffolk School. Surely, they must know that the Lyman School has numerous trust funds which lighten the burden of the state. Which horn of the dilemma will the gentlemen take? Have they read the report of the Trustees of the Lyman School? It says that the cost per boy at that institution is $5.19 per week. We cannot accuse two such serious gentlemen of trifling, but the fair cost per boy at Rainsford, not $5.65, as compared with the cost at Westborough, leaves them in an unenviable position.

They are absolutely and unqualifiedly wrong about the farmer's life for a city boy. For a recreation, yes; for a life, emphatically, no. The tendency is all the other way. The State of Massachusetts is strewn with abandoned farms. It is a subject that has given public men and legislatures much concern. The gentlemen must console themselves with the thought that the establishment of an industrial school, by recent act of the state, will take away from Rainsford all boys over fifteen years of age. That will undoubtedly reduce the per capita cost.

WHERE THE FAULT LIES.

Not with the city government, as the Trustees' report is pleased to reiterate, year after year, but with the Trustees themselves.

Differing and different boards of trustees, if not the present one, have neglected Rainsford Island. It is inconveniently located. They said, and some of them do say, that it wastes a whole day to go down there. Since the Board was first established there was always the project to remove the school to the mainland and place it somewhere in the country. This deterred them from putting very much money into the plant and engendered the feeling to get along as well as possible with what they had. If they had been united and determined to better the conditions at Rainsford, they would have had no more difficulty in obtaining money for the Suffolk School than they had for the Parental School.

The city government, which means the Board of Aldermen and the Common Council, does not make the appropriation bill. They get the Mayor's budget, go through some formalities, and pass the bill. If they are convinced that certain things require more money than the Mayor has seen fit to allow, and increase these items, the Mayor, under recent legislative enactments, can and does put the bill back into its first form. It requires a two-thirds vote of each branch to override this action on his part, and that is well-nigh unattainable.

The present Mayor is establishing an era of economy. The wisdom of some of his methods to achieve results along that line is a question that is open to debate. But this committee firmly believes that if the Trustees will induce him to visit Rainsford Island and see for himself the good work that is being done under the most distressing conditions, he will quickly realize the situation, and at least some of the necessary money will be forthcoming. The insinuation in the minority report that "the policy of the present administration" would be otherwise, is, we are frank to say, totally uncalled for.

WHAT RAINSFORD ISLAND NEEDS.

It needs more land and it needs some new buildings. It can get both easily and at a minimum cost. A bulkhead built from the wharf to the point where the small boys' cottage is situated, will, when the bight is filled in, give a fine large parcel of ground. The cost would be almost confined to the construction of the bulkhead. Filling is going begging. There is an old cemetery on the Island which should be transferred with all due reverence to Long Island as other cemeteries on islands in the harbor have been. This will give another big tract.

The buildings to be erected, as they can be afforded, should be plain, substantial structures, well lighted and well ventilated. No luxurious palaces, masquerading as cottages, with polished floors, mission furniture, pianos, rugs, sectional bookcases, the newest things in kitchen paraphernalia, the latest gimcracks in plumbing, in fine, such a menage as is not to be found outside the finest Back Bay mansion. These places are magnificent, but they are not homes. Not for the class of boys who are committed for various delinquencies to our institutions. They create a fictitious atmosphere. One in which these boys cannot live.

Plain, substantial buildings, then, that are comfortable, and no more, are what are needed; and if the material is judiciously selected, the cost will not be appalling.

WHERE THE MONEY IS TO COME FROM.

The Auditor's report shows that there are many loans authorized but not issued. The Finance Commission says that $86,000 authorized for the Cemetery Department last year, is not needed for that department. Some, if not all, of this could be used, if the matter were properly placed before the Mayor by the Trustees. The work of reformation is for the coming generation; it would be but simple justice to make them share the expense.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

We recommend that the Trustees content themselves, for the present, with the good work they have done at the Parental School. That no more money be expended in the West Roxbury plant until the bare necessities are provided for Rainsford Island. Not, the committee are willing to say, that the Parental School needs it less, but Rainsford more.

We recommend that the Trustees take immediate steps for the removal of the cemetery.

We recommend that they consult some practical man as to the cost of constructing the bulkhead and the filling in of the basin referred to above.

We recommend that the Trustees consult with His Honor the Mayor, reiterating our belief, that if the matter is properly brought to his attention, there can be but one result. There should be no delay in doing this.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, we desire to say that if in this report we have called a spade a spade, it is because of our intense interest in the work of reforming these unfortunate boys committed to Rainsford Island. What was, at first, a perfunctory committee duty, has developed into an absorbing wish to contribute, in some slight measure, to the betterment of the disgraceful conditions that obtain.

We express our unbounded admiration and wonder at the results obtained by the Trustees and their officers at Rainsford Island. We here make public recognition of it. The good that they do is too little known. If our report shall act as a spur to greater efforts, as it is intended, our work is well done.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMISSION APPOINTED BY THE MAYOR TO INVESTIGATE QUESTIONS AFFECTING THE DISPOSITION OF GARBAGE AND OFFAL.

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR, December 21, 1908.

To the Gentlemen of the City Council:

Appended is a report made to me by the "Special Commission to Investigate Questions Affecting the Collection and Disposition of Garbage and Offal in the City of Boston." The findings of the Commission were made after exhaustive study of the entire situation and its recommendations are of interest to our citizens.

I recommend that the report be printed as a city document.

Respectfully,

G. A. HIBBARD, Mayor.

BOSTON, MASS., November 8, 1908.
HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR, — The "Special Commission to Investigate Questions Affecting the Collection and Disposition of Garbage and Offal in the City of Boston," which was appointed by Your Honor February 15, 1908, after giving a number of public hearings and visiting several cities for the purpose of acquainting themselves with the opinions of all persons in interest and to observe the methods in vogue elsewhere, submit the following report:

The study of the scientific collection and disposal of municipal refuse is comparatively new, and the art is in an experimental stage. Until recently questions of sanitation have not been generally considered and, especially in American cities, it has been found practicable to dispose of all refuse, except sewage, in some slipshod manner without great offense, as by allowing garbage and manure to be taken away by neighboring farmers and by dumping other refuse on low lands, allowing scavengers to pick over the dumps and reclaim such articles as could be sold, and perhaps occasionally burning the more combustible refuse in open-air fires on the dumps.

In the more densely populated European countries great attention has been given to this subject, and innumerable experiments have been tried. As far as this Commission has been able to ascertain, the practise in Europe has constantly tended towards incineration of all waste—that is to say, of mixing all the waste and burning it. This method is now practised in a few American cities. In some places the practise is to burn only the combustible waste and to dispose of the garbage and the ashes in other ways. There are in the market various devices, both foreign and domestic, for the incineration of refuse, and large claims are made for every one of them. The problem is made more difficult by the question of whether or not steam can be raised by the burning refuse to such advantage as to make it desirable to complicate the plant with boilers and other machinery.

At first sight, it might appear that it would be impossible to burn mixed refuse without the aid of other fuel, because the ashes have already passed through the fire, the garbage contains much moisture, and there is a considerable amount of incombustible matter, such as glass, crockery, cans, etc., mixed with the other waste, while the readily combustible refuse is light and forms a small percentage of the whole mass. Although many of the destructors on the market are intended to use other fuel to aid in the burning of mixed refuse, there are several which appear to operate satisfactorily without other fuel than the refuse itself. This is accounted for by the fact that the grease in the garbage—which probably amounts to about 5 per cent. by weight of the total garbage—and the unburned carbon in the ashes will burn in combination under a forced draft. This process is, of course, assisted by the mixture of the light and combustible waste. The destructors which burn mixed refuse without other fuel always use a forced draft, the energy for operating which is furnished by the heat from the burning refuse, and practically all types of destructors contain some device for drying material that is fed into them before it comes upon the burning grates. It is obvious that a fire of such material will yield a large amount of clinker and that the fire will require a great deal of stoking.

This Commission has visited two destructors of different types, one in Westmount, a suburb of Montreal, and one in Staten Island, one of the boroughs of New York (the Borough of Richmond), where refuse of all kinds is destroyed by fire without the use of other fuel, and where steam is raised by the heat of the fire sufficient to run the forced draft and to have a considerable surplus, which is available for commercial purposes. The refuse that passes through these destructors is thoroughly burned at a high temperature. The gases from combustion are carried into a combustion chamber, which is constantly at a temperature of from 1,500 to 2,500 degrees Fahrenheit, so that all odors from them are destroyed. The solid residue is taken out of the furnace in the form of clinker, which is an excellent filling, or which, in places where gravel or stone is not abundant, is available for making concrete or for making sidewalks and roads, or it may be made into paving blocks and slabs. One of the members of the Commission has, at his own expense, visited a number of similar destructors in different English cities where like conditions obtain and reports that they operate satisfactorily. It is believed that such destructors are as unobjectionable as any manufacturing plant, and could be placed in any part of the city without offence.

The Commission gave a number of public hearings which were fully advertised. Much of the time at these hearings was taken up by a discussion of the question of whether private persons should be allowed to collect garbage from hotels and restaurants. The hotel men and the persons engaged in this business contended that they should not be interfered with, first, because the collection of garbage in this manner is more convenient to the hotels and restaurants, being done in a better and cleaner manner than the public collection; second, that the garbage has a value, and that the producers of it should be allowed to dispose of it to their own advantage without interference so long as they do so in a sanitary and inoffensive way. On the other side it was urged that proprietors of hotels and restaurants reserve the best part of their garbage for the private collector, but insist that the city should collect the wet and useless garbage; that this imposes expense on the city, as it diminishes the value of the whole collection for purposes of reduction and so ultimately increases the cost of reduction; also, that the city must be equipped and ready to collect all the garbage, and therefore makes no substantial saving by the private collections, because if, for any reason, the private collector fails to take the garbage the city is called upon to take it all.

This Commission does not feel called upon to decide the legal question of whether the contract with the New England Sanitary Product Company obliges the city to let that company have all the garbage, but even if the contract bears that construction the Commission is of opinion that the city cannot justifiably use ordinances or health regulations to compel the producers of garbage to deliver it to no one but the city or persons contracting with the city for any other reason than the preservation of the health or comfort of the public.

The Commission believes that the best practical solution of this question is to permit any hotel or restaurant proprietor to carry off his own garbage in a sanitary and inoffensive manner, either personally or by his duly authorized agent, under an agreement with the city that the city shall be at no expense for the collection and disposal of any garbage from his premises.

As a result of our studies, we find the conditions generally existing in Boston to be as follows:

I.

CHARACTER AND CLASSIFICATION OF THE MATERIAL.

Municipal waste, except sewage, may be divided into the following classes:

- A. Garbage.
- B. Ashes.
- C. Combustible waste.
- D. Old bottles, cans, crockery, glass, metals, oyster and clam shells, etc.
- E. Street sweepings and the contents of catch-basins.
- F. House and store sweepings.
- G. Market waste.
- H. Dead animals.
- I. Stable manure.
- J. Old building materials and earth from excavations.

The first three classes are by far the most important, and about them our inquiry centers. The other materials, except street sweepings, are either simply disposed of as hereinafter shown, or are, in fact, mixed with materials of the first three classes and collected and disposed of with them.

Street sweepings and the contents of catch-basins (including the material taken out of the gutters where the streets are not actually swept) are collected in city carts by city employees, attached in some districts to the Street Cleaning Division and in some districts to the Paving Division of the Street Department. The contents of catch-basins are collected by contract and disposed of by the Sewer Division. This is an important class of refuse, and the collection and disposal of it involves great expense, but in any new scheme of refuse disposal the great bulk of it would probably be treated separately from the garbage, ashes and combustible waste. At present a small portion of it is towed to sea with the ashes, but most of it is dumped into vacant lots where it makes a good fill.

House and store sweepings go with the ashes.

Market waste is collected by the occupants of the markets, and is usually dumped into the city ash scows upon the payment to the city of 5 cents a barrel.

Dead animals are collected and disposed of by N. Ward & Co. and by the Brighton Abattoir without expense to the city.

Stable manure, old building material and earth from excavations are collected and disposed of by the producers without expense to the city.

Garbage, Ashes and Combustible Waste.

A. Garbage. — Garbage consists principally of swill or kitchen refuse, but in the part of Boston where garbage, ashes and combustible waste are collected separately, householders are directed to put sauce and catsup bottles, fruit, vegetable and meat cans into their garbage.

B. Ashes. — Similarly householders are directed to put sawdust, broken bottles, broken glass, broken crockery, floor and street sweepings, oyster and clam shells and tobacco stems with their ashes.

C. Combustible Waste. — Combustible waste consists of paper, rags, old carpets, old shoes, leather and rubber scraps, excelsior, straw, pasteboard boxes, mattresses, old scraps of wood, etc., but where the separate collection is made householders are directed to put bottles and tin cans, except those specified above, with their combustible waste.

As might be expected, the actual separation of the various materials into garbage, ashes and combustible waste, technically called the third separation, is very imperfectly made by the householders. Not only do the subsidiary classes get into the wrong receptacles, but a considerable amount of swill, waste paper and rags are always found among the ashes, and vice versa. The inconvenience of this will be considered later.

D. Old Bottles, etc. — This class of waste, though properly speaking neither garbage, ashes nor combustible waste, is for practical purposes divided and distributed among the first three classes as already stated, and collected and disposed of with them.

II.

COLLECTION OF GARBAGE, ASHES AND COMBUSTIBLE WASTE IN BOSTON.

For the purpose of collection of such refuse the city is divided into nine districts, which are geographically as follows :

Boundary Lines of Sanitary Division Districts.

1. All of South Boston bounded by Fort Point channel and South bay on the west; Boston Harbor on the north and east; Mt. Vernon street and Willow court on the south.
2. All of East Boston.
3. All of Charlestown.
4. All of Brighton and Allston to St. Mary's street.
5. All of West Roxbury bounded by Hyde Park line, Dedham line, Newton line, Brookline line, Harvard street to Morton, to Canterbury, to Blue Hill avenue, to Seaver, to Columbus avenue, to Washington, to Boylston, to Lamartine, to Paul Gore, to Centre, to Perkins, thence to Cypress street at Brookline boundary line.
6. Dorchester, bounded on the north by Mt. Vernon street and Willow court, to the N. Y., N. H. & H. R.R. thence to Cottage street, to Blue Hill avenue, to Canterbury street, to Morton, to Harvard, to Oakland, to Randolph road, to River street, thence by the Neponset river to Dorchester bay and Mt. Vernon street at Calf Pasture.
7. Camden street to Gainsborough street, to Huntington avenue, to Jamaica way, to Perkins, to Centre, to Paul Gore, to Lamartine, to Boylston, to Washington street, to Columbus avenue, to Seaver street, to Blue Hill avenue, to Cottage street, to Norfolk avenue, to Hampden street, to Albany street, to East Lenox street, to Tremont and to Camden street at point of beginning.
- 8-9. St. Mary's street to Charles river, thence by the river to Otter street, to Beacon street, to Arlington, to Boylston, to Tremont, to Winter, to Summer, to Devonshire, to Milk, to Oliver streets, thence along the water front, Fort Point channel, South bay to Massachusetts avenue, to the N. Y., N. H. & H. R.R., to Norfolk avenue, thence to Hampden, to Northampton, East Lenox, Lenox, Tremont and Camden streets, thence to Gainsborough street, to Huntington avenue, to the Riverway, to St. Mary's street, thence to Charles river at point of beginning.

10. Otter street at Charles river, thence by the river on the west, Boston Harbor to Oliver street, thence to Milk street, to Devonshire, to Summer, to Winter, to Tremont, to Boylston, to Charles, to Beacon, to Otter streets, thence to the river at point of beginning.

In small sections of Districts 8, 9 and 10 no separation of garbage, ashes and combustible waste is made, but all three classes of material are mixed together by the householders and collected at the same time and in the same vehicles. In Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and so much of 8-9 as is south of Massachusetts avenue the ashes and combustible waste are mixed together, but are collected separately from the garbage. This is called the second separation. In so much of District numbered 8-9 as is north of Massachusetts avenue and in District 10, except the small sections above referred to, garbage, ashes and combustible waste are all collected separately. This is called the third separation.

It will thus be seen that combustible waste is only treated separately in two districts, and then it is always collected by city wagons.

In Districts 1, 3, 7, 8, 9 and 10 the collection of garbage, ashes and combustible waste is made entirely by city employees attached to the Sanitary Division of the Street Department. In Districts 2, 4 and 6 the collection is made wholly by contractors, under the supervision of the Superintendent of Streets. In District 5 the collection is made partly by such contractors and partly by employees of the Sanitary Division.

The total number of men employed by the city in the collection of garbage, ashes, combustible waste (and other refuse collected with them) is 576. The total number of horses so employed is 280. The total number of wagons or carts so employed is 258 single and 11 double carts. These carts are of the following styles: Ash carts, single and double, all wood; offal wagons, single and double, mostly iron. All four wheels. Paper carts, two wheels, and paper wagons, four wheels. All wood.

There are in force nine contracts for the collection of refuse, terminating on the dates shown in the following table:

Districts.	Expiration of Term.
Ashes, combustible waste, etc.:
West Roxbury . . . . .	April 10, 1909.
North Dorchester . . . . .	Sept. 1, 1910.
South Dorchester . . . . .	Aug. 1, 1910.
Brighton . . . . .	July 15, 1910.
East Boston . . . . .	July 1, 1910.
Garbage:
East Boston . . . . .	July 15, 1910.
Brighton . . . . .	June 20, 1910.

Districts.	Expiration of Term.
West Roxbury . . . . .	June 15, 1910.
Dorchester . . . . .	April 9, 1909.

But all the recent contracts may be terminated by the city before their expiration.

For the year ending January 31, 1908, according to figures obtained from the office of the Superintendent of Streets,

The amount of garbage collected by city employees in city carts was . . . . .	46,080 loads.
The amount of garbage collected by contractors was . . . . .	18,632 "
The amount of ashes collected by city employees in city carts was . . . . .	321,511 "
The amount of ashes collected by contractors was . . . . .	55,547 "
The amount of combustible waste collected by city employees in city carts was . . . . .	17,169 "
The total amount of refuse of these classes collected by or for the city was . . . . .	458,939 "

It is estimated by the Superintendent of Streets that for the year ending January 31, 1909,

The total amount of garbage collected by city employees in city carts will not exceed . . . . .	45,924 loads.
The total amount of garbage collected by contractors will not exceed . . . . .	17,376 "
The total amount of ashes collected by city employees in city carts will not exceed . . . . .	282,684 "
The total amount of ashes collected by contractors will not exceed . . . . .	56,064 "
The total amount of combustible waste collected by city employees in city carts will not exceed . . . . .	16,296 "
Making a total amount of refuse of these classes to be collected by or for the city of . . . . .	418,344 loads.

It must be borne in mind that the standard weight of the loads is calculated on a different basis this year from that of the last and previous years (see Section IV.), and although the number of loads estimated for this year is less than the number of loads returned for last year, the total weight of the material collected will be greater.

The Commission is of the opinion that the estimated figures for the year ending January 31, 1909, are more nearly correct than any previous figures, and that they may be taken as a basis for future calculations.

III.

FINAL DISPOSITION.

There are three principal methods of disposition of refuse practised in Boston, corresponding to the three principal classes of refuse, but other methods are used concurrently.

A. Garbage. — The garbage from the central and some of the outlying parts of the city is delivered at Fort Hill wharf, and at a wharf off Albany street, by the city, in the carts in which it is collected, and is dumped by the city men into scows which belong to the New England Sanitary Product Company. It is transported in these scows, at the expense of the company, to its reduction works on Spectacle Island in Boston Harbor, and is there treated by the company under its contract with the city. The treatment is as follows: The garbage is shoveled by hand labor from the scow onto a conveyor or running belt, the lower end of which projects over the scow as it lies at the pier at Spectacle Island. The men who shovel the material pick out as many bottles, cans and other foreign articles as they conveniently may and throw them aside. The garbage travels on the conveyor to the second story of the reduction works, which stand at the head of the pier. On its way there the garbage is picked over by hand on the conveyor, and many objects that may be of value or that might injure the machinery in the works are removed. The conveyor then enters the building at the second story and drops its load into the cooking tanks, of which there are twenty-eight, each of the capacity of about ten tons. As each tank is filled with garbage it is closed and the contents are cooked with live steam, which is constantly introduced at a temperature of over 300 degrees Fahrenheit, at seventy pounds pressure for fourteen hours. After the contents of the tank is cooked it is passed through rotary presses, like ordinary clothes wringers on a large scale. There the moisture is squeezed out and flows off by gravity into tanks where it is skimmed and the grease thus taken off. The water that remains is discharged into the sea. The solid material, now called "tankage," falls from the presses into a conveyor and is carried a distance of a few hundred feet to another building, where it is passed through a naphtha process, conducted by a sub-contractor, and still more grease is extracted. The remaining tankage is then dried by steam in a steel cylinder and afterwards screened and the broken pieces of glass, crockery and shells removed. What is left is a fine brown powder, and is used as a filler for commercial fertilizers. Fifty-four thousand one hundred and nineteen tons of garbage were thus disposed of last year.

The Commission is informed and believes that the garbage yields on the first treatment between 3 per cent. and 4 per cent. by weight of merchantable grease, the amount varying according to the season of the year. This grease is used for making red oil, candles, soap and for other purposes. It is perfectly clean and innocuous and is sold for from 3 to 4½ cents a pound at wholesale, according to the state of the market.

The Commission is informed that the sub-contractor who takes and works the tankage pays in the neighborhood of $250 a month for the privilege to the New England Sanitary Product Company, and reclaims a considerable amount of similar grease by a naphtha process. The Commission understands that this sub-contract may be given up.

All the products from the garbage belong to the contractor, and it is paid in addition the sum of $52,400 a year by the city as a subsidy, and the wharves from which the garbage is shipped belong to the city. The company owns its own plant, which, under the contract, the city has a right to purchase at the expiration of the contract at a valuation. The company hires the land on which the plant is built and has an option to purchase it for $80,000. The city guarantees the rent and has a right to take over the lease in certain contingencies and to buy the land for $80,000. This contract has been in force for a number of years. It expires on the first day of January, 1912.

Most of the garbage of the city is disposed of in this manner, but not all. The garbage collected in East Boston, Brighton and in parts of West Roxbury is shipped away by the contractors, who collect it, and is fed to swine. Also a considerable amount of garbage is taken from hotels and restaurants in the central parts of the city by the proprietors, or by persons dealing with them, and is fed to swine. The garbage in certain parts of the city, where only one collection is made, is mixed with the ashes and combustible waste, and is dumped at sea by the city ash scows.

B. Ashes. — The ashes from the central and most of the contiguous parts of the city are taken by the city wagons to Fort Hill wharf, which belongs to the city, and put into city scows, which are then towed down the harbor and dumped at sea beyond Boston Light. In some of the outlying parts of the city there are inland dumps where the ashes collected in the neighborhood are shot. The city does not undertake to either collect or dispose of ashes from factories or from buildings used for commercial, as distinguished from residential purposes, but requires the owners or occupants of such buildings to see to the disposition of their ashes themselves. The city does, however, collect and dispose of such ashes for a payment of 10 cents a barrel, also the city allows such owners and occupants at their own expense to put their ashes on the city scows for a payment of 5 cents a barrel.

In deciding what ashes belong to the class that the city will collect and dispose of free of charge the following rule is laid down: In any building containing a power plant 70 per cent. of ashes are considered the refuse of such plant and 30 per cent. are considered the refuse from fuel used for heating and domestic purposes. Therefore, 30 per cent. of the ashes from such buildings are collected and disposed of by the city free of charge. It is perhaps instructive to observe in this connection that owners of buildings, who have to dispose of their own ashes, can get them removed for about one-half of what the city charges, and that such ashes are by far the cleanest and most inoffensive in the city.

C. Combustible Waste. — In most parts of Districts 8, 9 and 10 combustible waste is collected by the city carts and is taken to Hecht's wharf on Atlantic avenue, which is hired by the city. There it is delivered to the City Refuse Utilization Company for final disposition under a contract between the city and that company. The city employees discharge the combustible waste onto or near a conveyor which carries it through a long shed where it is picked over by employees of the contractor as it passes by them, and all salable articles are taken out, such as paper, rags, bottles, wire, rubber, rope, string, etc. These articles are placed in different receptacles and bundled or baled for sale. What is left on the conveyor is mostly scraps of wood, useless paper, excelsior, straw and other similar rubbish. This is dropped into a furnace at the end of the conveyor and burned, and the heat produced by burning it makes sufficient steam to run the conveyor and the bailing process. The ashes from the fire and the useless incombustible waste that comes from the plant is put into the city ash scows free of charge. The paper and other articles saved from the combustible waste are the property of the contractor. The city also pays the contractor a subsidy of $5,500 a year and gives it the free use of the wharf. The contractor built its own plant, which the city can take at the expiration of the contract at a valuation; although it is questionable whether the owner of the wharf might not get most of it. This contract expires on December 1, 1908.

In all other districts there is no third separation, and the combustible waste is treated with the ashes.

D. Old bottles, cans, crockery, glass and metals, oyster and clam shells, etc., are collected with the garbage, ashes or combustible waste, as the case might be, as previously stated in Section I. So much of this material as is merchantable is sold by the contractors and the rest of it is thrown away. Most of this useless residue is carried off in the city ash scows and dumped at sea (except of course what is dumped on inland dumps or taken with the garbage to Spectacle Island).

IV.

COST OF COLLECTION AND DISPOSAL IN BOSTON.

It may seem that it should be an easy matter to determine the exact cost of collection and disposal of waste, but the subject has been found to be complicated by a variety of circumstances: First. A considerable amount of garbage is collected and disposed of by private means, and this garbage, coming mainly from hotels and restaurants, is of a better quality than the average; that is to say, it is fresher and purer and contains a larger proportion of fats and oils than the ordinary run of city garbage. Therefore it is more valuable, either for purposes of reduction, as yielding more grease, or for purposes of incineration, as being dry and giving grease to help burn the other matter. Second. A considerable amount of ashes and other waste material is carted away and disposed of by the producers. Third. Although the city has undertaken to keep records and make statistics of the amount of refuse collected by it, the records are inaccurate and imperfect in many respects, especially in a failure to reduce the loads to a uniform standard, owing to the fact that carts and wagons of various types are employed, and owing to the further fact that it is not practicable to standardize the loads.

The Commission is assured that more care is being taken under the present administration of the Street Department to standardize the loads than has been done in the past, and is of opinion that in future better statistical results will be obtained.

1. Cost of collection of garbage, ashes and combustible waste by city employees.

The Street Department reports from figures in the office of the Superintendent of Streets that in the year ending January 31, 1908, 46,080 loads of garbage were collected by city employees at a cost of $150,003.11; that 321,511 loads of ashes were so collected at a cost of $415,647.73; that 17,169 loads of combustible waste were so collected at a cost of $52,473.92.

It is estimated by the Superintendent of Streets that in the year ending January 31, 1909, there will be 45,924 loads of garbage so collected at a cost of $133,436.34; 282,684 loads of ashes so collected at a cost of $369,714.80; and 16,296 loads of combustible waste so collected at a cost of $11,144.75. This anticipated reduction in loads is supposed to be due mainly to a more accurate measurement of loads and better organization of the department; also to the fact that wings or sideboards have been put on the ash carts. The total collection by weight for the current year will exceed that of last year.

2. Cost of collection of garbage and ashes by contract.

In the districts numbered 2, 4, 5 and 6 garbage and ashes are wholly or in part collected and disposed of by contractors with the city. In the year ending January 31, 1908, there were seven such contracts in force, under which in all 18,632 loads of garbage were collected at a cost of $34,293.63, and 55,547 loads of ashes were collected at a cost of $28,531.59. In the current year ending January 31, 1909, there are nine such contracts in force, Districts 2 and 4 being wholly covered by contracts, whereas last year the collection in these was partly made by city employees. It is estimated that 17,376 loads of garbage will be collected at a cost of $33,468.66* and 56,064 loads of ashes at a cost of $42,420.70.* Of the garbage so collected about one-half is delivered by the contractors to the New England Sanitary Product Company, and is included in the amount of garbage stated in this report to be delivered to and reduced by that company. The rest is shipped away by the contractors and fed to swine.

3. City dumps.

There are inland dumps used by the city for the disposal of ashes and other waste. For the privilege of dumping the city pays 10 cents a load. In the year ending January 31, 1908, such payments aggregated $3,544.60. For the current year it is estimated that $7,439.50 will be so paid. Considerably more refuse is disposed of in this manner than would be shown by dividing the cost by 10 cents because some dumps are free.

4. Disposal of garbage by contract.

As already stated, the city pays the New England Sanitary Product Company $52,400 a year to dispose of the garbage from the larger part of the city. Fifty-four thousand one hundred nineteen loads of garbage were so disposed of last year, and this is a fair average amount.

In addition to this subsidy the city maintains two wharves from which the garbage is shipped. These wharves belong to the city, but the city loses the interest on its investment and taxes. Such interest, or rent, and taxes is estimated to amount to $24,620 a year.

5. Disposal of ashes, market waste, etc.

It is difficult to state accurately what the city pays for towing ashes and other matter to sea. The Sewer Division maintains a tug and pays the wages of the men who operate it. The Sewer Division also pays for coal, supplies, etc., used on the tug. Of these payments the Sanitary Division repays to the Sewer Division one-half, which in the year ending January 31, 1908, amounted to $8,721.33, and which is estimated for the current year at $8,000. When the tug is out of commission for repairs or other causes the Sanitary Division has to hire outside tugboats. For the year ending January 31, 1908, $1,054 was spent for such hire. It is estimated that $1,500 will be so spent in the current year. A few men are employed by the Sanitary Division to operate the scows, but their pay has already been charged up in the cost of collection and so may be disregarded. To this should be added repairs on the scows, estimated at $6,000 a year. It is estimated by the Superintendent of Streets that, strictly speaking, the Sanitary Division should pay the Sewer Division 87 per cent. of the expenses of running the tug instead of one-half as at present. The city also maintains a wharf for the purpose of shipping ashes, on which it loses rent and foregoes taxes, but it is one of the same wharves which are now used for shipping garbage, and the loss of rent and taxes has already been included in our calculation under 4. In the year ending January 31, 1908, 101,486 loads of such material were so disposed of.

6. Disposal of combustible waste.

The city pays the City Refuse Utilization Company $5,500 annually for disposing of the combustible waste from Divisions 8, 9 and 10. In addition to this the city hires and pays rent for Hecht's wharf, which is $11,500 per year, and foregoes the taxes on it, which are $4,265.25; but as the Paving Division uses part of the wharf, $5,200 a year is charged to the Paving Division leaving the cost of the wharf for purposes of refuse disposal $10,565.25. In the year ending January 31, 1908, 15,579 loads of such material were so disposed of.

In the calculations for the year ending January 31, 1908, the relation of loads to tons was assumed to be as follows:

1 load of garbage . . . . .	1 ton.
1 load of ashes . . . . .	1,500 pounds.
1 load of combustible waste . . . . .	1,425 "

In the calculations for the current year it is assumed that

1 load of garbage . . . . .	2,500 pounds.
1 load of ashes . . . . .	1,800 "
1 load of combustible waste . . . . .	1,550 "

In the year ending January 31, 1908, the city received in payment for removing ashes from buildings used for manufacturing and commercial purposes, and for market waste and ashes put on its ash scows by the producers, $18,204.

To sum up: The figures furnished to this Commission show that last year the city paid $793,355.16 for collection and disposal of refuse and received $18,204 as an offset. It collected and disposed of 359,739 tons of refuse, making a net expenditure of between $2.15 and $2.16 for every ton collected and disposed of. According to the calculations for the current year, and reducing the loads to tons according to the new standard, the net expense will be between $1.44 and $1.45 a ton.

The salaries of general officers, office expenses, clerk hire, etc., are not included in the above figures, nor is any interest on money invested in horses, carts, implements or scows included, nor any maintenance or depreciation, other than repairs, nor any rent of workshops, yards, etc., nor any rent of stables, except $900 a year for one stable in South Boston, which the Commission is informed has been included in the total expense of collection. On the other hand no account has been taken of property used by the Sanitary Division and accumulated from year to year.

V.

DISADVANTAGES OF THE PRESENT SYSTEM IN BOSTON.

1. Collection.

The present system of final disposal of garbage, ashes and combustible waste in different ways involves separate collections of the three classes of material. This is less convenient and more expensive than a single collection of all classes of refuse. First. It imposes on the householder, for whose convenience, and ultimately at whose expense, the work is done, the trouble of separating his rubbish and the necessity of using three receptacles for it instead of one. Second. The segregation of garbage, ashes and combustible waste in different receptacles or vehicles makes each sort of material more offensive than it if were mixed with the others, both when in the house or yard of the householder and when transported through the streets or handled at the wharves. If the refuse is mixed the moisture in the garbage keeps down the dust and flour of ash and prevents the blowing about of papers, etc., by wetting them down, while the ash absorbs the wet garbage and sets up chemical processes which cause it to act, to a certain degree, as a disinfectant. Also the ashes and the paper, etc., cover up and smother the garbage and tends to prevent evil smells from escaping. Third. If there were one collection either the same number of vehicles could collect oftener, thus adding to the convenience of the householders, and, by carrying away the garbage while it is fresh, lessening the offensive character of it, or a less number of vehicles could be used, thus materially diminishing the expense of collection. This saving in transportation arises in two ways. First. The mixed refuse is much more compact than when it is kept separate. The moisture in the garbage sods down the papers and lighter waste as well as the light ashes and the ashes and garbage press down the light waste and fill the chinks and empty spaces that always exist in loads made up of combustible waste alone. Second. Each vehicle and crew can cover more ground, both because there will be fewer receptacles to be handled and dumped into the carts, and because the routes can be more systematically and economically arranged if there is one collection instead of three.

2. Disposal.

A. Of garbage. As has been stated, a certain amount of garbage is disposed of by contractors in outlying parts of the city by being shipped away and fed to swine, and some garbage is also so disposed of by hotels and restaurants. The hotel and restaurant garbage is generally clean and fresh, and this method of disposing of it is unobjectionable, except in so far as it detracts from the value of the whole collection for purposes of reduction, and thus indirectly increases the cost of reduction. The garbage taken by the contractors is very different. It is the result of a general collection from house to house. It is often putrid, and undoubtedly it contains a certain amount of infected rags, old bandages, etc. It is very questionable whether the city should be a party to feeding such matter to animals that are intended for human food.

Most of the city garbage is reduced by the New England Sanitary Product Company at Spectacle Island. This method of disposition is sanitary. The garbage is subjected to such heat that no living organism can survive the treatment and the products are clean. Before the garbage reaches the cooking tanks it is handled by the employees of the company. Although under other systems of disposal it would probably be handled less, yet some people must be more or less subjected to infection from working at any sort of final disposition, and the danger is more apparent than real, as in fact the employees of reduction plants are found to be normally healthy. The objections to the present system of reduction in Boston are two. First, the expense. Second, the evil smell. In certain states of wind and weather the smell is very unpleasant at a distance of several miles from the works.

B. Of ashes and other refuse disposed of with the ashes. The present methods of disposing of ashes and other refuse which accompanies them are most unsatisfactory. Where ashes, either the result of a separate collection or frankly mixed with combustible waste, are shot on inland dumps they always cause a nuisance. However careful the separation, household ashes contain some garbage, rags and waste papers, etc. The garbage stinks and the papers blow about and are very unsightly. Also a great deal of dust and fine ash blow from the dumps, and the dust and papers, being all more or less tainted with garbage and with disease from old bedding, old clothes, rags and bandages, are a nuisance and a source of infection. Where, as in some districts, combustible waste is intentionally mixed with the ashes and discharged on inland dumps, the nuisance is increased. Most of the city ashes are dumped at sea. The objection to this form of disposal is not so great as the objection to inland dumps.

C. Of combustible waste. This material necessarily contains much infected matter, such as old clothes, bedding, mattresses, bandages, broken furniture, etc. It is at present worked over by a considerable number of people, who, if they are not themselves infected by it, must still carry disease on their clothes and persons into all parts of the city. Furthermore, the material reclaimed from the combustible waste enters into commerce, and if it is ever properly disinfected, this does not occur until it has been much handled. It also seems that under the present system the expense to the city of the disposal of combustible waste is very excessive.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The Commission is of opinion that the most satisfactory method of disposing of garbage, ashes and combustible waste is by incineration: First, because that method is the most sanitary and the least offensive; second, because it is most convenient to the householders; and third, because the collection for incineration would be most economical to the city.

It is probable that the most economical unit for an incinerating furnace in Boston is one of a capacity of fifty tons of mixed refuse a day which is the limit of the efficient work of one crew and to such units other similar units may be added. In Boston there is no economical advantage in having one large central incinerating plant, as it would be simply an aggregation of units, and smaller incinerators built in different parts of the city would greatly reduce the cost of collection.

Should the method of incineration be adopted the Commission is of opinion that incinerators of a capacity of fifty, one hundred or one hundred and fifty tons of mixed refuse a day should be maintained in different parts of the city and located with a view to the length and ease of haul of the refuse of the districts which they are to serve. This would make an enormous saving in cartage. The details of the plan must be worked out with reference to population, grades and directions of streets, disposal of the resultant clinker, etc., and with reference to the practicability of utilizing the surplus steam which can be generated by the burning refuse. The Commission is of opinion that properly constructed incinerators are as inoffensive as any steam plant, and that there can be no reasonable objection to placing them in any manufacturing section of the city.

Incineration does not involve separate collections of the different classes of refuse, but all refuse may be put into one receptacle on the premises of the producer and may be collected at one time and in one vehicle. It is more convenient to the householder and, as has been previously stated, the mixed refuse is less offensive and less dangerous than when separated; also having but one class of vehicle makes possible a considerable saving in cartage and handling.

By the method of mixing together and incinerating all the garbage, ashes and combustible waste the danger of spreading disease is removed as the waste is burned and leaves nothing but clinker which is perfectly disinfected and makes a clean, sharp and excellent fill.

If the method of incineration is not adopted for the whole city the Commission recommends that the city proceed at once to establish an incinerating plant in such location as may be found most desirable by the Superintendent of Streets in view of the considerations already stated. It appears that there is available some $50,000, which was authorized a number of years ago by the City Council for such works in Dorchester, and this money could be applied either to erecting an incinerating plant at once at the Cow Pasture in Dorchester, or by a proper transfer this money could be applied to erecting an incinerating plant at once in the North End or in the Charlestown District; and other money could be borrowed and other incinerators constructed from time to time as the city government may direct, or as the finances of the city will warrant.

The contract for disposing of combustible waste at Hecht's wharf expires on December 1, 1908. Even if the method of incineration were adopted it would be some months before the first incinerator could be in operation, and very likely some years before a complete system of incineration could be installed. Therefore, the Commission recommends that a new contract be entered into by the city to take care of the combustible waste that is now being disposed of at Hecht's wharf. The Commission is of opinion that the payments under the present contract are greatly in excess of what the work can be done for, and that Hecht's wharf can be entirely dispensed with and the rent and taxes on it saved. The Commission believes that the contractor who takes the combustible waste should also take all the ashes that go to sea and screen them before they are dumped at sea. In this way the floating material would be eliminated and the bulk of ashes towed to sea would be reduced. The Commission is informed that several contractors are ready and willing to make bids for doing this work on terms that show a saving to the city. The Commission recommends that any such contract should be made terminable at the option of the city at the expiration of the existing contract with the New England Sanitary Product Company.

While it is estimated that the saving to the city made this year over last will be approximately sixty thousand dollars, the Commission is of opinion that a further saving amounting to a larger sum could be made by having the work of collection and disposal of refuse done by contract rather than by day labor. If the city builds and owns incinerators the Commission is of opinion that it could then lease them in connection with a general contract for the disposal of city waste, or it might be found on advertising the bids that it would be more practical to have the contractors build their own incinerators.

While the Commission is of opinion, as above stated, that incineration is the most satisfactory method of disposing of the city refuse, yet it is fully aware of numerous practical difficulties that now stand in the way of the complete adoption of such a method. Unless new conditions are brought about by the revision of the city charter which is now under consideration, whereby the Sanitary Division is put under such control as will guarantee the economical administration of its affairs, it is the opinion of the Commission that at the expiration of the contract with the New England Sanitary Product Company, which will be on January 1, 1912, the city should contract for the collection and disposal of all its garbage, ashes and combustible waste for a term of years and that the cost to the city of work done in this manner would be much less than the present cost. The Commission is of opinion that in ample time before the expiration of that contract the city should call for bids for doing the entire work of collecting and disposing of garbage, ashes and combustible waste on the following terms :

1. The contractor to buy at a fair valuation so much of the equipment of the city as is serviceable for collection or disposal of garbage, ashes and combustible waste.
2. In order to insure the employment of competent men the contractor to engage to pay his men customary rate of wages.
3. There should be a provision by which any part or parts of the city, not exceeding in all one-tenth of the whole city in area or population, can at any time on the demand of the city be exempted from the operation of the contract, and a corresponding reduction be made in the payments to the contractor, based upon a just estimate of the relation of the cost of serving such part of the city to the cost of serving the whole city, the amount of such reduction to be determined by arbitration in the usual way. This provision is for the purpose of allowing the city to experiment with other methods of collection or of disposal.
4. The contractor should agree to dispose of the street sweepings and the contents of catch-basins, market waste and other material that is now dumped at sea.

STREET TRAFFIC REGULATIONS MADE BY THE BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS UNDER AUTHORITY OF CHAPTER 447, ACTS OF 1908.

---

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE CITY CLERK,
CITY HALL, December 21, 1908.

To the Board of Aldermen of Boston:

I herewith transmit, in order that the same may be placed on the files of the Board of Aldermen, an attested copy of the Traffic Rules made December 10, 1908, by the Street Commissioners, under the provisions of chapter 447 of the Acts of 1908; also an attested copy of an amendment to section one of article five of said rules made December 18, 1908, by said Commissioners.

Respectfully,

JOHN T. PRIEST, City Clerk.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, December 21, 1908.

Ordered printed and placed on file.

---

IN BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS,
BOSTON, MASS., December 10, 1908

Ordered. — That the following rules and regulations be, and the same hereby are, made and promulgated by this board, as the rules and regulations governing the transportation of merchandise, the regulation of traffic of all kinds, and the movement, stopping and standing of vehicles of all kinds in public streets of the city, provided for under the provisions of chapter 447 of the Acts of the Legislature of 1908, the same to take effect and be in full force on and after January 1, 1909:

ARTICLE 1.

Vehicles in Motion.

SECTION 1. A vehicle, except when passing a vehicle ahead, shall keep to the right and as near the right curb as possible.

SECT. 2. A vehicle meeting another vehicle shall pass on the right.

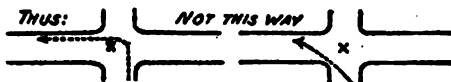

SECT. 3. A vehicle overtaking another vehicle shall, in passing, keep to the left, but it shall not leave the line on the right unless there is a clear way of at least one hundred feet in advance on the left.

SECT. 4. On a highway divided longitudinally by a parkway, viaduct, walk, sunken way or subway structure, vehicles shall keep to the right of such division.

SECT. 5. A vehicle in turning to the right into another street shall keep as near to the right curb as possible.

SECT. 6. A vehicle in turning to the left into another street shall pass to the right of and beyond the center of the intersecting street before turning.

SECT. 7. A vehicle crossing from one side of the street to the other shall do so by turning to the left, so as to head in the general direction of traffic on that side of the street.

SECT. 8. Slow moving vehicles shall keep as close as possible to the curb on the right, so as to allow faster moving vehicles free passage on the left.

SECT. 9. No person having charge of a vehicle shall allow the same to come within ten feet of any vehicle in front of him when approaching and passing over a crossing where a pedestrian is about to pass.

SECT. 10. No person shall drive, guide or have the care of two or more horses harnessed respectively to different vehicles.

ARTICLE 2.

Signals of Vehicles, Police and Other Signals.

SECTION 1. Every driver of a vehicle shall, in slowing up or stopping, give a signal to those behind by raising a whip or hand vertically.

SECT. 2. In turning while in motion or in starting to turn from a standstill a signal shall be given by the driver of the vehicle about to be turned by raising a whip or hand, indicating the direction in which the turn is to be made.

SECT. 3. Before backing ample warning shall be given by voice or uplifted hand, and while backing unceasing vigilance must be exercised by the driver not to injure those behind.

SECT. 4. Drivers of motor vehicles of all kinds shall, in approaching a crossing or in rounding a corner or curve of a public street, sound their signals in such a way as to give warning to other vehicles and to pedestrians of their approach.

SECT. 5. Vehicles must stop so as not to interfere with or prevent the passage of pedestrians at crossings, and at all times drivers of vehicles must stop the same on a signal from a police officer.

ARTICLE 3.

Right of Way.

SECTION 1. Police, fire department, emergency repair wagons, United States mail vehicles and ambulances shall have the right of way in any street and through any procession.

SECT. 2. Subject to section 1 of this article, street cars shall have the right of way between cross streets over all other vehicles; and the driver of any vehicle proceeding on the track in front of a street car shall immediately turn out on a signal by the motorman or conductor of the car.

ARTICLE 4.

Speed of Vehicles.

SECTION 1. No vehicle shall proceed at a rate of speed greater than the law allows; and at no time shall a vehicle be driven with a reckless or negligent disregard of the conditions then obtaining and the rights of others.

SECT. 2. No person having charge of a truck or a dray with an animal attached thereto shall drive the same at other than a moderate foot pace.

SECT. 3. On approaching a crossing of intersecting streets, also in traversing a crossing or an intersection of streets, and in going around a corner or curve in the highway, a vehicle shall not be driven at a rate of speed other than what is reasonable and proper, having regard to traffic at the time and the place, and the use of the way and the safety of the public, and in no event exceeding eight miles an hour.

ARTICLE 5.

Stopping, Standing and Turning.

SECTION 1. No vehicle shall stop with its left side to the curb. This rule shall not apply to the one-way streets referred to in Article 8 of these rules.

SECT. 2. No vehicle shall remain backed up to the curb except when actually loading or unloading, and then for not more than six minutes at any one time. Between 6 o'clock p. m. and 6 o'clock a. m. this rule shall not apply to teams delivering coal, or to vehicles loading or unloading bulky merchandise or machinery, but in no event shall such teams or vehicles block surface cars for a longer period than ten minutes at any one time.

SECT. 3. Unless in an emergency or to allow another vehicle or a pedestrian to cross its way, no vehicle shall stop in any public street except close to the curb.

SECT. 4. No vehicle shall stop in such a way as to obstruct any street or crossing for the purpose of taking on or setting down a passenger, or for loading or unloading freight, or for any other purpose, except in case of accident, or when directed to do so by a police officer.

SECT. 5. No vehicle shall stop or stand within the intersection of any street, nor within ten feet of a street corner.

SECT. 6. A person having charge of a vehicle shall not stop the same abreast of another vehicle lengthwise of a street in any public street, except in case of accident or emergency.

SECT. 7. No person having charge of a vehicle shall place the same in any public street so as to prevent or obstruct the passing of other vehicles or surface cars, unless for a reasonable time not exceeding five minutes.

SECT. 8. When a horse-drawn vehicle is backed up to the curb, the horse or horses shall be turned so as to stand parallel with the sidewalk and headed in the general direction of travel for the side of the street on which the vehicle is standing.

SECT. 9. No person having charge of a vehicle in a public street shall refuse or neglect to stop the same or place the same as directed by a police officer, any of these rules to the contrary notwithstanding.

SECT. 10. No vehicle incapable of being turned within its own length and without backing shall be turned about in any of the streets within the territory bounded by and including the following-named streets:

Causeway street from Beverly street to Leverett street; Leverett street from Causeway street to Green street; Green street from Leverett street to Court street; Court street from Green street to Tremont street; Tremont street from Court street to Boylston street; Boylston street from Tremont street to Park square; Park square (easterly side) to Eliot street; Eliot street; Kneeland street from Washington street to South street; South street from Kneeland street to Summer street; High street from Summer street to Oliver street; Oliver street from High street to Milk street; Kilby street; State street from Kilby street to Commercial street; Commercial street from State street to Clinton street; Clinton street from Commercial street to Blackstone street; Blackstone street; Haymarket square; Washington street north from Haymarket square to Beverly street, or on any bridge.

SECT. 11. No horse shall be left unattended for a longer period than five minutes in any street or highway unless he is securely fastened by being tied to a post or a weight, or unless the wheels of the vehicle to which he is harnessed are securely tied, fastened or chained, and the vehicle is of sufficient weight to prevent its being dragged at a dangerous speed with the wheels so secured, and no vehicle shall be left standing in a public street for more than twenty minutes; but no person shall be deemed to have violated the twenty-minute section of this rule who shall satisfy the Court that he is a physician visiting the sick at the place he is stopping, or that he has a licensed cab or truck stand, and is occupying such stand, or that he holds a license from the Board of Street Commissioners authorizing him to occupy a part of a public street, and is occupying said part of the street for the sale of merchandise from a vehicle. This rule shall not apply to such streets in the market district as are or may be designated by the Police Commissioner where hawkers and pedlars may stand for the display and sale of their wares; neither shall it apply to such streets as are closed to travel during parades while such streets are so closed.

SECT. 12. No horse or vehicle shall be driven, backed, led or allowed to stand on any sidewalk.

ARTICLE 6.

Receiving and Delivering Passengers or Merchandise.

SECTION 1. Vehicles carrying passengers shall not stop in any of the following-named streets between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m., except to let off and take on passengers, and then for such time only as to allow a person to alight from or enter the vehicle:

Washington street, between Cornhill and Boylston street.
Tremont street, easterly side, between Court street and Boylston street.
School street.
Bromfield street.
Winter street.
Temple place.
West street.
Boylston street, between Washington street and Park square.
Avon street.
Congress street, between Post Office square and State street.

SECT. 2. For the purpose of awaiting their passengers drivers of vehicles may stop and stand the same in a single line close to the curb on the Common side of Park street and on the Common side of Tremont street from the head of Winter street to Boylston street, and in Post Office square, provided they do not stand in one place for a period of more than thirty minutes.

SECT. 3. No vehicle shall be allowed to stop in a public street or square for the purpose of exchanging goods or merchandise except in the following places, when it may be done with the vehicles abreast or backed up to each other, but in no event in such a manner or to such an extent as to obstruct the regular course of travel:

Haymarket square, at the junction of Haverhill street and Washington street north.
Post Office square, as near the center as possible.

Tyler street, between Beach street and Kneeland street.

Hudson street, between Beach street and Kneeland street.

SECT. 4. On streets not otherwise restricted merchandise may be transferred from trucks or other vehicles over the sidewalk by the use of skids, provided the sidewalk is not unreasonably obstructed and for a period of not more than five minutes at a time.

ARTICLE 7.

Care in Driving : Condition and Treatment of Horses: Stealing Rides.

SECTION 1. No person shall drive or conduct any vehicle in such condition or so constructed or so loaded as to be likely to cause delay in traffic or accident or injury to man, beast or property.

SECT. 2. No person shall drive or convey through any public street any vehicle the width of which, with its load, exceeds ten feet, except in accordance with a permit from the Board of Street Commissioners.

SECT. 3. No person shall, in any public street, use any truck or dray, the length whereof, from the end of the shaft to the extreme end of the side, shall be greater than twenty-four feet and six inches, or motor vehicles of a greater length than twenty-six feet, except in accordance with a permit from the Board of Street Commissioners.

SECT. 4. No person shall carry, or cause to be carried, on any vehicle in any public street, a load the weight of which exceeds six tons, unless such load consists of an article which cannot be divided, except in accordance with a permit from the Board of Street Commissioners.

SECT. 5. No person when driving a vehicle with a horse or horses attached thereto shall cease from holding the reins in his hands to guide and restrain the same, nor, when not riding, cease from walking by the head of the shaft or wheel horse, either holding or keeping within reach of the bridle or halter thereof.

SECT. 6. No one shall so load a vehicle with iron or other material that may strike together without properly deadening it so that it will cause no unnecessary noise.

SECT. 7. No one shall drive a public, numbered, licensed or business vehicle who is less than sixteen years of age.

SECT. 8. No one shall drive a horse not in every respect fit for use and capable for the work on which it is employed and free from lameness and sores or any vice or disease likely to cause delay in traffic or accident or injury to persons or property.

SECT. 9. No one shall illtreat, overload, overdrive or cruelly or unnecessarily beat any horse.

SECT. 10. No one shall crack or so use a whip as to annoy, interfere with or endanger any person or excite any horse other than that which he is using.

SECT. 11. No one shall steal a ride upon any vehicle or street car, and no one shall ride upon the rear of any vehicle without the consent of the person in charge thereof.

ARTICLE 8.

One-way Streets.

SECTION 1. Between the hours of 7 o'clock a.m. and 6 o'clock p.m., vehicles shall pass in but one direction in the following-named streets:

Exchange street, northerly from State street.

State street, westerly from Devonshire street, on the north of the Old State House.

State street, easterly from Washington street to Devonshire street, on the south of the Old State House.

School street, easterly from Tremont street.

Bromfield street, westerly from Washington street.

Winter street, westerly from Washington street.

Temple place, easterly from Tremont street.

West street, westerly from Washington street.

Province street, northerly from Bromfield street.

North street, easterly from Union street to Blackstone street.

Merchants row, northerly from North Market street.

Restricted Streets.

SECTION 1. Between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m. in the following-named streets there shall be no delivery of coal, ice, barrels, or kegs, or the backing up of vehicles to the curb, the collection of garbage, refuse or waste materials, the cleaning out of cesspools or the opening of manholes, except in an emergency:

Washington street, between Haymarket square and Eliot street.

Court street, between Washington street and Scollay square.

School street.

Bromfield street.

Winter street.

Temple place.

West street.

Boylston street, between Washington street and Park square.

Tremont street, between Scollay square and Boylston street.

Congress street, between Post Office square and State street.

Exchange street.

SECT. 2. No vehicle shall remain standing in any of the above-named restricted streets between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m. for more than five minutes at a time.

ARTICLE 10.

The Rights and Duties of Pedestrians.

The roadbeds of highways are primarily intended for vehicles, but pedestrians have the right to cross them in safety, and drivers of vehicles must exercise all possible care not to injure them. Pedestrians should, on their part, never step from the sidewalk without looking to see what is approaching.

By crossing as nearly as possible at right angles, preferably at regular crossings, persons will greatly add to their own safety, facilitate traffic and make it much less difficult for the horses, which often have to be reined in suddenly and painfully to avoid careless and unthinking pedestrians.

Pedestrians will aid in expediting traffic on sidewalks by following the same general rules laid down in Article 1, that is, by keeping to the right while walking, and when stopping for any purpose by doing so on one side near the curb and not in the way of a crossing.

These rules are both specific and general. The specific rules are intended to apply to the congested part of the city, and are to govern in the street and places referred to, so as to aid the progress of business and to facilitate traffic, while the general rules are intended to apply to all sections of the city. Drivers of vehicles should familiarize themselves with these rules so as to distinguish between the two classes, and they should also familiarize themselves with the district which is considered congested (section 10 of Article 5 defines this district) and govern themselves accordingly. \

ARTICLE 11.

Definitions.

SECTION 1. The word "vehicle" includes equestrians, horses hitched to vehicles, led horses, motor vehicles of all kinds, and every thing on wheels and runners except street cars.

SECT. 2. The word "horse" includes all domestic animals.

SECT. 3. The word "driver" includes the rider or driver of a horse, the rider of wheels and the operator of a motor vehicle or street car.

Penalties.

SECTION 1. Whoever violates any of the provisions of the foregoing rules and regulations shall be punished by a fine not exceeding twenty dollars for each offense.

Copies of these rules can be obtained at the office of the Board of Street Commissioners, City Hall, Police Headquarters, Pemberton square, and at any police station.

Complaints against any person violating any of the foregoing rules and regulations, and against drivers of cabs and other licensed and numbered vehicles, should be made at Police Headquarters or the nearest police station or to any police officer.

TWO HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-SIXTH LOCATION.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, June 22, 1908.

The Committee on Railroads, to whom was recommitted — June 15 — the petition of the West End Street Railway Company for leave to construct alterations of tracks in Mystic avenue, Charlestown, having further considered the subject, respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

For the Committee,

W. PRENTISS PARKER,

Accepted.

Chairman

Ordered, That in addition to the rights heretofore granted to the West End Street Railway Company for locations for tracks in the streets of the City of Boston, said company shall have the right to construct, maintain and use an alteration of its existing locations, as follows: Double tracks on Mystic avenue from and connecting with the existing tracks on Main street near Haverhill street, to the boundary line between the cities of Boston and Somerville.

Also an addition to its existing locations, as follows: Double curved tracks on Mystic avenue, from and connecting with the tracks herein petitioned for, to land of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, southeast of Dorrance street, together with all necessary curves, cross-overs, switches and connections; said tracks and alterations being shown by lines on a plan made by A. L. Plimpton, dated May 9, 1908, and deposited in the office of the Superintendent of Streets.

And the consent of the Board of Aldermen is granted to said company to establish and maintain the overhead single trolley electric system of motive power in the operation of its cars on said location, and to erect, maintain and use iron poles, not less than twenty feet in height, at places indicated by red dots or circles on the aforesaid plan, or at such other places, to be shown by blue dots or circles on said plan, as may be approved by the Superintendent of Streets, and to place on said poles such wires and other appliances as the Commissioner of Wires shall approve.

The right to lay down the tracks located by this order is upon condition that the whole work of laying the same, the form of rail to be used, and the kind and quality of material used in paving said tracks, and the kind and locations of poles, shall be under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets, and shall be approved by him. Also upon condition that said railway company shall accept this order, and shall file such acceptance with the City Clerk in accordance with the provisions of Statute Law; otherwise it shall be null and void.

The whole work authorized to be done under the provisions of this order shall be completed within one year from the date of the passage of this order.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, December 21, 1908.

Passed. Approved by the Mayor, December 28, 1908.

A true copy.

AUDITOR'S MONTHLY EXHIBIT.

GENERAL AND SPECIAL APPROPRIATIONS

FOR 1908-1909.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT,
CITY HALL, BOSTON, January 1, 1909.

HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD,

Mayor of the City of Boston :

SIR, — The undersigned, in compliance with chapter 6, section 7, Revised Ordinances of 1898, herewith presents an exhibit of the General and Special Appropriations for the present financial year of 1908-1909, as shown in the books in his office January 1, 1909, including the January draft — being twelve months' drafts — exhibiting the original appropriations, the balances brought forward from 1907-1908, the amounts drawn January 1, the total expenditures, and the balance of each appropriation unexpended at that date; also a statement of the Debt, Sinking-Funds and Right to Borrow, December 31, 1908.

The January Draft comprises special payments and weekly pay rolls during the month of December and pay rolls and bills payable January 1, 1909.

From the balances unexpended will be paid the interest on debt, weekly payments of salaries and wages to January 28, inclusive, special drafts during January, and County of Suffolk Court expenses.

Respectfully submitted,

J. ALFRED MITCHELL,
City Auditor.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION APPOINTED BY THE MAYOR TO INVESTIGATE LODGING-HOUSE
CONDITIONS IN THE CITY OF BOSTON.

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR, January 18, 1909.

To the Gentlemen of the City Council:

I transmit herewith the report of the special commission appointed by me to investigate lodging-house conditions in this city, and I recommend that it be printed as a city document.

Respectfully,

G. A. HIBBARD,
Mayor.

---

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, January 18, 1909.

Ordered printed and sent down.

JOHN T. PRIEST,
City Clerk.

REPORT OF COMMISSION.

BOSTON, January 1, 1909.

HON. GEORGE A. HIBBARD,

Mayor of the City of Boston.

SIR, — In compliance with your request of May 19, 1908, we have investigated lodging-house conditions in Boston, and beg leave to submit the following report:

The commission has held three public and thirty private hearings at which it has heard more than fifty witnesses. Individual members have visited many lodging houses and have consulted a large number of landladies and others. The commission has obtained valuable information from the State Bureau of Labor Statistics, the City Statistics Department, the Commissioner of Police, the Licensing Board, the Assessing Department, the Board of Health, and other departments of the city government. It desires to thank these officials for their ready helpfulness, and especially the Children's Institutions Department for the loan of one of its rooms for hearings and the Board of Health for the valuable special investigation which it has made at the commission's request. (See Appendix E.)

Expenses incurred in addition to the above stated were paid by members of this commission.

The subject upon which the commission was asked to report is that of the lodging house proper, including the boarding house but not including the class of lodging houses charging twenty-five cents or less per night, which have already been dealt with by chapter 414 of the Acts of 1894; and it has confined itself to this subject except so far as measures suggested for dealing with it have seemed likely to affect other interests.

EXTENT OF THE PROBLEM.

There were in the city in 1905, according to the state census of that year, 3,290 persons who gave their occupation as that of carrying on a boarding or lodging house. (See Appendix A.) There were at the same date 20,116 families, including the above 3,290 persons, who took one or more boarders or lodgers. (See Appendix B.) Of this 20,116 families a large proportion undoubtedly lived in tenements. There were, for instance, 1,170 of them in Ward 6. On the other hand, 2,074, the highest number in any one ward, lived in Ward 10; and although undoubtedly many, both in this ward and elsewhere, lived in flats (which are indistinguishable from tenements under the law), a large proportion undoubtedly lived in houses of their own, either owned or leased. Many of these, it is true, must have taken only one or two lodgers, for the total number of boarders and lodgers in 1905 (See Appendix C.) was 62,562 — or only about an average of three to each of the 20,116 families. Still, a considerable percentage of the 20,116 families taking boarders or lodgers would undoubtedly be included in any probable definition of the lodging house and must be considered in any study of the lodging-house problem.

Of the 62,562 boarders and lodgers 45,603 described themselves as "lodgers" — 29,235 male and 16,368 female; while 16,959 — 12,513 male and 4,446 female — described themselves as "boarders." A great many of these, as the table shows, lived in the tenement house rather than in the lodging-house wards. There were, for instance, 2,191 boarders and 1,696 lodgers in Ward 6. The comparative infrequency of the old-fashioned boarding houses makes it probable that the great majority of the boarders as distinguished from lodgers lived in tenements.

But after all deductions for families taking lodgers, but not included in any given definition of a lodging house, or on the score of boarders and lodgers who live in tenement houses and therefore form a part of the tenement-house rather than of the lodging-house problem, the latter is evidently sufficiently large to merit serious consideration.

Location. — Of the 3,290 persons giving their occupation as keepers of boarding and lodging houses there were some in every ward, but 2,643, or over two-thirds of the whole, were in Wards 6 to 12, inclusive. Wards 7, 8, 9, 10 and 12 stand at the head of the list as to numbers, while Wards 6 and 11 follow very close. Observation and abundant testimony confirm the evidence of these statistics in indicating the existence of two main lodging-house districts: one at the back of Beacon Hill, including parts of Wards 6, 8 and 11; and another much larger district, beginning in the southern part of the Back Bay and extending, between somewhere about Berkeley and Dover streets on one side and the neighborhood of the Fens and the Roxbury line on the other, to Harrison avenue and Albany street, and including parts of Wards 7, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

Landladies. — Of the "keepers of boarding and lodging houses" in 1905, 206 were men and 3,084 women. About half of the latter are either widows or single. About 50 per cent. are partly supported by a husband or relative; while to the remainder the keeping of the lodging house affords practically the only means of support.* Many of the landladies possess a training and ability that would succeed at almost any kind of business, and some of these carry on two or more houses. A great many, on the other hand, are without business training or experience, — women who resort to the taking of lodgers as the only means open to them for keeping a roof over their heads. Others have come to Boston for the sake of the educational advantages to their children. Many ought never to have gone into the business at all, but have been tempted in by real estate sharks, and these are constantly retiring after having lost the little money they had saved.

The net income from a lodging house is on the average very small. Members of the commission have interviewed many landladies as to their finances, and from information obtained from this and other sources it is difficult to see how the average net profit upon a typical house of fourteen rooms can be much over $150 a year. This sum and a place to live in seem to represent about the average financial return from a life of constant labor and anxiety.

The price of rooms varies, of course, in different parts of the city. Apart from extreme and exceptional instances the price of a square room is from $3.50 to $8, the majority being four or five dollars. The side rooms vary from $1.50 to $3. The rent which a landlady pays for a house varies correspondingly, the rent of a ten or eleven-room house in the South End averaging perhaps $60 a month, and rents in the West End being a little higher.

Lodgers. — Of the lodgers a large proportion are young men and women of whom probably two-thirds were born and brought up in New England and New York, mostly in country towns. The men are salesmen, clerks and skilled mechanics, and include a considerable professional class. The women are clerks or bookkeepers, stenographers, dress-makers, milliners, teachers, waitresses. A great variety of other occupations are also represented. The number of shop girls is comparatively small.

A large and interesting class of lodgers in Boston consists of students. Boston is the largest educational center in the country. Some ten thousand young people come here every year to complete their education; the number present in the city at a given time is from 20,000 to 25,000. The dozen or more large educational institutions in the city furnish dormitories for only a small part of these. So that the lodging houses of Boston are to a great extent practically college dormitories.

The lodger, in short, represents Young America coming up to the city to get its education or to seek its fortune. What is the lodging house doing for these young people? What effect is it having on them? Is its influence for better or for worse, and if the latter, can it be improved, and in what way?

ALLEGED EVILS.

The question is not whether there is evil in the lodging houses but whether the lodging house as it at present exists is itself a cause of evil in ways which society can reasonably expect to remedy. Nobody, so far as the commission is aware, has made any general accusation against the Boston lodging houses; nobody has said that they are all, or a majority of them, bad in any important respect. What has been said is that certain evils are sufficiently prevalent among them to call for public action. The evils thus alleged are chiefly injuries to morals and injuries to health.

Health. — As to the actual effect of the lodging house upon the health of its inmates, the commission has found existing data inconclusive. A comparison of death rates furnishes an unsatisfactory basis for a conclusion where the classes of people compared vary in race, in conditions of life, and in other respects, to so great an extent as is the case when we undertake to compare one section of the city with another. The death rate of Ward 12, the only area for which figures are obtainable which can, with any approach to justice, be classed as a lodging-house district, is lower than that of the city at large, being, in 1905, 18.22 per thousand as against 18.47 per thousand. This favorable showing, however, is accounted for by the fact that the ward contains a larger proportion of people in the prime of life than does the city as a whole. The commission has accordingly had a table made comparing the death rate by age periods for the ward and for the city at large. (See Appendix D.) The table shows a great excess in the death rate in the ward for children under five years old; but this high rate is undoubtedly due to the tenement-house portion of the ward rather than to the lodging houses. For the other ages the differences are slight. The fact that a large proportion of the lodgers have homes elsewhere, to which they would be likely to go when they are sick, probably has something to do with this comparatively favorable showing.

The more satisfactory method of determining sanitary conditions is by actual investigation. The commission accordingly requested the Board of Health to investigate sample blocks in the various lodging-house sections, a request with which the Board very courteously complied. The result, by blocks, is given in Appendix E.

From the data thus obtained it appears that although the sanitary condition of the majority of the lodging houses is good, that of a considerable minority leaves much to be desired. In those blocks classed as good or fair, also, there are many instances of defective drains or cesspools and some of dark halls or dirty cellars. The sanitary arrangements are often insufficient. There are many cases of fifteen or twenty persons to one bathroom and one case of twenty-three persons. The commission has received testimony of the presence of vermin in some of the lodging houses.

The Board of Health's investigation also shows that the rule seems to be to use wooden barrels for ashes, that fire escapes are the exception, and that the scuttle in the roof is available in only about half the houses examined.

Morality. — The great majority of lodging houses receive both sexes. The lodgers are largely young people. They are living for the most part far from their families and friends and from that neighborhood opinion in the midst of which they grew up and which, in one form or another, is so potent an influence in all our lives. Many of them have no intimate and habitual contact with family life. The wages of many of the young women are very low, barely enough to enable them to live and to dress as they are required to do in order to hold their business positions. The wages of the men are higher, often very much higher.

The lodging houses are to a great extent, as has been said, practically college dormitories. Except for this matter of wages the situation is somewhat the same — with the lodgers who work as well as with the student lodgers — as if a college should lodge its men and women students in the same buildings. The working lodgers, it is true, are as a rule older than college students, and busier than most of these. On the other hand there is nobody whose business it is to take a semi-paternal interest in their lives.

The Parlor Question. — This general situation is in its nature a dangerous one. And there is one special danger which the usual method of conducting a lodging house presents. The great majority of lodging houses have no parlor and no place inside of the house, except the entry or her own room, in which a young woman can receive her friends; and there is no place except her room where she can pass an evening with them. It has accordingly become to a great extent the established custom for young women in the lodging houses to receive their friends of both sexes in their own rooms.

A great deal of testimony has been received upon the merits and demerits of this custom. The rooms are usually provided with a couch or folding bed, and are otherwise furnished not as an ordinary chamber but as a parlor or sitting room, and are regarded as such by their occupants. Very often also a number of girls lodge together, and in this and other ways both the dangers and the disadvantages of isolation are greatly lessened. Many lodgers and others have testified that the custom referred to is unobjectionable. It doubtless is so in the case of young men and women of strong character. In the great majority of cases no very serious evil results. America has learned to trust her young people further than other countries have done, and upon the whole with excellent effect.

On the other hand the practically unanimous testimony of impartial persons who have had wide experience of lodging-house conditions, or of their effects, is that this custom is a harmful one. These have testified that it has resulted in a lowering of standard as regards the relation between the sexes throughout a considerable part of lodging-house life, in the loss on the part of many of the young men of something of that respect toward the other sex that is so valuable to both and so great a safeguard, and in many cases in even more serious results.

There is no doubt that serious evils of the sort testified to do exist. There are many temporary unions among lodgers, sometimes ending in marriage but more often, so far as the testimony received by the commission goes, in separation and the ruin of the woman's life. There are also unions of an even more temporary nature; but how far these latter are the results of lodging-house life is more problematical.

In conclusion, the commission is convinced that in this matter serious evils do exist, and that the absence of the parlor is one of the causes of them.

Moral Contagion. — Another way in which it is alleged that many lodging houses are a cause of immorality is through the mixing of moral and immoral individuals in the same house. There is in Boston, as in every city, a class of men, and unfortunately a class of women also, who lead habitually immoral lives. Many of these apply for admission to lodging houses in which respectable people live. About half of the landladies, as has been said, are absolutely dependent on the lodging house for their support; and the margin of profit is so small that whether they make a small income or a net loss will often — possibly in a majority of instances — depend on the letting of one room. Many of the most undesirable people pay well and promptly. Most of them are quiet and discreet. All the landladies need to do is not to see too much. The alternative may be apparent starvation on the one hand against a slight relaxation of standard on the other. If under these circumstances the landlady ceases to exercise a strict supervision over her lodgers' way of life, if when a man asks whether there are "privileges" she answers "yes," such a result is not greatly to be wondered at. There are, at all events, in a considerable proportion of the lodging houses, men who receive young women in their rooms, or women supported by men or who lead more openly immoral lives.

So that our city's provision for the thousands of young men and women who come here every year to get their education or to seek their fortune is such as to subject them, at close range, to moral examples of the worst possible sort. Some of the lodging places we offer them — not, to the novice, easily distinguishable from the rest — contain a class from which, more than from all others, they ought especially to be protected.

This influence must be a harmful one. Example is a great factor in morality, especially with the young. Atmosphere, suggestion, environment are potent influences. Many young men can resist temptation at a distance; it is much more difficult when it is present in the same house. Among the many conflicting opinions as to the best methods of dealing with the social evil, all who have studied it are agreed that one thing to be done is to impede its spread, to check it on its growing edge. No vice or physical disease could ask better opportunity than is presented by mixing the sick and the well in the same house.

And physical disease is not a mere analogy in this case. It is the general consensus of medical opinion that venereal disease is to-day the cause of more suffering than any other form not excepting tuberculosis, and that the suffering falls almost as much on innocent wives and children as on the guilty. From the sanitary point of view alone we have here a problem of as great importance as any with which the modern city has to deal.

It is true that people need not stay in a house with immoral characters unless they choose, and lodgers frequently do move out for this reason; some have testified to trying several houses before finding one in which moral conditions were such that they were willing to stay. But the question is not whether temptation can be resisted. What has been claimed is that, as human nature is constituted, it is certain to produce harm, and does produce it; and that its unnecessary presence is an evil, to be abated as such.

The commission believes that those who have testified to the existence and gravity of this special evil among the lodging houses are right.

Real Estate Sharks and Defaulting Lodgers. — Evils important in themselves, which are also partly responsible for the low returns received by landladies, and so for other evils, are the cheating of landladies by real estate sharks, and by lodgers who leave without paying for their rooms. There is much evidence of the systematic luring of poor women into the lodging-house business by a class of men who make a practice of "selling" lodging houses — that is, letting house, furniture and good will — under a variety of false representations as to their value and as to the right in the furniture which the victim actually acquires. A favorite device is that of filling the house with "straw" lodgers who evaporate soon after the bargain is completed.

REMEDIES.

Health. — The remedy for the existing unsanitary conditions among the lodging houses is to provide for inspection and action by the Board of Health. Legally this seems to be already provided for by chapter 382 of the Acts of 1885 and amendments thereof. (See chapter 42, sections 1-24, of the Consolidated Statutes Relating to the City of Boston, 1908.) A lodging house was defined in that act (section 4, fourth paragraph) as follows: " 'Lodging house' means a building in which persons are temporarily accommodated with sleeping apartments, and includes hotels." This law has been rendered ambiguous, not only as to lodging houses but as to tenement houses, to which it equally applies, by the repeal of the section containing definition. It would be well to replace this section (section 4, chapter 382, Laws of 1885) with such change in the definition of the lodging house as shall make the application clear. The following definition is suggested:

"Lodging house" means an apartment or tenement, or a building other than a tenement house, in which two or more persons other than the occupant and his family, hire sleeping accommodations, and includes hotels. "Family" in this connection includes only parents, grandparents, children and grandchildren, brothers and sisters, husbands, wives and children of these.

Throughout most of the act of 1885 lodging houses were, and in what remains of it they still are, included with tenement houses in the requirements for inspection and supervision. Every lodging house must be inspected twice a year; must be kept clean; the Board of Health may limit the number of occupants of the whole or any part of one, and may make such further regulations as to overcrowding, ventilation, and occupation as it sees fit. Every owner, or person having charge of a lodging house, must leave his address with the Board of Health and also have it posted on the wall or in the entry of the house, and officers of the Board have free access to every part of the building when required in the proper execution of their duties. Important sanitary requirements of the act (Section 1) apply not merely to tenement houses and lodging houses but to all dwellings, and the provisions in regard to cellars (Section 9) apply to all cellars wherever they may be.

What is needed, therefore, is not new legislation but a sufficient appropriation to enable the Board of Health to attend to this important part of its duties and a public opinion that will support it in so doing.

Testimony received by the commission in regard to lodgers in tenement houses and in cheap lodging houses in the tenement-house districts bears also on the general question of work that needs to be done by the Board of Health. In the North End, especially among the Poles and Italians, there are sometimes as many as six lodgers sleeping in one small room of a tenement, and as many as ten in somewhat larger rooms in lodging houses. There is, however, in some houses, a rule against more than two persons sleeping in the same bed. The usual arrangement is for the man to pay a certain sum, usually about two dollars and one-half a month, for his lodging and for the right to use the stove to cook his meals. Besides overcrowding, the great evil resulting from the taking of lodgers in the tenements is that there is no room left for the children in the home. The men lodgers often pass the whole day indoors during the winter season when work is slack, and rational family life is thus rendered practically impossible. Among the Jews the number of lodgers is smaller, and they are more often boarders, taking their meals with the family. Both in this and other connections the commission has received much evidence to the effect that receptacles for garbage are very frequently inadequate, that garbage and rubbish are not collected often enough, and that back yards and alleys, especially the private ones, are often permitted to get into a very filthy state. There is evidently need of more activity on the part of the Board of Health, and the conditions found add force to the suggestion made by Mayor Collins' tenement-house commission that the city should gradually acquire the private alleys. If that is impracticable, some public board should clean them up, charging the abutters whatever the service costs.

An addition should be made to the above cited law, providing specifically that it shall be the duty of the Board of Health to inquire into the existence of the social evil in the lodging houses and to take such measures towards its suppression as in the Board's judgment the protection of the health of the community requires. There are, as has been said, sound sanitary reasons for such a course.

Moral Evils. Public Parlors. — The moral evils existing in lodging houses present a more difficult problem. It might indeed seem as though any harm resulting from the absence of a parlor might be cured simply by legislation properly enforced requiring a parlor in every lodging house, or in all in which single women are received. But against such legislation a number of objections have been urged. Both landladies and lodgers have testified that lodgers would not use a parlor; that a girl naturally wants to receive her friends in her own room and among her own things and not in a semi-public place among surroundings alien to her tastes; and some have added that, if they did use it, it would become too public to be agreeable. Some said that the mixing of lodgers in a parlor would promote immorality, and others that it would lead to comparing notes as to room rent and that trouble for the landladies would result.

These objections, except perhaps the one based on the fear of insurrection among the lodgers, all have considerable force. A public parlor at best is not the sort of reception room that most girls would choose; and one provided merely to satisfy the law might be an especially homesick kind of place. A landlady hostile to the law could, moreover, with a very few words, or even with a look, render its use still less acceptable.

In cases where the landlady's own parlor was the room provided it would be very difficult for the official charged with the enforcement of the law to determine whether or not the provisions made and the attitude of the landlady in regard to it were such as to render it practically acceptable to the lodger.

On the other hand, many landladies would undoubtedly feel that it would be for their interest to make their parlor attractive.

As to the mixing of different kinds of guests, it is to be answered first, that the landlady should not permit the range of difference to include the worst class that now infests some of the lodging houses; and that in any case the parlor would not seem greatly to add to the danger of forming undesirable acquaintances. Still, the possible pressure to be sociable with all who happen to live in the same house would be in some respects an evil.

As to the unwillingness of present lodgers to use a parlor if one were provided, that is a difficulty that would grow less, and possibly be cured, in time. What is hoped from the parlor is not that it would all at once revolutionize existing customs; young women who have got accustomed to receiving their friends in their own rooms would probably in most cases continue to do so. Of course, nobody contemplates any legal interference in that respect. What is expected is that the thousands of young women who come every year fresh from their homes to lodging-house life — each year's entering class, so to speak — not finding themselves forced, by the absence of a parlor, to choose between the life of a nun and receiving men in their own rooms; would not be led to adopt the latter alternative; and in this way the custom would gradually die out. It is not a question of compelling the lodger to use a parlor, but of ceasing, through the absence of a parlor, to compel her to receive in her own room on penalty of social isolation.

But a much more serious difficulty remains. Under the present relation of house rents to the price of rooms the provision of a parlor is to a majority of landladies a financial impossibility. It is difficult, as we have said, to figure their net profit on the average house at much over the free rent of the landlady's own room and $150 a year. The rent of a room suitable for a parlor, even allowing for the present proportion of vacancies, is usually considerably more than that. Something would be gained by permitting any of the "square" or larger rooms on the first or second floors to be used for the purpose, so as to take more advantage of inevitable vacancies; but even under that system the landlady's profit would in very many instances be entirely wiped out.

Any law, accordingly, requiring a parlor should be drawn to take effect far enough ahead to permit present leases to expire and to allow for a readjustment of the rents, both of houses and of rooms. Such a readjustment would in that event undoubtedly take place. The withdrawal of a considerable proportion of the rooms now on the market would have about the same effect as the withdrawal of the same proportion of houses in tending to raise the price of the remainder. This increase in price, on the other hand, might deter some lodgers from coming to the city at all and so tend to check such rise.

The ultimate result of legislation requiring a parlor would therefore apparently be a certain amount of hardship; in the first instance, perhaps, to the landlady (though this would be largely avoided by the proposed postponement of the taking effect of the law); secondly, to the landlord or lodger, or both. Such results are of course an evil. The price of real estate in our lodging-house districts, in some parts of it especially (See Appendix F.), is already depressed. Many lodgers, on the other hand, especially some of the women, cannot afford to pay more for rooms than they do now. Even the increase of 10 per cent. or so that the public parlor would cost them, if it should turn out that the lodgers had to bear the whole burden of it, would be a serious thing to them. There might be some tendency of the wages of the women lodgers to rise as a result of the lessening in their number, if any considerable proportion of them were prevented from coming to the city by the higher price of rooms; and some believe that there would be such a tendency as a direct result of the increased cost of living.

It may be that for the lodger herself (for it is the female lodger that must be considered in this connection) it would turn out that the apparent economic hardship would be of benefit in the end. Wages are favorably affected by efficiency as well as by scarcity of labor, and are apt to be highest where health and happiness are best secured. It may be asked, moreover, concerning the young woman lodger who as yet cannot afford to pay her share toward a parlor whether she can afford to go without one. Can she afford to leave her home at all until safe conditions can be provided for her elsewhere?

At best there is an evident dilemma here between the social need of a parlor on the one hand and the financial difficulty of providing it on the other. The question for the public to decide is which consideration is the more important.

Legislation of the sort proposed would, at all events, be nothing new. In the case of tenement houses our laws require a minimum of space and light and air and have thus done exactly the same sort of thing that the requirement of a parlor would do in the direction of forcing higher room rents on the tenants without a corresponding gain to the owner of the land. Tenement rents are demonstrably higher in New York as a result of substantially the same tenement-house law, applied there in 1902, that was adopted by us in 1907. The public has adopted this legislation to defend itself against physical disease. Is the moral and physical danger in the case under consideration equally important? The commission is of the opinion that upon the whole it is; but that the question of legislation on this subject had better be deferred until it can be undertaken with the wider knowledge to be expected from the enforcement of the present lodging-house law by the Board of Health.

The law when enacted should be inserted in the general lodging-house laws.

Licensing or Registration.—Another remedy suggested is licensing or registration; that is to say, forbidding the carrying on of a lodging house without permission from some public body such as the Police Commissioner, the Board of Health, the Licensing Board, or a commission especially created by the Legislature and appointed by the Governor, for that purpose. Such a provision would imply a small annual license fee, perhaps one dollar. It would not imply the requirement that the license should be posted up.

The chief advantage urged in behalf of such a system is that it would make it possible gradually to weed out evils which, by the cumbersome methods of the criminal law, are practically impossible to reach. It is thought that a commission having the matter in charge could exercise a good deal of moral influence outside of its definitely legal authority, and that through such influence, and by the use of its legal authority as a last resort, it could gradually eliminate methods and practices in the conduct of lodging houses, which are clearly detrimental, some of which are not violations of existing laws and would be difficult to formulate in a statute, and which are often difficult or impossible to prove in a criminal prosecution. Such a commission, it is claimed, could as a practical matter arrive at a moral certainty, such as would warrant action upon their part, in cases where the same evidence would not be available, or would not be sufficient, in a court of law. Many people would be willing to testify privately before a commission who would not want to be brought into court in such a matter.

Against the license system it is urged, in the first place, that the landladies are opposed to it. This would be a serious objection if such opposition seemed likely to be permanent. Little will be accomplished in this matter of the improvement of lodging-house conditions unless the good will of the landladies is secured. But the commission is convinced from its experience in meeting a great many of the landladies that if the license system could be shown, either beforehand or in its actual application, to be capable of doing the good that is claimed for it — of raising the general tone of the lodging houses and putting the worse ones out of business — the great majority of the landladies would give it their hearty support. They, better than any one else, are aware of existing evils; they are especially interested, both morally and financially, in their correction, and they would not remain hostile to any plan that seemed likely to accomplish such a result.

Another objection against licensing is that it would involve an invasion of the home. Here the analogy of the tenement house is again important inasmuch as it is made up of homes. The tenement house, it is true, is not subject to license, but it is subject to regulation and inspection and, as everybody believes, rightly so. Doctors, pharmacists, plumbers, and the members of many other callings are licensed, and no degradation is felt in consequence. The objection seems by no means conclusive provided it can be shown that licensing would serve an important and legitimate public purpose.

It is objected, also, that the license system contains the danger of graft. The danger is undoubtedly real. The commission believes, however, that honest commissioners could and would be found.

But there is a greater objection against the licensing system, and a more radical one, involving its very essence. The very fact that such a commission could take cognizance of matters not recognized in the penal law, and that it could act on evidence not obtainable for use in court, and without an open judicial proceeding, implies the possession of a certain amount of legislative power and the right to conduct quasi-judicial proceedings without the safeguards to the rights of citizens which the ordinary courts provide. The question raised is whether we want to entrust a commission on the subject of lodging houses with such powers as these. We do entrust similar powers in regard to a great variety of subjects—including, besides the callings above enumerated, dance halls, pool rooms, bowling alleys, picture shows, hack driving, and the sale of liquor—to our various licensing authorities, the Police Commissioner, the Licensing Board and the Mayor. But do we want to treat the lodging houses in this way? The objection may, perhaps, best be stated in the form of an alternative: either upon the one hand such a commission would not practically be able, in the face of public opinion, to enforce any rules outside of those embodied in the law, or to act on evidence less convincing than that which would be equally available and equally conclusive in a court, or to make use of any less open and careful procedure; or else, upon the other hand, the commission would be too much of a star chamber affair to be either desirable or safe. In some of the matters now governed by license the necessity of the sort of summary and elastic power alluded to is generally recognized. In regard to others the procedure is practically very similar to that of a court of law. In the case of taking from a woman her means of livelihood by refusing to grant or to continue her license—which would be the only legal power that a lodging-house commission would possess—it is claimed that public opinion would insist upon practically a legal procedure and a legal proof and that very little accordingly would be accomplished that could not be accomplished equally well by the courts.

The commission believes upon the whole that although these objections, especially the last, have much weight, the license system under a properly constituted commission could, in spite of them, probably help materially in improving conditions among the lodging houses. It might not be able to do a great deal more than, theoretically, could equally well be done by criminal prosecution, especially with proper additions to criminal law, but it would differ from a court in the essential respect that it would be obliged to pass on the merits of every lodging house and not merely upon those against which proceedings are instituted by public-spirited citizens. It would be its business to improve conditions in every way in which it could properly do so, and not merely to pass judgment in a few instances where conditions are flagrantly wrong. Moreover, it is probably not entirely true that it would never be justified, morally and at the bar of public opinion, in acting where a court of law would not be able to act.

But the greatest difficulty in the way of a successful license system still remains. Such a system would apparently involve the community in a war of extermination against the social evil, so called; a war, which so far as the commission can foresee, might very probably end merely in spreading it. A licensing body would find it practically impossible to refuse a license to the class of houses which it would especially desire to suppress, namely, those in which the good and bad are mixed together, and at the same time to grant a license to houses where immorality was made a regular business. If it granted the latter kind of house a license, or if the closing of the latter did not actually follow from the refusal of a license, the closing of the other house would also be practically impossible. The attempt to close it would, in such a case, create a feeling of injustice, and would inevitably lead to accusations of graft, and to a general belief that the commission was acting in bad faith. On the other hand, past experience in many cities seems to show that the closing of the thoroughly bad houses would, in the absence of a public intention to root out the social evil more determined than at present exists, be apt to result simply in driving it into apartment houses and other places where, for the very reasons already enumerated as applying to the lodging houses, it would have a greater opportunity for evil than it now possesses.

Largely for this last reason the commission has, with great reluctance, arrived at the conclusion that the licensing of lodging houses, for the present at least, had better be deferred.

On the other hand, the postponement, at least for the present, of a trial of the license system does not imply the abandoning of all public effort to deal with the existing moral evils.

Inspection of lodging houses by the Board of Health, if the commission's recommendations are adopted, especially that in regard to the social evil, will throw more light on this subject than now exists, and the experience and recommendations of the Board will be a valuable guide to further action.

Suggested Amendments to the Criminal Law. — Something also can be done in this direction by more adequately defining in our criminal law certain forms of the social evil and certain methods of promoting it, and the penalty could in some cases be visited on the land owner with excellent effect.

A New York statute (the Tenement House Act, Chapter V., Title III.) contains provisions, in the case of the carrying on of a house of prostitution in a tenement house, for proceeding against the property itself as defendant, for admitting the reputation of the premises in evidence, for fining the owner or lessee $1,000 when he has knowledge of the evil, and for imputing knowledge to him under certain conditions. These provisions have been found extremely effective in driving prostitution out of the tenement houses. The commission recommends that a similar law be enacted, applying not only to tenement houses but also to all lodging houses in which decent people live (defined perhaps as lodging houses in which there are people living who are not engaged in or connected with the offenses named). The effectiveness of the New York law has, it is true, resulted very largely from the great social agitation that preceded its enactment. The law is itself, nevertheless, an effective instrument and one of which an aroused public opinion in our own city may well make use.

The commission also recommends legislation forbidding certain practices which clearly ought not to be allowed, but which are not covered by existing laws. The following suggested form for such legislation sufficiently indicates the practices referred to:

No person shall let or agree to let a room in a lodging house, or being a keeper of a lodging house, or the servant or agent of such, shall permit or agree to permit such a room to be occupied, with the consent or understanding, expressed or implied, that such room may be used for purposes of prostitution or assignation.

No persons shall act, or agree to act, as an agent for prostitution or assignation, or shall make or agree to make any agreement or arrangement for, or shall in any way promote, the same.

In addition to what may be accomplished by legal enactment, much may also be done by private initiative, especially on the part of landladies.

One form in which private action might be effective is through providing some sort of list or registry of desirable lodging houses. There already exist a number of partial lists. Most of the educational institutions keep such a list; many churches have lists more or less considerable; and there are several others, one of which has the support of an organization among the landladies themselves. It would seem as though a general list in which all the others were brought together, and which might be extended and advertised, might become a great power in protecting both the lodger and the landlady and in raising the general tone.

The work of such an organization in protecting the landladies against defaulting lodgers would be greatly assisted if each landlady were to keep a book in which every lodger was required to register.

In Illinois there is a law requiring such registration. (See Appendix G.) It has been suggested by many people that such a law should be enacted for the Boston lodging houses. If it should require the lodging-house keeper to add the date and designate the room to be occupied and to show the same upon request to the Board of Health and its officers, it would be of use also to that Board in determining the nature of the business carried on. The suggestion of such a law would, however, come with more force from the landladies themselves than from the present commission.

An organization among the landladies, moreover, might do valuable work in fighting the real estate sharks, of whom mention has been made. A few well-merited jail sentences might considerably lessen the activity of such persons and thereby tend to improve the general situation.

Social Resources.—The commission has made some study of the social resources of the lodging-house districts and has had valuable assistance in so doing. The indications are that these districts are sufficiently supplied with amusement but are greatly lacking in social opportunities. There is, for instance, very little opportunity for dancing outside of the public dance halls, which are in most, if not in all, cases thoroughly objectionable. There seems to be a strong demand for educational advantages; for instance, the Central Evening School on Montgomery street has an enrollment of 3,400 and an average attendance of 2,500, of whom perhaps 20 per cent. are lodgers. The Franklin Union classes number about 375, of whom nearly a third are lodgers, and it has a waiting list of over 600. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. M. C. U. classes are also well attended.

The municipal concerts in the Girls' High School on West Newton street and in the Bowdoin School on Myrtle street have each an attendance of 600, which is all the school halls will hold. These are not band concerts but consist of first-class music given by good orchestras. It would seem as though their number ought to be greatly increased.

Lodgers visit the Public Library and its branches and the Art Museum, and attend the Lowell lectures, but it is believed that many of them are not acquainted with the city's educational resources; and it has been suggested that much good might be done by the newspapers if they would include a sort of directory of such in their columns.

The commission's recommendations may be summarized as follows:

1. That the "lodging house" be defined so as unmistakably to include the ordinary lodging house.

2. That it be made specifically the duty of the Board of Health to examine into the existence of the social evil in lodging houses and to take such measures towards its suppression as the protection of the public health may require.

3. That the Board of Health be given a sufficient appropriation to carry out the law.

4. That the Board of Health keep the private alleyways clean.

5. That a parlor is desirable is the opinion of the commission, but we believe that action on this should be postponed.

6. That a law be passed placing a penalty upon the owner of the land in case of certain moral offenses in tenement houses or in lodging houses in which decent people live.

7. That certain methods of promoting moral evils in lodging houses and elsewhere be forbidden by law.

APPENDIX E.

Report of the Boston Board of Health on certain blocks examined by the Board at the request of the commission. The summaries herein given are taken from detailed reports on each house examined.

1. Block of houses, bounded by Newbury street, both sides, from Arlington to Berkeley street.

These are large stone and brick buildings. Found the sanitary condition, as to plumbing, ventilation and cleanliness, good; the provision for fire escape is fair; no overcrowding.

2. Block of houses, bounded by West Newton street, St. Botolph street, Massachusetts and Huntington avenues.

Houses in good condition; sanitary arrangements good; furnishings good and no overcrowding.

3. Block of houses, on west side of Columbus avenue from Buckingham street to Dartmouth street.

Houses in fair condition; sanitary arrangements good; furnishings good and no overcrowding.

4. Block of houses bounded as follows: Appleton street, Chandler street, Clarendon street and Dartmouth street.

The houses, as above described, are, with the exception of about half a dozen, occupied by lodgers; and the several lessees make it a business. They were all examined in matter of drainage, plumbing, light, ventilation and general cleanliness, as well as for any overcrowding, and escape in case of fire. The conditions are generally found to be satisfactory. Except in one instance, no overcrowding was discovered. Plumbing and drainage was found to be satisfactory, and light and ventilation also; means of escape in case of fire was needed in many cases.

5. Block of houses, bounded by west side of Shawmut avenue from Dover street to Dedham street.

Houses in fair condition; sanitary arrangements fair; furnishings fair, and no overcrowding.

6. The block of houses on Concord street from Tremont to Shawmut avenue.

The houses, as above described, are, with the exception of about a half dozen, occupied by lodgers; and the several lessees make it a business. They were all examined in matter of drainage, plumbing, light, ventilation and general cleanliness, as well as for any overcrowding, and escape in case of fire. The conditions were generally found to be satisfactory. Except in one instance, no overcrowding was discovered; plumbing and drainage was found to be satisfactory, and light and ventilation also; means of escape in case of fire was needed in many cases.

7. Block of houses, bounded by Myrtle street, one side Garden street to Revere street.

These are old-fashioned brick buildings, formerly occupied by some of the best families of the West End. Found sanitary condition of the buildings, as to plumbing, ventilation and cleanliness, in very fair condition; provision for fire escape is fair; no overcrowding.

8. Block of houses, bounded by south side of Cambridge street from Hancock to Charles street.

In general these houses are in poor condition, sanitary arrangements in bad shape, furnishings dirty and rooms more or less overcrowded.

REPORT OF THE INSPECTORS OF PRISONS FOR SUFFOLK COUNTY.

CITY OF BOSTON,
IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, January 2, 1909.

In compliance with chapter 224 of the Revised Laws, the special committee of the Board of Aldermen appointed to inspect the prisons in the County of Suffolk, having attended to that duty, submit the following report:

On July 1 and December 31 the Suffolk School for Boys at Rainsford Island and the House of Correction at Deer Island were visited. On July 28 and December 29 the Parental School at West Roxbury and the Suffolk County Jail were visited.

The above-named institutions in this county, coming under the jurisdiction of the committee, were carefully inspected as to health, cleanliness and discipline, and the committee learned from the inmates that they were properly treated in every respect.

The committee make the following recommendations and ask the government of 1909 to provide the money necessary to carry out the work.

CHARLES-STREET JAIL.

The committee found the jail in its customary first-class condition, everything neat and well kept, and the one matter that calls for special attention is the kitchen. We found the ventilation very poor and the roof in bad repair, and recommend that the roof be raised from three feet to five feet and a system of ventilation installed to relieve the annoyance of steam from the large kettles used for cooking. If this is properly installed and the roof put in good condition, it will be well-directed economy, as it will save the interior finish from needing continual repairs.

The committee further recommends the retirement of the four oldest employees of the jail who are eligible and entitled to a pension under chapter 601 of the Acts of 1908, and who have served the county faithfully for so many years. By so doing, the committee believes it will materially assist in maintaining the high standard of efficiency which has prevailed in this institution in the past.

PARENTAL SCHOOL FOR BOYS, WEST ROXBURY

The committee recommends that immediate steps be taken to erect the new administration building, for which an appropriation was made on May 25, 1908, and for which plans have been drawn. This building is to contain an assembly hall, playroom and gymnasium and other necessary conveniences. We also recommend that a coal-pocket be immediately constructed adjacent to the heating plant, to properly house the coal which is now stored outdoors, exposed to the elements, and for which no shelter has been provided.

SUFFOLK SCHOOL FOR BOYS, RAINSFORD ISLAND.

The committee are convinced and recommend that immediate steps be taken to construct a bulkhead from the present wharf to a point of land now occupied by the old cottage, the bay thus made to be filled in, making additional land necessary for the proper conduct of the institution. This is in line with previous recommendations made by other committees.

We further recommend that the old wooden building or rookery connected with the present administration building (so-called) be abolished and a new administration building be erected, to contain dormitories, sewing hall, dining hall, playroom and gymnasium, with proper toilet facilities, the present building being in a state of dilapidation and unfit for use of any kind. The interior of all buildings should be renovated — that is, the ceilings whitened and walls and woodwork painted, as we understand this has not been done in something like nine years. We are pleased to find that the recommendation relative to the water supply has been adopted. On that score the island is prepared for any emergency. With these recommendations complied with, the institution will be in first-class condition for a number of years to come.

DEER ISLAND.

The committee is convinced that a new dining room, attached to the new prison, is a necessity, as at the present time the prisoners in this building are obliged to go over to the old prison, and that building being overcrowded, it necessitates a great waste of time and annoyance to transfer the prisoners from one prison to another for the purpose of feeding them. We therefore recommend that an addition be made to the rear or north end of the new prison, to be one story high, 60 feet wide and 150 feet long running westerly or at right angle with the present building. This would give seating capacity for 500 at one time and greatly facilitate the work of the officers. This building should be of modern brick construction.

The committee further recommends that the practice of sending demented persons and those suffering with delirium tremens (so-called observation cases) should be discontinued, as the care of such persons by the prisoners is not conducive to the best good of the institution, and there appears to be no good reason for sending them there, as they have not been convicted and in no way should be treated as prisoners, but, on the contrary, a ward should be provided for such cases at the City Hospital, where they will be readily accessible for those who wish to make "observation."

Annexed will be found the reports of the superintendents of the various institutions, giving in detail the information called for by law.

For the Committee,

FREDERICK J. BRAND,
Chairman.

CONCERNING

WATER REGULATIONS.

---

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Eight.

---

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND CHAPTER FORTY-TWO OF THE REVISED ORDINANCES OF 1898.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Chapter forty-two of the Revised Ordinances of 1898 is hereby amended by striking out section six of said chapter and substituting therefor the following:

SECT. 6. Said commissioner shall cause the following regulations to be printed on every bill for water, which shall constitute a part of the contract with every taker of water furnished by the city.

REGULATIONS.

1. Every water taker shall pay the rates for water furnished on his application within the time and at the place specified in the bills therefor; shall, at his own expense, keep the service pipes within his premises, including any area or vault beneath the sidewalk, in good order and repair and protected from frost; shall not allow the water to leak away or run to waste; shall not—unless he pays the rates established therefor, or takes water by meter rates—use water from a hose; shall not use water from a hose in any case, except during such days and hours and in such manner as the Water Commissioner may from time to time specify; shall not make any change in the pipes or water fixtures under the street or within his premises, unless such change is approved by the Water Commissioner; shall not conceal the purpose for which the water is used; shall allow the Water Commissioner and persons authorized by him to enter the premises supplied with water, examine the fixtures, and ascertain the quantity of water used, the manner of use, and whether there is unnecessary waste; and shall indemnify the city for all damages it may sustain or be required to pay in consequence of any injury resulting from any violation of these regulations by the water taker.

2. Every water taker must stop the use of water for any purpose when required so to do by the Water Commissioner, and must guard against collapse of a boiler and other injuries liable to result from want of water, as the water is liable to be shut off at any time without notice.

3. No water taker shall, except in accordance with a written permit from the Water Commissioner, or in case of fire in the neighborhood, allow water to be taken from his premises or use water for any purpose other than those for which he pays, or unscrew or open any hydrant attached to the water pipes of the city.

4. No water taker shall demand or be entitled to any abatement of his water rates for any year on account of the premises being vacated, unless they are vacated before the first day of January, and notice thereof is given to the Water Commissioner before the first day of February of such year; nor shall any water taker demand or be entitled to any abatement of rates, compensation, or damage on account of the shutting off, or the stopping of the use of water for any cause.

5. The Water Commissioner may, in his discretion, cause a meter to be placed on the premises of any water taker, and the water to be furnished by meter rates; may cause a meter to be removed and the water to be furnished by annual rates; may, without notice, cause the water to be shut off from any premises, or require the use of water for any purpose designated by him to be stopped; and may—if any water taker, whether supplied through an independent service pipe, or a service pipe used in common with another, violates any of these regulations—cause the water to be shut off from all premises supplied by such pipe, until satisfied that the regulations will be observed, and that all amounts due for water have been paid to the City Collector, together with such further sum, not exceeding ten dollars, as said Collector may require.

CLOSING PROCEEDINGS OF THE COMMON COUNCIL OF 1908.

IN COMMON COUNCIL, December 31, 1908.

Mr. WEBSTER of Ward 25 offered the following:

Resolved, That his fellow-members in the Common Council hereby express to Leo F. McCullough, Esq., their grateful appreciation of the manner in which he has discharged his duties as president of this body during the present year, instancing his promptness and fidelity in attending the meetings, his dignity in presiding, his ability in dealing with questions of order and procedure, and his constant fairness and courtesy in relation to the members irrespective of party affiliations.

He has the best wishes of his associates for his future success in life.

Mr. WEBSTER of Ward 25 said:

Mr. Clerk, it is with a great deal of pleasure that I arise at this time on the passage of the resolutions. The Council of 1908 is to be congratulated upon the manner in which its meetings have been conducted. We have been fortunate in having a man as a presiding officer who has been one of the fairest and most liberal in his latitude in the heat of debate, who has given all parties a fair deal, and one who has tried to show to the citizens of Boston that the Council is not a plaything, but a body composed of men who are ready to give the best there is in them for the benefit of the city and the citizens at large; and it is with much pleasure that I congratulate you, Mr. President, upon your success as the presiding officer of this body of 1908. To you, Mr.

Clerk of the Council, I know that when I say these words that I express the opinion of every man in the Council that Joseph O'Kane is a faithful servant and deserving of the commendation of the entire body for his able work. To you, Mr. City Messenger and Assistants, allow me to thank you for your many kind acts, not only to myself, but to all members of the body. To you, the Official Stenographers, we are deeply grateful for the many good things that you have done for us in correcting our grammatical errors and wording our remarks in proper language. To you, the City Hall Reporters, the members here are to be congratulated on the kindly manner in which you have handled each and every one of us in the public press, and may your journey through life be always as peaceful as it has been this year. To you, Mr. Clerk of Committees, and Assistants, allow me to thank you in behalf of my colleagues for your many kind deeds, for your wise words and suggestions and for the able manner in which you have performed your duties. And to one and all, I wish you a happy and prosperous New Year and success in all that you undertake. May the members that are going higher in legislative work never forget the experience they have had in the Common Council. To the members who are retiring from politics, let me remind them to never forget to take an active interest in the welfare and the building up of our beloved city. Again I wish you all a prosperous New Year. (Applause.)

Mr. BROWN of Ward 21 said:

Mr. Clerk, I cannot let this opportunity pass without expressing my opinion in regard to these resolutions which have been presented here this evening. I feel most grateful, being the only Republican member, a member of the minority party, who had the honor and privilege to vote for our presiding officer, that he has acquitted himself so nobly. He has my best wishes for his success in the future. I can only reiterate the statements that have been already presented in the resolutions. I wish to every one, to you, Mr. President, to the clerk, to all my brother members of the Council of 1908, a happy and prosperous New Year. To the various members who have already been elected to the legislative halls and to the upper chamber, I wish success, success to all, and may the Common Council still continue to live and show to the people of Boston that it is a body that should never be dissolved. (Applause.)

The resolution was then adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Mr. COLPOYS of Ward 15 said:

Mr. Clerk and gentlemen of the Council, all things have an ending, and this body will soon pass out of existence. I have the honor at this time to present to you as presiding officer of this body for 1908 a small token of our appreciation, which I trust you will wear. As you look at it, may you ever think of your fellow-members in this body. [Presenting a diamond ring to President McCullough.] (Applause.)

President McCULLOUGH said:

Fellow-members of the Common Council of 1908: In the same spirit in which this gift is offered it is accepted. In justice to the members of the body, I attach no other significance to it. The Common Council of 1908 has many reasons for self-congratulation. It has known what to do and when to do it. The enemies of popular representative government must look elsewhere for comfort than in the proceedings of this Common Council. We have been baited by editorial writers; we have been criticised by faddists; we have been ridiculed by funnyists; but, in spite of all, we have gone ahead in our own simple way and despatched the public business according to our own best judgment, unbiased by favor and uninfluenced by fear. This Common Council has done more; it has gone below the surface and discovered some things that required public attention. The reports of its special committees have created widespread interest. Individual members have pointed out in no uncertain manner the existence of real, not fancied defects in our system of government. Through us more distinctly may be heard the voice of the people, because from them, most directly, we hold our commission. In the long run, the judgment of the plain people is to be depended upon. It is to be regretted that some of the best members of this year's body are not to be with us next year. Their counsel and wisdom will be missed in trying times. It is to be hoped that their interest in the Common Council will not cease with their official life, but that they will continue to use for the public good the energies which they have here displayed. I again congratulate the body on its good work of the year. For your valued gift you have my sincerest thanks. (Applause.)

Mr. LILL of Ward 8 said:

Mr. Clerk and members of the Council, it is indeed with a deep sense of feeling that I arise at this time to pay my respects to our honored president, and to say good-bye to the Common Council of 1908. This is probably the last time I will ever have the honor of saying a few words in this chamber, as I am one who retires this year from public life. Strange as it may seem to some, it is nothing new to me, because three years ago I retired for a year, only to join you a year later. I leave you to-night, my friends, with the feeling that I will probably never return. It is hard for me at this time to rise and make a few remarks to the outgoing members of 1908. Mr. President, I wish to you, and I wish to the officers connected with the city government of the City of Boston, a most enjoyable and prosperous New Year. I sincerely trust that the year coming, 1909, will show to the citizens of Boston, through the Common Council doing as it has done in the past, that it is a necessity in carrying on the routine business of this city. I sincerely trust that whatever recommendations are made to the incoming General Court in relation to the Common Council, a year from now I will be one who will come up into this Council Chamber and listen to the closing proceedings—and not only one year from now, but ten years from now and many years from now. Mr. President and members, it is with a deep sense of feeling that I say good-bye, because, as I have stated before, I am one who retires. I wish you all a most enjoyable and prosperous New Year. (Applause.)

Mr. CRANE of Ward 24 said:

Mr. Clerk, I feel that it is but my duty to add my word of praise of our president and to express the feeling and respect I have for him. In doing so, I but voice the sentiment of every member of this body over which he has presided during the past year with such honesty, such dignity and such fairness. When I think of our youthful president I am reminded of the rooster Josh Billings spoke about when he said, "I like the rooster for two things: first, for the crow there is in him, and second, for the spurs he has on his feet to back the crow up." I want to thank you personally, Mr. President, for the many times you have honored me this year, and I want to thank the clerk and all the officers connected with the government for the very kind manner in which I have been treated. In thus speaking I know I express the sentiments of every member of this body. I am very proud to be a member of the Common Council of 1908; I am proud that I am coming back to be a member in 1909. I am sorry that many of our members leave us to-night not to return. To those I can only wish prosperity and happiness. To the members who are to come back I will simply say that I know we will have a good body in 1909, a body that will be an honor and a credit to our city. (Applause.)

Mr. BROWN of Ward 21 offered an order — That the closing proceedings of the Common Council, including the address of the President, be printed as a city document.

Passed.

Adjourned, sine die, at 7.55 p. m., on motion of Mr. GOODWIN of Ward 1.

CLOSING PROCEEDINGS
OF THE
BOARD OF ALDERMEN OF 1908.

---

Alderman BALDWIN offered the following:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Board are due and are hereby tendered to Louis M. Clark for the dignified, courteous, able and impartial manner in which he has presided over its deliberations during the past year.

Alderman BALDWIN said:

Mr. Clerk, I move that the resolution be adopted. I feel that it expresses the sentiment of every member of this Board toward our presiding officer. He has done his work faithfully and well; he has been fair to every member of the Board. As one who has served in this Board for five years, and who is about to sever his connection with the city government, I deem it fitting at this time to say a closing word to my associates. In some ways I regret that I have to leave this body. We have been associated here together in the city's work as honest, conscientious servants of the city. Therefore, in these closing minutes, I feel that I would be unfair to myself if I did not say to those members who have served with me that I appreciate the kindness and courtesy shown me by the chairman and my fellow members. Some besides myself are about to retire. Among them is the gentleman opposite, who comes from good old Jamaica — I mean plain Jamaica. (Laughter.) (Referring to Alderman Finigan.) There are times when he has been a little bit heated, and on such occasions he has put me in mind of his predecessor who served here a few years ago. You could hear him from one end of the building to the other, and from top to bottom. I am sorry that he is to leave us, because I have always found Fred Finigan painstaking, and representing his district in an able and conscientious manner. As I look around the Board I find my friend Prentiss Parker going to Beacon Hill. If he makes as good a reputation there as he has here, I believe he will be acting nobly by his constituency, because Prentiss Parker, of all the members in this Board, has done his work ably and well. Our friend Ellery Clark, from the South End, is also to retire. He has been a conscientious, painstaking member of the Board, and faithful to his constituency. My friend on the right, the tall sycamore from East Boston (Alderman Leary), is also to retire. He and I, together, as candidates two years for the Board of Aldermen, formed an especial friendship. He will be missed by the people of East Boston. I dare say that in the near future he will be compelled to be a candidate again. I sincerely trust that they will decide in the near future that he will be a candidate for the office of alderman again, because during his two years he has been able and has done good service for the people of East Boston, and I believe he will and should have an opportunity to do so again. To those of you, gentlemen, who are to sit in next year's Board of Aldermen, all I can say is this, — that I wish you a successful year and trust that you will get along as well together as we have got along in 1908. I wish to all my associates here a happy and prosperous New Year. I trust that your future will be at least as successful as your past. I am sorry to leave the associations I have formed during the year 1908. For our presiding officer I wish higher honors, and if he is so inclined in the future, politically, I believe that some day higher honors await him. You, Mr. Clerk, and your associates and assistants, I wish to thank for your courteous treatment of me during my five years in this Board. The City Messenger and our genial fat friend, John Dever, with their able corps of assistants, I wish to thank for the kind treatment they have accorded me during my years of service here; and last, but not least, I wish to thank our friends the newspaper men, because, if I do say it, the members of the Press have always been fair and kind to me. Mr. Clerk, in closing, I wish all a happy and prosperous New Year. (Applause.)

Alderman PARKER said:

Mr. Clerk, I wish to second the resolve that Alderman Baldwin has presented, and to thank the chairman for the kind, able, dignified way in which he has conducted affairs as presiding officer of this Board during the past year. I wish to thank the alderman from South Boston for his kind words, and to thank all the members of the Board for the way in which they have treated me. I was a new member; I had never been in politics before; and I assure you that it has been the happiest year of my life. I am sorry to leave you; I am sorry to leave City Hall; but I shall be very glad to carry away the good wishes, as I hope I do, of the individual members of the Board as I go up on Beacon Hill. I want to thank you, Mr. Clerk, and your assistants, the City Messenger's Department, the Clerk of Committees and the newspaper men. They have all treated me as a gentleman, and I hope in return I have treated them the same way. I wish you all a happy and prosperous New Year. (Applause.)

Alderman LEARY said:

Mr. Clerk, I rise to further second the resolution and to thank the presiding officer for the fair and kind manner in which he has treated me this year. I also wish to thank the members of the Board for kindnesses that they have shown to me at all times. When I have been interested in a matter pertaining to my district, they have always met me in a fair and square manner. I wish to thank the City Clerk's Department, the Clerk of Committees Department, the City Messenger's Department and the newspaper men for their kind treatment. Taking everything into consideration, I have spent two very pleasant years in this Board. I had the pleasure of serving with Alderman Baldwin as a member of the Common Council in 1894 and in 1895. I served on Beacon Hill with him in 1896, and then came back and served with him in the Board of Aldermen in 1907 and 1908 — and, indeed, it was a pleasure to be with him. His experiences during the years that I had retired from politics were of great benefit to me and the people whom I had the honor to represent in East Boston. I want to thank him and the other members of this Board for their many kindnesses. I hope and trust that Prentiss Parker, when he goes to the Senate, will bring about many things which he has tried to bring about as a member of the city government. I hope and trust that Alderman Brand will have a successful year next year, as well as the other members who are to come back, and that all the members will get along together as well as we have this year. I know that there is going to be a spirited contest for the chairmanship. I know that Alderman Curley thinks he has it cinched, and we, as Democrats, hope to see a Democrat elected chairman of the Board. But in the event of a chairman such as we have had this year being elected, there will be no tears shed. Gentlemen, I wish you all a happy and prosperous New Year and great success in the future. (Applause.)

Alderman FINIGAN said:

Mr. Clerk, if I did not at this time, in the closing hours of the 1908 city government, take my feet and make at least a little noise, I would not be living up to the reputation given me by Alderman Baldwin, who has been my colleague here the past two years. I rise to further second the resolution that has been presented, and to thank the chairman of this Board for the courtesies and kindness he has extended to me during the year. It is with a feeling possibly of lonesomeness that I leave the associations that I have had in this year's Board with my colleagues. I thought at first, when I considered giving up running for the Board of Aldermen for a third term, that I would be glad to depart and leave the business of City Hall behind me. But, gentlemen, I feel to-night that I would like to again respond to the roll call next Monday. Sometimes I feel sorry that I did not at least attempt to come back to this body for a third term. I wish to thank every man I have had any business with, since I have been a member of this Board, in every department, from the Mayor's office down to the janitors. If I have had any harsh words with any man, I want him to believe that I leave with no ill feeling toward any one in connection with the business I did or did not accomplish. I want to thank the City Clerk for his advice, and I wish to thank Mr. Leary and his assistants, my old friend John Dever and his assistants, the newspaper men, and everybody connected with the several departments of the city. I am very sorry that I am breaking my associations here with Alderman Baldwin, and that I am not leaving him as a member of the incoming Board. I remember as a boy being taken by the hand by my aunt the first time I ever went to the primary school, she pointing out to me with admiration Alderman Baldwin, then a member of the City Council. (Laughter.) I was in hopes that I should leave this body and still leave in it Alderman Baldwin, representing his South Boston constituency, and that possibly in the future he might serve with some of my children. (Laughter.) I am very glad that promotion has come to my colleague Prentiss Parker, that the people of his district have thought well enough of him to send him to the Senate. The Senate will receive in him next year an able, honorable and conscientious worker in the interests of the people of that section, with which I am very closely connected. I want to thank individually every member of this Board for the courtesy and attention they have given to business I have brought before them in the interest of the constituency I partly represented along with my colleague Alderman Cotton. I extend to every member of the Board my very best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year. The coming year will give to Alderman Cotton, who will have a large territory to cover and a great number of people to work for single-handed, a chance to do a great deal of hard work. To Alderman Curley I have a slight tribute to pay. I do not believe there is a man sitting in this Board to-day who is any better versed in municipal affairs, who is any better acquainted with the city business, or who has shown any more ability, than my colleague whom I have sat beside this year, James M. Curley. I thoroughly believe in him. I wish him success in his candidacy for the chairmanship of next year's Board, and I certainly sincerely hope with the Board seven to six that the Democrats will elect their chairman, even although conditions have been very good this year. Nevertheless the Democrats, being in the majority, should elect their chairman. To everybody with whom I have ever had any business in City Hall in the last two years I extend my wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year. (Applause.)

Alderman TIMILTY said:

Mr. Clerk, I feel it incumbent upon me at this time to say a few words upon the resolution in honor of our chairman. In my opinion, the man who has presided over the destinies of this Board during the year has been fair, courteous and impartial. He has treated every member equally fair, without favoritism to anybody. Being one of the members who had the pleasure of casting a vote for our presiding officer, I have no regrets to offer. When I did that I did my duty, and I have no regrets. I find that he has treated not only me but every member of this Board fairly, and no matter to what age I live, one vote that I will always look back upon with pride will be the vote I cast for Louis M. Clark as chairman of this Board. (Applause.) Coming into this Board one year ago, probably with a reputation as much tainted by the daily papers as that of any member who has come into it, I was looked upon in a different light than some of the members. But members who had been acquainted with me in the past, previous to my coming here, knew differently. Other members, elected last year for the first time, did not know me personally or I them. But we have gone on during the year, and I now believe that all my fellow members have a feeling of respect for me, and I know there is nothing but the highest respect on my part for them. As for the Democratic members who are about to leave this Board, I have been associated and acquainted with them for years in the past. Alderman Baldwin I have known and I have always supported him in his candidacy in the past, and, although there was a regular nominee in the district, I hoped this year that Alderman Baldwin would be one of the successful candidates to be elected. The only reason that Finigan is not to be a member of the incoming Board is this — he is a quitter. (Laughter.) He quit cold. If he had run for the nomination in Wards 22 and 23 he would have been nominated and re-elected to this Board for 1909. I don't mean anything derogatory when I call him a quitter, but he quit, nevertheless. (Laughter.) In regard to my friend Ellery Clark, there were times during the year when we did not agree on the floor in debates or in our votes. Still, he believed he was doing his duty as he saw it, in his way, and I believed I was doing mine as I saw it, in my way. As to my friend from East Boston, Alderman Leary, I have been friendly with him for years, and he knew when I came to the Board that I would stand by the principles of the Democratic party at all times. In regard to my friend Prentiss Parker, who is about to leave us, I have nothing but the kindest words. We represented the same district in the Board, although you would never know it. (Laughter.) He represented Wards 18 and 21, and I represented Wards 18 and 21. When I was going through Ward 18 with him one day, I said, "There is the Ward 18 playground, and it is in need of conveniences." "Why," he said, "I didn't know that that was in Ward 18, Jim." (Laughter.) I said to him, "Yes; you represent the district as well as I do." I want to say to Parker, as he goes to Beacon Hill, that I wish him Godspeed and good luck, and I hope and trust that he will make the name on Beacon Hill that he has made here, because I don't know of a member of this Board who does not look upon Prentiss Parker as one of the squarest men that ever came into the Board. In conclusion, Mr. Chairman, I wish to say to you that I wish you Godspeed and a happy and prosperous future. No matter what your undertaking may be, may you always show the same fair dealing that you have always shown as a member of this Board. Let me also thank the City Clerk and his assistants for their kind and courteous treatment of me at all times. I wish to say the same of City Messenger Leary and his assistants, Clerk of Committees Dever and his assistants. I have never gone into any of the offices around City Hall where I have not been treated with respect. The newspaper men, after I came to City Hall, no matter how much they nailed me before I came, treated me fairly. Since I have been a member of the Board of Aldermen I don't think one of them has knocked me as has been done in the past. I hope the same friendly feeling will exist all around next year that has existed during the past year. Mr. Clerk and fellow members, I thank you and wish you all a happy and prosperous New Year. (Applause.)

Alderman BRAND said:

Mr. Clerk, will you kindly permit me to say a few words? It occurs to me that this is the only opportunity I will have to publicly express myself. It will not be my privilege to attend the dinner later and to exchange compliments with various members of the Board, and I wish to take this opportunity to personally thank the retiring chairman for his uniform courtesy, justice and fairness, and for the great assistance he has been not only to myself but to the other members of the Board during this year. He has been ever ready to render aid and to offer advice, which has always been sound and what was needed. I wish to thank him at this time for his kindly interest and the courtesies I have received at his hands. It is a source of regret that the large section which we have jointly represented is to be deprived of his valuable services. I wish to also thank the dean of this Board, Alderman Baldwin, for his courtesy and for the many pleasant associations we have enjoyed together. I also wish to say a kind word of the alderman from East Boston, Alderman Leary, who has been ever ready to do what he thought was just and fair. I believe he has done his duty as he has seen it as well as any other member of this Board. For my friend Alderman Ellery Clark, who has sat at my immediate left during the year, I have the warmest feeling of friendship, and regret that he will not be with us during the coming year. This Board will thereby lose one of its most valuable members. It has also been a great pleasure to me to be associated during the year with Alderman Parker. While we have at various times differed on various subjects that have come before the body, we have retained our respect for each other. In leaving this Board, Alderman Parker, Alderman Finigan, Alderman Baldwin and Alderman Leary take with them my best wishes. I hope there are better times in store for them, and I wish for them and you, Mr. Chairman, a most successful career in any undertakings, as I wish for all the other members of the Board. I hope that you will all be as successful in your future efforts as you have been here in this Board; and I wish to you all a happy and prosperous New Year and future. (Applause.)

The resolution was passed by a unanimous rising vote.

Chairman CLARK said:

Fellow members of the Board, in the year now about to close, in accordance with a time-honored custom we, as members of this Board, having completed our business, are indulging in brief proceedings, the principal purpose of which is to say nice things about each other. And it is altogether proper and appropriate that we should indulge ourselves in this way. Only a little over a year ago most of us were entire strangers to each other. We began to get acquainted in a free-for-all contest at the polls; out of which we thirteen emerged the sole survivors; and we continued our acquaintance in a somewhat sharp struggle for the chairmanship of the Board, at the end of which, after you had exhausted your time and patience, you finally decided that you couldn't elect anybody except me. So you took that alternative. This Board has been called a negative Board. I have had some experience—I have been a member of three Boards of Aldermen—and I wish to say that this has been a Board from which any man could get justice. It is a Board which has devoted itself, without ostentation but very assiduously, to the transaction of the city's business in a businesslike way; a Board which has been opposed to all useless expenditures; a Board which has never refused any appropriation which the chief executive has asked for for a worthy purpose. If this constitutes a negative Board, then may the City of Boston have a few more of them. (Applause.) As I said, you elected me chairman, something which I foresaw from the start, on account of my great experience in the city government; and at that time I promised you gentlemen that I would perform the duties of the office faithfully and impartially. I have tried to do so. If I have made any mistakes, they were mistakes not of the heart but of the head. I want to thank you all for the easy path you have made for me. You have all helped me in every way possible. It has been an easy path, and we have gone along through the year very contentedly. I want to thank every official of this body and of the hall — the City Clerk, the City Messenger, the Clerk of Committees, the stenographer. They have all done all they could and they are deserving of our thanks. The newspaper men particularly have been very kind to me — although one of them, I believe, did say that I was lazy. (Laughter.) I have said that myself, gentlemen, but for a lazy man I do a good deal of work, and the reason why I did not appoint myself on more than eleven committees was not that I was afraid of the work, but because I thought some other gentlemen wanted it. With this I will close. To those of you who are coming back, to those of you who are said to be going higher — in my opinion you are not — to those of you who are neither going higher nor coming back, I wish all success and many prosperous New Years. Personally, it is a matter of deep regret to me that I am not coming back. It was not a matter of choice. I was not defeated, but my action was no more voluntary than if I had been defeated. I have enjoyed the year very much, and I regret that I am not coming back. I thank you all for the pleasure that you have given me and for the easy path that you have made for me. (Applause.)

Adjourned, sine die, on motion of Alderman PARKER.
